The Practical Teacher ,1886 The University and the Teachers Harry Judge, Michel Lemosse, Lynn Paine, Michael Sedlak, 1994-01-01 Here is a book for our times a study in three countries of the relationship between teacher education and the universities An Englishman looks at France a Frenchman at the USA and two Americans at England with the whole introduced and rounded off by Harry Judge who was also the interlocutor of France It is a notable addition to the Oxford Studies in Comparative Education John Tomlinson Director of the Institute of Education University of Warwick The Times Educational Supplement this is an outstanding book on several levels it is a worthwhile read for audiences well beyond those directly involved in teacher education It will be of particular interest to researchers and students of comparative education At a time when politicians seem bent on importing educational practices from other countries it reminds us that there are no easy lessons to be learnt through international comparisons and that we cannot suppose that what is identified as good practice in one country can easily be imported elsewhere without taking into account the cultural context within which it is successful Marilyn Osborn University of Bristol Comparative Education The book is beautifully and engagingly written enlivened by the authors efforts to make sense of that which is foreign to their personal educational experiences The narratives are rich in detail and insights about the forms of teacher education and the cultural logic of their suitability The chapters provoke thought experiments of a kind that are suggestive of outcomes for university based teacher education if reforms currently proposed in one nation prove to be similar to long standing practices in the others Frank B Murray University of Delaware Comparative Education Review The work recorded in this book was undertaken over four years with support from the Spencer Foundation of Chicago and under the direction of Harry Judge of the University of Oxford Michel Lemosse teaches at the University of Nice and Lynn Paine Michael Sedlak at Michigan State University Report of the Federal Security Agency United States.
