Drane,2010 A Liberal Catholic Bioethics opens a new dialogue between Christian reasoning and belief and secular positions in bioethics The well documented book covers in detail internal and external debates and positions of Roman Catholic theology and hierarchy issues of contraception and abortion palliative care and euthanasia caring humanely for the demented the use and abuse of modern technology in medicine The doctrine of Papal infallibility is identified as a main reason in hindering and suppressing a dialogue within the church with the faithful and with other religious and humanist positions. Were the Borgia Popes infallible was Pope Urban infallible when he condemned Galileo the author asks. He thus carries the debate far beyond specific bioethics issues towards a more humane medicine and culture.

A Good Dying Joan K. Harrold, Joanne Lynn, 1998. A Good Dying: Shaping Health Care for the Last Months of Life examines the critical issues of improving the quality of health care for end of life patients. You will gain valuable suggestions and ideas for creating and maintaining policies that pertain to individuals with various diagnoses, family structures and personal needs. A Good Dying provides methods and examples that will help managers of health care focus on the needs of patients and make their last days as comfortable as possible. Emphasizing the need for further education of health care professionals and the need for additional research, A Good Dying offers possible solutions to the many barriers of improving conditions for the dying. You will be able to directly apply the information in this book to fulfill and understand the needs of dying patients. Specific topics covered include portraying death and dying through art and using examples that show how death can be perceived as either noble or dehumanizing, emphasizing the benefits and conditions of life in hospice care, educating physicians on the topics of pain management and making patients aware of pain relief treatments, examining challenges to pain management, evaluating the adequacy and completeness of individual health care, measuring quality of life at the end of life by examining the physical and emotional pain of the patient, financial and emotional effects on the patient's family, provider continuity and advanced care planning. With contributions from physicians, patients, families, nurses, chaplains and insurers, the chapters in A Good Dying offer you several different perspectives on strategies and policies needed to enhance the quality of life for the dying. You will receive innovative ideas, program models and strategies for evaluating policies designed to help patients, enabling you to offer better patient care. Complete with current data and

Death and Dying John F. Szabo, 2009-11-02. While it can be traced to the 1700s, the term thanatology has gained traction in recent decades to refer to the study of death. Because of the breadth of the published material and the challenges of discovery in large bibliographic databases and catalogs, finding and identifying monographic material on death, dying, grief and bereavement can be extremely challenging. Although there have been several bibliographical resources published on thanatology, those titles were incomplete, limited in scope or leaned heavily toward one area of the field. In Death and Dying: An Annotated Bibliography of the Thanatological Literature, John F. Szabo provides more than 2,200 citations of monographs on the science and study of death and dying. Among the areas this volume addresses are the psychological, philosophical and attitudinal aspects, coping and dealing with the burdens of caregiving and working in the helping professions, instructional and educational topics for practitioners, primarily health care providers, cultural differences in bereavement rituals and grief, mourning and loss. In addition, notable titles on or relating to death and dying in popular culture, death themes in literature, methods of death or specific ethical policy or public issues are also included when they contribute important information to subject areas on which the book focuses. This book will be helpful to students researchers academics caregivers health care professionals psychologists social workers and anyone with an interest in death dying bereavement or the care of the terminally ill Hospice and Palliative Care Handbook T. M. Marrelli, 2005 This easy to use handbook is the only one of its kind to offer concise focused coverage of all hospice related conditions Key topics include professional standards and guidelines bereavement services considerations outcomes and goals quality control and tips for obtaining reimbursement Couverture Hospice Care on the International Scene Dame Cicely M. Saunders, 1997 This volume explores how hospice care has been taking root throughout much of the world and illustrates how people are finding ways to shape hospice care to the particular needs and resources of their countries and communities The book begins with a hospice mission statement by Dame Cicely Saunders and is followed by an overview of the international hospice movement by Dr Jan Stemsward of the World Health Organization Included are reports from pioneering hospice programs in the Middle East in tropical Africa and Croatia A Palliative Ethic of Care Joseph Fins, 2006 An innovative approach to caring for the terminally ill patient A palliative ethic of care provides deeper insights into why end of life care is so challenging and suggests how to improve the care of the dying Back cover Geriatric Palliative Care Rolfe Sean Morrison, Diane E. Meier, Carol Capello, 2003 Geriatric Palliative Care covers a broad spectrum of issues characterizing care near the end of life for older adults Beginning with the social and cultural context of old age and frailty this volume details specific aspects of palliative care relevant to particular disorders e g cancer strokes dementia etc as well as individual symptoms e g pain fatigue anxiety etc Communication between care givers and patients in a variety of settings is also discussed The theme of this book is that palliative care is the best approach to the care of chronically ill and frail elderly because of its focus on quality of life support for functional independence and the centrality of the patient s values and experiences in determining the goals of medical care Indeed Geriatric Palliative Care provides a comprehensive medical reference for all clinicians who care for older adults Palliative Care and End-of-Life Decisions G. Smith, 2013-10-22 Total pain management mandates that an ethic of adjusted care be implemented at the end stage of life which acknowledges ethically legally and clinically the use of terminal sedation as efficacious treatment Journal of the American Dietetic Association , 1995 The New England Journal of Medicine , 1994 New Titles in Bioethics , 1994 Brain Death and Disorders of Consciousness Calixto Machado, D. Alan Shewmon, 2004-03-31 Although some decades have passed there are still worldwide controversies about a concept of human death on neurological grounds There are also disagreements on the diagnostic criteria for brain death whether clinical alone or clinical plus ancillary tests Moreover some scholars who were strong defenders of a brain based standard of death are now favoring a circulatory respiratory standard The study of coma is extremely important because lesions of the brain are responsible for quality of life in patients or cause of death The main goal of Brain Death and Disorders of Consciousness is to provide a suitable scientific platform to discuss all topics related to human death and coma The Oxford Textbook of Palliative Social Work Terry Altilio, Shirley Otis-Green, John G.
