Report from Banaran T. B. Simatupang, 2009-11 The Indonesian Revolution 1945 1950 was the occasion by which Indonesia achieved political independence But the way in which this common twentieth century event came about in the general violence and exaltation of a true revolution made it far more important than that Like the Mexican Russian Chinese and Vietnamese revolutions the Indonesian Revolution has been the central event in its country's whole modern history For this reason any addition to the small stock of good English language writings on the Revolution like Report from Banaran is doubly welcome not only for what it can tell us about the event itself but also for what it can tell us about the Indonesian condition in modern times General Simatupang a Christian Batak with a Dutch education who helped lead a guerrilla war in the Javanese countryside a man who while still in his twenties was simultaneously one of the principal founders of the Indonesian army and one of the key figures in four years of diplomatic negotiations with the Dutch is well qualified by background and experience for his subject Two short periods stand out in the history of the Indonesian Revolution its first great explosion between August 1945 and mid 1946 and its climax which is the main subject of Report from Banaran between December 1948 and July 1949 The first set its stamp on the whole The sudden surrender of the Japanese on August 15 1945 created an immediate vacuum of power which neither the British acting for the victorious Allies nor the Dutch nor the Republic hastily proclaimed on August 17 could possibly fill Out of the void emerged the most powerful single force of the ensuing Revolution a mass movement of pemuda youths caught up in a fervent Indonesian nationalism and committed to an uncompromising perdjuangan struggle for freedom Absolute idealism led naturally to violence first against Japanese posts and British occupying forces then to a more general assault on social groups privileged under the old Netherlands Indies order Chinese Eurasians Christian Ambonese traditional elites and village and clan leaders through most of Sumatra and Java John R W Smail Interpreting Development John L. S. Girling, 2018-05-31 A study of rapid capitalist development in Thailand and the rivalries generated not only between the older bureaucracy and the newer rising entrepreneurial elite but also between urban and rural entrepreneurs Girling explores the classic problems associated with capitalism and democracy the dangers and exhilaration of nationalist sentiment the contradictions inherent in Thai development and the rise of the middle class His work is a fascinating reconsideration of problems that have faced many theorists Modern Dreams Beng-Lan Goh, 2018-05-31 A fascinating ethnographic study of the cultural politics of urban redevelopment in Kampung Serani one Penang community in the 1990s Through interviews newspaper reports and other records Goh considers changing notions of culture ethnic identity and urban space Fear and Sanctuary Hazel J. No Other Road to Take Nguyen Thi Dinh, 2018-05-31 Now in its seventh printing The memoir of a woman whose strength courage and intelligence had a profound impact on Vietnamese history Not simply a participant in the Viet Minh resistance against the French Mrs Nguyen Thi Dinh was also an active leader who organized the uprising in Ben Tre province against the Diem regime was appointed to the leadership committee of the National Liberation Front NLF and seved as Chairman of the South Vietnam Women's Liberation Association The oppressive policies of Diem and the problems of civil war and American involvement are described with powerful immediacy effectively illustrating the patriotic fervor and determination of those she fought with and helped lead Sumatran Sultanate and Colonial State Elsbeth Locher-Scholten, 2018-05-31 The first English translation of Professor Locher Scholten s 1994 Dutch text a study of the reaction to Dutch colonial expansion by the Sumatran sultanate of Jambi The Dutch text has been called an excellent teaching tool for work on the Netherlands imperial project Locher Scholten's extensive archive work in both Holland and Indonesia her explicit reference to secondary theoretical works and her useful lists mean that her analysis is transparent and Christianity in the Twentieth Century Brian Stanley, 2018 This book charts the transformation of one of the accessible world s great religions during an age marked by world wars genocide nationalism decolonization and powerful ideological currents many of them hostile to Christianity Amazon com Beyond Political Skin Pham Văn Thuy, 2019-01-01 This book explains the dynamics behind the economic transformation from the colonial era to the post independence period in Indonesia and Vietnam It analyses the different Vietnamese and Indonesian government approaches to the economic legacies of colonialism remaining in these countries after independence It also demonstrates that despite critical differences between the two nation states the Vietnamese and Indonesian leaderships were pursuing similar long term goals to create a truly independent national economy The book discusses the way in which the Indonesian government established complete economic control resembling the socialist transformation of North Vietnam in the 1950s and the various means by which the government of South Vietnam concentrated economic power in its own hands during the late 1950s and early 1960s It also explores how the Indonesian government was determined remove the economic legacy of Dutch colonialism by placing the entire economy under strongstate control and ownership in accordance with the spirit of Guided Democracy and Guided Economy in the late 1950s and the early 1960s This book is a point of reference for students researchers and academics interested in a comparative analysis of the economic systems implemented by the colonial and fascist powers in Indonesia and Vietnam Cultures at War Tony Day, Maya H. T. Liem, 2018-08-06 The Cold War in Southeast Asia was a many faceted conflict driven by regional historical imperatives as much as by the contest between global superpowers The essays in this book offer the most detailed and probing examination to date of the cultural dimension of the Cold War in Southeast Asia Southeast Asian culture from the late 1940s to the late 1970s was primarily shaped by a long standing search for national identity and independence which took place in the context of intense rivalry between the United States and the Soviet Union

with the Peoples Republic of China emerging in 1949 as another major international competitor for influence in Southeast Asia Based on fieldwork in Burma Indonesia Laos Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam the essays in this collection analyze the ways in which art literature film theater spectacle physical culture and the popular press represented Southeast Asian responses to the Cold War and commemorated that era's violent conflicts long after tensions had subsided Southeast Asian cultural reactions to the Cold War involved various solutions to the dilemmas of the newly independent nation states of the region What is common to all of the perspectives and works examined in this book is that they expressed social and aesthetic concerns that both antedated and outlasted the Cold War ones that never became simply aligned with the ideologies of either bloc Contributors Francisco B Benitez University of Washington Bo Bo Burmese writer SOAS University of London Michael Bodden University of Victoria Simon Creak Australian National University Gaik Cheng Khoo Australian National University Rachel Harrison SOAS University of London Barbara Hatley University of Tasmania Boitran Huynh Beattie Asiarta Foundation Jennifer Lindsay Australian National University Political Authority and Provincial Identity in Thailand Yoshinori Nishizaki, 2018-08-06 The powerful Thai politician Banharn Silpa archa has been disparaged as a corrupt operator who for years channeled excessive state funds into developing his own rural province This book reinterprets Banharm's career and offers a detailed portrait of the voters who support him Relying on extensive interviews the author shows how Banharm's constituents have developed a strong provincial identity based on their pride in his advancement of their province Suphanburi which many now call Banharm buri the place of Banharm Yoshinori Nishizaki s analysis challenges simplistic perceptions of rural Thai voters and raises vital questions about contemporary democracy in Thailand Yoshinori Nishizaki s close and thorough examination of the numerous public construction projects sponsored and even personally funded by Banharn clearly illustrates this politician s canny abilities and tireless meticulous oversight of his domain Banharn's constituents are aware that Suphanburi was long considered a backward province by other Thais notably the Bangkok elite Suphanburians hold the neglectful central government responsible for their province s former sorry condition and humiliating reputation Banharn has successfully identified himself as the antithesis to the inefficient central state by promoting rapid development and advertising his own role in that development through well publicized donations public ceremonies and visits to the sites of new buildings and highways Much standard literature on rural politics and society in Thailand and other democratizing countries in Southeast Asia would categorize this politician as a typical strongman the boss of a semiviolent patronage network that squeezes votes out of the people That standard analysis would utterly fail to recognize and understand the grassroots realities of Suphanburi that Nishizaki has captured in his study This compassionate well grounded analysis challenges simplistic perceptions of rural Thai voters and raises vital questions about contemporary democracy in Thailand Golddiggers, Farmers, and Traders in the "Chinese Districts" of West Kalimantan, Indonesia Mary Somers Heidhues, 2018-05-31 This study examines the changing role of the Chinese community of West

Kalimantan particularly its economic and social relationships Heidhues explores the history of the community from the early nineteenth century establishment of the kongsis to the Dayak Raids which uprooted the rural Chinese population in the 1960s History, Culture, and Region in Southeast Asian Perspectives O. W. Wolters, 2018-08-06 A new edition of this classic study of mandala Southeast Asia The revised book includes a substantial retrospective postscript examining contemporary scholarship that has contributed to the understanding of Southeast Asian history since 1982
