the Sphinx* Kimberly Lamm, 2025-06-12 A classic of feminist avant garde cinema Laura Mulvey and Peter Wollen's Riddles of the Sphinx 1977 follows the life of Louise Dinah Stabb a white middle class woman living in London in the 1970s as she confronts the complex politics of motherhood domestic labour and work With a kaleidoscopic array of cinematic techniques and poetic devices the film charts Louise's process as she questions her place within white patriarchal culture and finds her voice within the burgeoning Women's Liberation Movement Reading Riddles as an essay film Kimberly Lamm explores how it utilises voice sound and writing to challenge Hollywood's dominant images of women and to portray maternal care as a legitimate form of work rich in aesthetic pleasures and feminist possibilities She examines the voice of the Sphinx and connecting it to feminism's engagement with psychoanalysis argues that Mulvey and Wollen's film works through long histories of patriarchal viewing practices and creates conditions in which the full range of women's voices can be listened to heard and valued Lamm explores how Riddles the second collaboration between Mulvey and Wollen drew inspiration from Wollen's influential work on counter cinema and Mulvey's foundational writing on the male gaze Bang Crunch Neil Smith, 2009-02-24 An audacious New Face of Fiction debut nine riveting stories that announce a major writer in the tradition of Yann Martel and Barbara Gowdy Unexpected humour and tenderness intertwine with loneliness and hopefulness in this remarkable book from an already acclaimed writer In nine richly varied stories written in intense clear eyed prose the reader is led into an exploration of the human need for connection however tenuous or absurd and at whatever cost The stories operate with heartbreaking precision drawing us past the surface of characters lives and into the moments of decision and recognition that shape these people irrevocably Here are stories striking in the range of their shifting tone and the reach of their subjects We are introduced to a support group for people who suspect their benign nature has caused benign tumours to grow inside them The title story zeroes in on a girl with Fred Hoyle syndrome whose age expands and contracts like the universe A recently widowed woman talks to her husband s ashes which are entombed in a hollowed out curling stone A store detective s valiant act to save a pair of pink calfskin gloves is entwined with the unfortunate results of an unsuccessful space mission Rendering grief loneliness hope love and happiness with exquisite subtlety and intelligence Neil Smith proves himself an able chronicler of the human condition Bang Crunch constitutes a significant achievement by a powerful writer
