sacred geography of Buddhism in India Buddhist Goddesses of India Miranda Shaw, 2015-08-25 The Indian Buddhist world abounds with goddesses voluptuous tree spirits maternal nurturers potent healers and protectors transcendent wisdom figures cosmic mothers of liberation and dancing female Buddhas Despite their importance in Buddhist thought and practice these female deities have received relatively little scholarly attention and no comprehensive study of the female pantheon has been available Buddhist Goddesses of India is the essential and definitive guide to divinities that as Miranda Shaw writes operate from transcendent planes of bliss and awareness for as long as their presence may benefit living beings Beautifully illustrated the book chronicles the histories legends and artistic portrayals of nineteen goddesses and several related human figures and texts Drawing on a sweeping range of material from devotional poetry and meditation manuals to rituals and artistic images Shaw reveals the character powers and practice traditions of the female divinities Interpretations of intriguing traits such as body color stance hairstyle clothing jewelry hand gestures and handheld objects lend deep insight into the symbolism and roles of each goddess In addition to being a comprehensive reference this book traces the fascinating history of these goddesses as they evolved through the early Mahayana and Tantric movements in India and found a place in the pantheons of Tibet and Nepal Publisher's website Warriors of the Himalayas Donald J. Indian cult worship of his image entailed offerings of various kinds such as flower garlands or jewels being made to the Buddha. The image of the Bejewelled Buddha thus included various constituents while at the same time it was used as the locus where different religious or political concepts found a way of expression. The result was the creation of an image of multi-layered significance which found its way into all Asian cultures.

Interpreting Southeast Asia's Past Peter Sharrock, Ian C. Glover, Elizabeth A. Bacus, 2008-01-01. Interpreting Southeast Asia's Past. Monument, Image and Text features 31 papers read at the 10th International Conference of the European Association of Southeast Asian Archaeologists held in London in September 2004. The volume covers monumental arts, sculpture and painting, epigraphy and heritage management across mainland Southeast Asia and as far south as Indonesia. New research on monumental arts includes chapters on the Bayon of Angkor and the great brick temple sites of Champa. There is an article discussing the purpose of making and erecting sacred sculptures in the ancient world and accounts of research on the sacred art of Burma, Thailand and southern China, including the first study of the few surviving Saiva images in Burma of a spectacular find of bronze Mahayana Buddhas and of the sculpted bronzes of the Dian culture. New research on craft goods and crafting techniques deals with ancient Khmer materials including recently discovered ceramic kiln sites, the sandstone sources of major Khmer sculptures and the rare remaining traces of paint, plaster and stucco on stone and brick buildings. More widely distributed goods also receive attention including Southeast Asian glass beads and there are contributions on Southeast Asian heritage and conservation including research on Angkor as a living World Heritage site and discussion of a UNESCO project on the stone jars of the Plain of Jars in Laos that combines recording, safeguarding, bomb clearance and eco-tourism development.

Receptacle of the Sacred Jinah Kim, 2013-04-12. In considering medieval illustrated Buddhist manuscripts as sacred objects of cultic innovation, Receptacle of the Sacred explores how and why the South Asian Buddhist book cult has survived for almost two millennia to the present. A book manuscript should be understood as a form of sacred space, a temple in microcosm, not only imbued with divine presence but also layered with the memories of many generations of users. Jinah Kim argues that illustrating a manuscript with Buddhist imagery not only empowered it as a three-dimensional sacred object but also made it a suitable tool for the spiritual transformation of medieval Indian practitioners. Through a detailed historical analysis of Sanskrit colophons on patronage production and use of illustrated manuscripts she suggests that while Buddhism's disappearance in eastern India was a slow and gradual process the Buddhist book cult played an important role in sustaining its identity In addition by examining the physical traces left by later Nepalese users and the contemporary ritual use of the book in Nepal Kim shows how human agency was critical in perpetuating and intensifying the potency of a manuscript as a sacred object throughout time Newsletter, East Asian Art and Archaeology ,1998 108 Buddhist Statues in Tibet Ulrich von Schroeder,2008 Mostly unknown to the outside world the temples and storerooms of Tibet's monasteries shelter a great number of ancient Buddhist objects including rare examples originating from India Pakistan Afghanistan Nepal Burma and China Hitherto books on this subject are almost exclusively illustrated with objects scattered worldwide in private or public collections A notable exception is the monumental two volume chronicle Buddhist Sculptures in Tibet published in 2001 by this author This book is a condensed edition introducing the very finest examples that illustrate the development of art in the round in Tibet Effectively acting as a catalogue it also serves to ensure the objects remain where they are The free DVD contains 527 digital images that can be freely used It is the hope of the author that other scholars will take use of this opportunity to publish some of these wonderful Buddhist sculptures Arts of Asia ,2000

Buddhist Art, Sculpture and Paintings from India, Nepal and Tibet Anna Maria Rossi,1999 Buddhist Sculptures in Tibet: India & Nepal Ulrich von Schroeder,2001 The more 1100 sculptures in these two volumes represent the long overdue publication of the most important sculptures in custody of Tibetan monasteries The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2000 Beyond Lhasa Anna Maria Rossi,Fabio Rossi,2002
