The interdisciplinary research and development work carried out in the last ten years which is presented in this book aimed at replacing the conventional airport control tower by a new remote tower operation work environment RTO which should enhance work efficiency and safety and reduce costs This revolutionary human system interface allows for remote aerodrome traffic control without a physical tower building and enables the establishment of remote airport traffic control centers RTC of which each may serve several airports from a central location Key Demographics in Retirement Risk

Management Leroy O Stone,2012-06-14 Key Demographics in Retirement Risk Management argues that the weakening of public and employer sponsored social safety nets in several countries will permanently increase pre retirees risk anxiety and create pressure towards readjustment of their expectations about the quality of their lives in retirement The result will be to raise the priority of achieving effective comprehensive retirement related risk management This achievement requires an emphasis upon the cascading of linked risks and careful attention to the optimization of scarce resources used to manage those linked risks Professional financial and retirement planning advisors comprise a key source of help This book develops new knowledge concerning the factors that help to explain three important aspects of access to these professional advisors The results of this analysis are used to illustrate the process of identifying distinctive population segments key demographics on the basis of multiple population attributes treated simultaneously The illustration is further extended with an identification of distinctive population segments relative to performance on a composite indicator of the conduct of multiple retirement risk management activities The book also discusses implications of the pattern of gender differences in preparedness to address retirement s challenges highlighting subgroups of women in which inadequate preparedness is pronounced

Interdisciplinary approaches to literacy and development Kaushik Basu,Bryan Maddox,Anna Robinson-Pant,2013-09-13 The links between literacy and development have been the focus of research conducted by both economists and anthropologists Yet researchers from these different disciplines have tended to work in isolation from each other This book aims to create a space for new interdisciplinary debate in this area through bringing together contributions on literacy and development from the fields of education literacy studies anthropology and economics The book extends our theoretical understanding on the ways in which people s acquisition and uses of literacy influence changes in agency identity social practice and labour market and other outcomes The chapters discuss data from diverse cultural contexts South Africa Bangladesh India Nepal Peru and Mexico and from contrasting research paradigms The contributors examine the significance of culture and socio economic contexts in shaping such processes As such they contribute to our understanding of the role of literacy in processes of poverty reduction and its importance to people s capabilities and wellbeing The themes covered include the dynamics of literacy use in the production of agency the enactment negotiation and embodiment of new social identities including gendered and religious identities the impacts of literate identities and use on institutional relations and social participation the dynamics of literacy sharing and their externalities within and beyond households formal analysis of the impacts of proximate illiteracy on labour market and health outcomes across men and women and social contexts This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies
