Peter A. Gourevitch, James Shinn

Making A Market The Institutional Transformation Of An African Society:

Making a Market Jean Ensminger, 1996-09-13 In Making a Market Jean Ensminger analyzes the process by which the market was introduced into the economy of a group of Kenyan pastoralists Professor Ensminger employs new institutional economic analysis to assess the impact of new market institutions on production and distribution with particular emphasis on the effect of institutions on decreasing transaction costs over time This study traces the effects of increasing commercialization on the economic well being of individual households rich and poor alike over considerable time and analyzes the process by which institutions themselves are transformed as a market economy develops This case study points out the importance of understanding the roles of ideology and bargaining power in addition to pure economic forces such as changing relative prices in shaping market institutions

The New Institutionalism in Sociology Mary C. Brinton, Victor Nee, 2001 Institutions play a pivotal role in structuring economic and social transactions and understanding the foundations of social norms networks and beliefs within institutions is crucial to explaining much of what occurs in modern economies This volume integrates two increasingly visible streams of research economic sociology and new institutional economics to better understand how ties among individuals and groups facilitate economic activity alongside and against the formal rules that regulate economic processes via government and law Reviews This volume is a welcome addition to the expanding literature on institutional analysis Besides sociologists we are afforded the pleasure of contributions from anthropologists economists historians political scientists and scholars located in schools of law and education One of the pleasures of the volume is the wide range of topics times and locales addressed by the authors In all these diverse situations the application of institutional queries and approaches enhances our understanding and appreciation of the endlessly rich and diverse nature of social life Contemporary Society This admirable book makes a strong contribution to institutional theory has many excellent chapters and is a model for interdisciplinary exchange and cross fertilization It is dense with interesting ideas and points for debate and I heartily recommend it Sociological Research Online

Culture, Institutions, and Development Jean-Philippe Platteau, Robert Peccoud, 2010-10-04 This book brings together economists sociologists and anthropologists to discuss the role of culture in economic development addressing such issues as religion family ethnic ties entrepreneurship and poverty

Individuals, Institutions, and Markets C. Mantzavinos, Chrysostomos Mantzavinos, 2004-05-10 This book shows how the institutional framework of a society emerges and how markets within institutions work

Embedded Entrepreneurship: Market, Culture, and Micro-Business in Insular Southeast Asia, 2013-07-04 Embedded Entrepreneurship examines the importance of cultural meaning in the creation and utilization of economic value Based on case studies from Thailand Malaysia Singapore and Indonesia the authors demonstrate that micro scale entrepreneurship is intertwined with prevailing conceptions moralities and habituations in the entrepreneurs social milieu More specifically the volume argues that meaning making is integral to economic opportunity that economic actors market agency is shaped by cultural experiences that entrepreneurs prototypical individualism is socially contingent and that cultural meanings channel economic value among economic and social domains Addressing core questions about embedding the authors suggest theoretical convergences between economic anthropology and economic sociology Contributors include Signe Howell Ingrid Rudie Leif Manger Olaf H Smedal Frode F Jacobsen Kristianne Ervik Anette Fagertun Lars Gjelstad Nils Hidle Anja Lillegraven Solgunn Olsen and Ingvald Solvang

Political Power and Corporate Control Peter A. Gourevitch, James Shinn, 2010-06-20 Why does corporate governance front page news with the collapse of Enron WorldCom and Parmalat vary so dramatically around the world This book explains how politics shapes corporate governance how managers shareholders and workers jockey for advantage in setting the rules by which companies are run and for whom they are run It combines a clear theoretical model on this political interaction with statistical evidence from thirty nine countries of Europe Asia Africa and North and South America and detailed narratives of country cases This book differs sharply from most treatments by explaining differences in minority shareholder protections and ownership concentration among countries in terms of the interaction of economic preferences and political institutions It explores in particular the crucial role of pension plans and financial intermediaries in shaping political preferences for different rules of corporate governance The countries examined sort into two distinct groups diffuse shareholding by external investors who pick a board that monitors the managers and concentrated blockholding by insiders who monitor managers directly Examining the political coalitions that form among or across management owners and workers the authors find that certain coalitions encourage policies that promote diffuse shareholding while other coalitions yield blockholding oriented policies Political institutions influence the probability of one coalition defeating another

A Research Agenda for Economic Anthropology James G. Carrier, 2019 The financial crisis and its economic and political aftermath have changed the ways that many anthropologists approach economic activities institutions and systems This insightful volume presents important elements of this change With topics ranging from the relationship of states and markets to the ways that anthropologists political preferences and assumptions harm their work the book presents cogent statements by younger and established scholars of how existing research areas can be extended and the new avenues that ought to be pursued

Overtly Muslim,

Covertly Boni Mark R. J. Faulkner, 2006 This volume explores the way of life of the Boni community a hunter gatherer people that straddle the Kenya Somali border in East Africa The Boni converted to Islam some fifty years ago and the reasons for this both internal and external to the community are identified The book argues that former indigenous religious activity far from having died out is now being renegotiated so as to reflect an evolving Boni self identity in a multi ethnic setting as well as allowing the fermentation of resistance in the face of attempts at cultural hegemony advanced by outside forces Employing a phenomenological approach and a methodology based on participant observation this volume identifies three contrasting spheres of religious activity the bush the village centre and individual homesteads Breaking the Bank Joel S. Hellman, 1993 Annual Review of Sociology John Hagan, 2000-01-01 Intrahousehold Allocation and Farming in Southern Ghana Markus Paul Goldstein, 2000
