Book 1 Donald F. Lach,Edwin J. Van Kley,2022-07-01 This monumental series acclaimed as a masterpiece of comprehensive scholarship in the New York Times Book Review reveals the impact of Asia's high civilizations on the development of modern Western society The authors examine the ways in which European encounters with Asia have altered the development of Western society art literature science and religion since the Renaissance In Volume III A Century of Advance the authors have researched seventeenth century European writings on Asia in an effort to understand how contemporaries saw Asian societies and peoples The Making of a New Rural Order in South China: Volume 2, Merchants, Markets, and Lineages, 1500-1700 Joseph P. McDermott,2020-07-02 This volume is written for anyone who has wondered about the growth of Chinese businesses and their relation to Chinese family and government institutions Making full use of its partner volume's findings on village institutions in the southern prefecture of Huizhou this volume explains how late imperial China's key regional group of merchants emerged from this prefecture's village lineages It identifies the strategies they deployed to overcome the serious obstacles to their domination of major financial transactions and commodity markets throughout much of China from 1500 to 1700 At the same time it describes how the commercial success enjoyed by these house firms undermined their lineages social stability making them vulnerable to competition from popular religious cults back home In recounting how rural and urban institutions interacted through state and economic development McDermott provides a powerful new framework for understanding late imperial China's distinctive trajectory to social and economic transformation Making Money in Sixteenth-Century France Jotham Parsons,2015-02-06 Coinage and currency abstract and socially created units of value and power were basic to early modern society By controlling money the people sought to understand and control their complex expanding and interdependent world In Making Money in Sixteenth Century France Jotham Parsons investigates the creation and circulation of currency in France The royal Cour des Monnaies centralized monetary administration expanding its role in the emerging modern state during the sixteenth century and assuming new powers as an often controversial repository of theoretical and administrative expertise The Cour des Monnaies Parsons shows played an important role in developing the contemporary understanding of money as a source of both danger and opportunity at the center of economic and political life More practically the Monnaies led generally successful responses to the endemic inflation of the era and the monetary chaos of a period of civil war Its work investigating and prosecuting counterfeiters shone light into a picaresque world of those who used the abstract and artificial nature of money for their own ends Parsons's broad multidimensional portrait of money in early modern France also encompasses the literature of the age in which money's arbitrary and dangerous power was a major theme

The Pataphysician's Library Ben Fisher, 2000-01-01 The Pataphysician's Library is a study of aspects of 1890s French literature with specific reference to the traditions of Symbolism and Decadence Its main focus is Alfred Jarry who has proved perhaps surprisingly to be one of the more durable fin de siècle authors The originality of this study lies in its use of the enigmatic list of books termed the livres pairs which appears in Jarry's 1898 novel Gestes et Opinions du docteur Faustroll pataphysicien his best known prose work The greatest interest of the livres pairs lies in a group of works by Jarry's friends and contemporaries primarily Leon Bloy Georges Darien Gustave Kahn Catulle Mendès Josephin Madan Rachilde and Henri de Regnier Several of these authors feature as the lords of islands visited by the pataphysician Dr Faustroll in his curious voyage around Paris In conjunction with Jarry's own works the contemporary livres pairs serve to illustrate the vibrant and experimental atmosphere in which these authors worked

Film Sequels Carolyn Jess-Cooke, 2009-02-02 The film sequel has been maligned in popular culture as a vampirish corporative exercise in profit making and narrative regurgitation Drawing upon a wide range of examples from early cinema to the twenty first century this volume reveals the increasing popularity of and experimentation with film sequels as a central dynamic of Hollywood cinema Now creeping into world cinemas and independent film festivals the sequel is persistently employed as a vehicle for cross cultural dialogue and as a structure by which memories and cultural narratives can be circulated across geographical and historical locations This book aims to account for some of the major critical contexts within which sequelisation operates by exploring sequel production beyond box office figures Its account ranges from sequels in recent mainstream cinema art house and indie sequels non Hollywood sequels the effects of the domestic market on sequelisation and the impact of the video game industry on Hollywood

Make It New Kurt Heinzelman, 2003 What was Modernism and why does it still matter The term itself first gained currency in the 1930s describing a kind of art that already may have peaked some would say as early as 1922 Whatever its ups and downs in its own time as the novelist Julian Barnes claims in one of the twenty essays commissioned for the present volume Modernism never vanished It remains our immovable feast Modernism was international in scope it left its mark on all genres from literature and painting to opera dance and architecture it pushed the boundaries of what was artistically possible and aesthetically important and finally for all its destructive urges which it shared with the century itself it was also celebrative This book is a response to the exhibition of the same name that opened at the Harry Ransom Center in October 2003 It includes original essays by such noted writers and artists as Russell Banks Anita Desai David Douglas Duncan Elizabeth Hardwick and Penelope Lively which offer fresh perspectives on important Modernist figures including William Gaddis Ezra Pound William Faulkner E M Forster Paul Robeson Virginia Woolf Henry James Joseph Conrad Frank Lloyd Wright and Le Corbusier In addition essays by leading scholars in literature and art history focus on specific artifacts included in the exhibit As the Center's Director Thomas F Staley puts it in the Foreword Ours is an attempt not of definition but of discovery and rediscovery Book and exhibition permit both reader and viewer to experience the textures structures and resonances which made the first part of the twentieth century so innovative that its art is still virtually synonymous with what newness means

La main-d'oeuvre aux colonies, 1897 Exploring Science Through Science Fiction Barry B. Luukkala, 2013-10-23 The material in this book forms the basis of an interdisciplinary college level course which uses science fiction film as a vehicle for exploring science concepts Unlike traditional introductory level courses the science content is arranged according to major themes in science fiction with a deliberate progression from the highly objective and discipline specific e g Reference Frames Physics of Space Travel and Time Travel to the very multi disciplinary and thought provoking e g Human Teleportation Science and Society Over 100 references to science fiction films and television episodes are included spanning more than 100 years of cinematic history Some of these are conducive to calculations solutions included Belated Travelers Ali Behdad, 1994-08-12 In Belated Travelers Ali Behdad offers a compelling cultural critique of nineteenth century travel writing and its dynamic function in European colonialism Arriving too late to the Orient at a time when tourism and colonialism had already turned the exotic into the familiar late nineteenth century European travelers to the Middle East experienced a sense of belatedness of having missed the authentic experience once offered by a world that was already disappearing Behdad argues that this nostalgic desire for the other contains an implicit critique of Western superiority a split within European discourses of otherness Working from these insights and using analyses of power derived from Foucault Behdad engages in a new critique of orientalism No longer viewed as a coherent and unified phenomenon or a single developmental tradition it is seen as a complex and shifting field of practices that has relied upon its own ambivalence and moments of discontinuity to ensure and maintain its power as a discourse of dominance Through readings of Flaubert Nerval Kipling Blunt and Eberhardt and following the transition in travel literature from travelog to tourist guide Belated Travelers addresses the specific historical conditions of late nineteenth century orientalism implicated in the discourses of desire and power Behdad also views a broad range of issues in addition to nostalgia and tourism including transvestism and melancholia to specifically demonstrate the ways in which the heterogeneity of orientalism and the plurality of its practice is an enabling force in the production and transformation of colonial power An exceptional work that provides an important critique of issues at the forefront of critical practice today Belated Travelers will be eagerly awaited by specialists in nineteenth century British and French literatures and all concerned with colonial and post colonial discourse The Voyages of Jacques Cartier
