Making Of Mission Community:

The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa Robert W. Strayer, 1978-01-01 The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa calls into question a number of common assumptions about the encounter between European missionaries and African societies in colonial Kenya The book explores the origins of those communities associated with the Anglican Church Missionary Society from 1875 to 1935 examines the development within them of a mission culture probes their internal conflicts and tensions and details their relationship to the larger colonial society Professor Strayer argues that genuinely religious issues were important in the formation of these communities that missionaries were ambivalent in their attitudes toward modernizing change and the colonial state alike and that mission communities possessed substantial attractions even in the face of competition with independent churches Dr John Lonsdale of Trinity College Cambridge has said that It is a sensitive piece of revisionist history which breaks down the simple dichotomy of missions and Africans commonly found in earlier historiographies and even in the period of profound crisis over female circumcision in Kikuyuland In this Professor Strayer shows convincingly how mission communities could be preserved from destruction by principled divisions between Africans as much as between their white missionaries He has pursued themes rather than events and has therefore been able to make remarkably intimate observations of mission communities which were following their own internal patterns of growth yet within the context of a deepening situation of colonial dependence Church for Every Context Michael Moynagh, 2014-04-15 The first comprehensive textbook on the theology and methodology of Fresh Expressions one of the most important developments within the contemporary church Making Disciples in the Congregation Paul Versluis, 2018-09-07 Making a New World John Tutino, 2011-08 This history of the political economy social relations and cultural debates that animated Spanish North America from 1500 until 1800 illuminates its centuries of capitalist dynamism and subsequent collapse into revolution Accountability in Missions Jonathan J. Bonk, 2011-10-21 The Korean missions movement is perhaps the most significant story of the Church in the world over the past one hundred years Today Korea can boast of being the leading sender of missionaries per head of population Yet this movement has not been well integrated into the global mission community and also this community has at times failed to understand and learn from this tremendous work of God I am excited that God has brought together a unique body of people to wrestle with these issues This work will help bring about much needed collaboration and develop each other's strengths in an environment of mutual respect MALCOLM L MCGREGOR SIM International Director Accountability in Missions is a remarkable book exploring the full range of mission accountability issues strategic financial and relational from both Korean and North American perspectives This is global missiology made practical and accessible to all missions practitioners The many articles that penetrate the mysteries of Korean and North American interaction especially make it a must read book for all Koreans and North Americans working together STEVE STRAUSS Professor of Mission and Intercultural Studies Dallas Theological Seminary This collection of essays provides a biblical and theological basis for accountability and brings voices East and West demonstrating that accountability to God and to others is a universal principle not linked to one culture or context i e Western Further the collection is eminently practical addressing matters of governance decision making nance and personal integrity To all mission leaders I say read this book Actually read it but also nd colleagues with whom to discuss and digest these principles and review our mission practices GORDON T SMITH President reSource Leadership International A Generous Community C. Andrew Doyle, 2015-10 Bishop Andy Doyle understands that the church must change Every day he presides over parishes that are no longer vital that have not adapted to the VUCA volatile uncertain complex ambiguous world of today the world in which the church exists The church still looks to hierarchies when it needs to build networks and stays mired in arguments when it needs to find unity With the experience of a bishop and the insight of a deep learner Doyle points the way to the future with a vision for how we can learn serve and communicate with each other Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas and author of Unabashedly Episcopalian has the authority to call for change to hierarchical structures Practical ideas for connecting and building communities of service Building Community Capacity Robert J. Chaskin, This book focuses on a gap in current social work practice theory community change Much work in this area of macro practice particularly around grassroots community organizing has a somewhat dated feel to it is highly ideological in orientation or suffers from superficiality particularly in the area of theory and practical application Set against the context of an often narrowly constructed clinical emphasis on practice education coupled with social work s own current rendering of scientific management community practice often takes second or third billing in many professional curricula despite its deep roots in the overall field of social welfare Drawing on extensive case study data from three significant community building initiatives program data from numerous other community capacity building efforts key informant interviews and an excellent literature review Chaskin and his colleagues draw implications for crafting community change strategies as well as for creating and sustaining the organizational infrastructure necessary to support them The authors bring to bear the perspectives of a variety of professional disciplines including sociology urban planning psychology and social work Building Community Capacity takes a collaborative interdisciplinary approach to a subject of wide and current concern the role of neighborhood and community structures in the delivery of human services or as the authors put it a place where programs and problems can be fitted together Social work scholars and students of community practice seeking new conceptual frameworks and insights from research to inform novel community interventions will find much of value in Building Community Capacity

Missionary Encounters Robert A. Bickers, Rosemary Seton, 2013-11-05 Describes the exceptional wealth of missionary archives and the major contributions they can make not only to the study of the processes of Christian evangelism and Western imperialism but also their value in documenting and analysing the nature of Western encounters with indigenous societies The Making of Manhood Among Swedish Missionaries in China and Mongolia, C. 1890-c. 1914 Erik

Sidenvall,2009 Over the last thirty years issues of gender have been creatively explored within the field of mission studies Whereas the life and work of female missionaries have been fruitfully reflected upon male gender identity has often been understood as an unchanging category This book offers a pioneering account of the relationship between missionary work and masculinity By examining four individual men this study explores how self making occurred within foreign missions but also how conceptions of male gender informed missionary work Changes that occurred in the lives of these men are placed within the broader context of how issues of gender were renegotiated within the contemporary missionary movement

Making Jesus Attractive Gretchen Schoon Tanis,2016-02-02 Making Jesus Attractive is an in depth look at the history and theology of this parachurch organization dedicated to ministry with young people Beginning with the theological background of founder Jim Rayburn and moving through the decades of the ministry this book examines not only the articulated theological statements of the organization but the lived theology as well This book provides a thorough overview of the theological underpinnings of the Young Life organization and challenges their model of an attractive Christianity providing insights that could be utilized by all youth ministry workers

EFFECTIVE PERSONAL DISCIPLE-MAKING A Qualitative Study Yau Cheuk Ngok Daniel,2022-11-01 The approach of personal disciple making to help fulfil the Great Commission is presented at a conceptual level By examining the experiences of twelve individuals from three countries facilitative factors of disciple making were identified At a practice level each facilitative factor showed a distinct and vivid aspect of disciple making especially during personal moments and in real life living situations

Missional Church Lois Barrett,1998-02-09 What would a theology of the Church look like that took seriously the fact that North America is now itself a mission field This question lies at the foundation of this volume written by an ecumenical team of six noted missiologists Lois Barrett Inagrace T Dietterich Darrell L Guder George R Hunsberger Alan J Roxburgh and Craig Van Gelder The result of a three year research project undertaken by The Gospel and Our Culture Network this book issues a firm challenge for the church to recover its missional call right here in North America while also offering the tools to help it do so The authors examine North America s secular culture and the church s loss of dominance in today s society They then present a biblically based theology that takes seriously the church s missional vocation and draw out the consequences of this theology for the structure and institutions of the church

Building Community Capacity Avis Vidal,2017-09-29 This book focuses on a gap in current social work practice theory community change Much work in this area of macro practice particularly around grassroots community organizing has a somewhat dated feel to it is highly ideological in orientation or suffers from superficiality particularly in the area of theory and practical application Set against the context of an often narrowly constructed clinical emphasis on practice education coupled with social work s own current rendering of scientific management community practice often takes second or third billing in many professional curricula despite its deep roots in the overall field of social welfare Drawing on extensive case study data from three significant community building initiatives program data from numerous other community capacity building efforts key informant interviews and an excellent literature review Chaskin and his colleagues draw implications for crafting community change strategies as well as for creating and sustaining the organizational infrastructure necessary to support them The authors bring to bear the perspectives of a variety of professional disciplines including sociology urban planning psychology and social work Building Community Capacity takes a collaborative interdisciplinary approach to a subject of wide and current concern the role of neighborhood and community structures in the delivery of human services or as the authors put it a place where programs and problems can be fitted together Social work scholars and students of community practice seeking new conceptual frameworks and insights from research to inform novel community interventions will find much of value in Building Community Capacity
