when research results do not support the performance expectations of these undertakings Alternatively have M A scholars got it all wrong in the way that M A performance is measured Is the topic too complex enduring and multifaceted to study The Handbook argues that the field of M A is in need of a re rooting past research needs to be critically reviewed and fundamental assumptions revisited A key issue preventing efforts in the practice and study of M A from achieving dynamic syntheses has been the disciplinary gulf separating strategy finance and human relations schools The Handbook aims to bridge the hitherto separate disciplines engaged in the study and practice of M A to provide more meaningful results Toward this end the Handbook brings together a set of prominent and emerging scholars and practitioners engaged in the study of M A to provide thought provoking state of the art overviews of M A through four specific lenses strategic financial socio cultural and sectorial approaches By summarizing key findings in current research and exploring ways in which the differing approaches could and should be synthesized it aims to highlight the key issues facing M A practitioners and academics at the dawn of the third millennium predominantly with aspects of synergy management whereby the main focus is on synergy tracking as a support function of the synergy management. An emphasis is on the analysis of realization efforts that need to be done by the management during the PMI. To provide a solution and ease the aforementioned issues of synergy realization, a synergy tracking tool which serves as an effective support instrument during the PMI is developed.

Chinese Acquisitions in Developed Countries

Alessandra Vecchi, 2018-12-15

This book assesses Chinese acquisitions in developed countries, evaluates the drivers and opportunities, and above all explores the major operational challenges. It discusses topics such as cross-cultural issues, integration strategies, risk and resilience, the influence of emerging technologies, servitization impacts on reshoring, corporate social responsibility, branding strategies, knowledge management, and transfer of best practices. While emerging market multinational corporations (EMNCs) use of mergers and acquisitions as a strategic vehicle has received considerable attention, much less is known about their post-entry activities such as the implementation of post-acquisition and integration strategies. It can be expected that compared with their Western counterparts, EMNCs will face radically different challenges that may undermine the success of their products, brands, and marketing. Addressing these issues by means of a case study approach, this book is an ideal teaching resource for a variety of courses at both undergraduate and postgraduate level. It also appeals to academics, researchers, and practitioners with a keen interest in the manufacturing industry.
