Skoulding,2013-10-03 This book focuses on the role of the city and its processes of mutual transformation in poetry by experimental women writers Readings of their work are placed in the context of theories of urban space while new visions of the contemporary city and its global relationships are drawn from their innovations in language and form Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 Translating Montreal Sherry Simon,2006-10-10 The divided Montreal of the 1960s is very different from today s cosmopolitan hybrid city Taking the perspective of a walker moving through a fluid landscape of neighbourhoods and eras Sherry Simon experiences Montreal as a voyage across languages Sketching out literary passages from the then of the colonial city to the now of the cosmopolitan Montreal she traces a history of crossings and intersections around the familiar sites and symbols of the city the mythical boulevard Saint Laurent Mile End the Jacques Cartier Bridge Mont Royal Reading F. T. Prince Will May,2017-01-23 F T Prince 1912 2003 is now emerging as one of the most distinctive voices of twentieth century Anglophone poetry Born in South Africa he came to England in the 1930s where he studied alongside Stephen Spender and W H Auden First published by T S Eliot and celebrated in his day by poets as various as Siegfried Sassoon and John Ashbery his poems have long intrigued readers with their formal experiments Baroque influences and intellectual puzzles During his own lifetime he found fame with the war poem Soldiers Bathing 1942 and was known chiefly as a Milton scholar However this collection of specially commissioned essays sheds new light on his achievements and reveals his central place in the story of modern poetry Enthralled by the canon yet embraced by the avant garde he has influenced poets from Geoffrey Hill to Susan Howe a unique conduit between modernism and the Movement British regionalism and American cosmopolitanism Yet his poetry is not merely of interest for its continuing influence on wider tradition Subtle original and various F T Prince s poetry asks important questions about power responsibility and collective memory Eleven More American Women Poets in the 21st Century Claudia Rankine,Lisa Sewell,2012-01-01 A fine and selective anthology that s also a critical introduction to some of the most provocative and some of the most original poetry out there Stephanie Burt author of Don't Read Poetry A Book About How to Read Poems The American Poets in the 21st Century series continues with another anthology focused on female poets Like the earlier books this volume includes generous selections of poetry by some of the best poets of our time as well as illuminating poetics statements and incisive essays on their work This unique organization makes these books invaluable teaching tools Broadening the lens through which we look at contemporary poetry this new volume extends its geographical net by including Caribbean and Canadian poets Representing three generations of women writers among the insightful pieces included in this volume are essays by Karla Kelsey on Mary Jo Bang's modes of artifice Christine Hume on Carla Harryman's kinds of listening Dawn Lundy Martin on M. NourbeSe Phillip for whom English is a foreign anguish and Sina Queyras on Lisa Robertson's confoundingly beautiful surfaces In addition a companion website presents audio of each poet's work

Bodies in the Bog and the Archaeological Imagination Karin Sanders, 2009-12 Over the past few centuries northern Europe's bogs have yielded mummified men, women and children who were deposited there as sacrifices in the early Iron Age and kept startlingly intact by the chemical properties of peat In this remarkable account of their modern afterlives Karin Sanders argues that the discovery of bog bodies began an extraordinary and ongoing cultural journey Throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Sanders shows these eerily preserved remains came alive in art and science as material metaphors for such concepts as trauma, nostalgia and identity Sigmund Freud, Joseph Beuys, Seamus Heaney and other major figures have used them to reconsider fundamental philosophical, literary, aesthetic and scientific concerns Exploring this intellectual spectrum Sanders contends that the power of bog bodies to provoke such a wide range of responses is rooted in their unique status as both archaeological artifacts and human beings They emerge as corporeal time capsules that transcend archaeology to challenge our assumptions about what we can know about the past By restoring them to the roster of cultural phenomena that force us to confront our ethical and aesthetic boundaries Bodies in the Bog excavates anew the question of what it means to be human Language Acts Jason Camlot, Todd Swift, 2007 Language Acts brings together twenty provocative essays on the state of English language poetry in Quebec since 1976 Born and raised during this historically resonant period of Trudeauism, organized Quebecois nationalism, language legislation and profound demographic and cultural change Anglo-Quebec poetry has come of age in the 21st century as a literature with its own distinct arguments about itself and its own poetical acts in language Language Acts features essays on many important, even canonical figures such as Robert Allen, Anne Carson, Leonard Cohen, Louis Dudek, D. G. Jones, Irving Layton, Michael Harris, Erin Mour, David McGimpsey, Robyn Sarah and Peter Van Toorn and on a wide range of poetry activities including those of the Vehicule Poets and the Montreal Spoken Word scene This is the first critical collection of its kind to appear in over forty years and will set the terms used to discuss English language poetry in Quebec for years to come
