American Book Publishing Record ,1996 Networks and Systems Management Iosif G. Ghetie,2012-12-06 The deployment of communications networks and distributed computing systems requires the use of open standards based integrated management systems During the last five years the overall industry effort to develop enhance and integrate man agement systems has crystallized in the concept of management platforms Manage ment platforms are software systems which provide open multi vendor multiprotocol distributed management services They allow multiple management applications to run over core platform services which constitute the essential part of the management platform framework This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the features and technical characteristics of distributed management platforms by examining both qualitative and quantitative management capabilities required by each management platform service. The analysis covers the management platform run time environment, the operational aspects of using management platforms, the development environment which consists of software toolkits that are used to build management applications, the implementation environment which deals with testing interoperability aspects of using management platforms and of course the distributed applications services which platforms make available to management applications. Finally, the analysis covers the capabilities of several management applications, either generic or specific to devices or resources which run on top of management platforms.

Network Management Arpege Group, 2012-12-06

Try to imagine a railway network that did not check its rolling stock, track and signals whenever a failure occurred or only discovered the whereabouts of its locomotives and carriages during annual stock taking. Just imagine a railway that kept its trains waiting because there were no available locomotives. Similar thoughts could apply to any transport network of trucks, buses or taxis covering a wide geographical area. It is quite clear that the quality of service and safety and the cost efficiency of any network depend on the effective and timely management of network resources. The same is true of telecommunications networks. For a long time now telecommunications networks have been designed and built with remote monitoring and control devices. The very dimensions of networks and the need to intervene rapidly in the event of an incident made these devices imperative. On the other hand, the means of measuring quality of service did not appear till much later. Data transmission networks developed during the 1970s were often designed without any network management features. The technical traditions of the world of information technology had been forged on small systems with just a few dozen terminals spread over a small area. At the time, the extension of networks to cover wide geographical areas was not perceived as a change of dimension.

On the Way to Information Society Thomas Magedanz, 2000

This text addresses the issues in particular order and provides the results of ISN projects addressing those issues in a synthesized manner so that the reader can gain insights into the European projects' contribution towards the telecommunications software industry.
