Racial Battle Fatigue Jennifer L. Martin, 2015-01-26 Covering equity issues of sex race class age sexual orientation and disability this work presents creative nontraditional narratives about performing social justice work acknowledging the contributions of previous generations describing current challenges and appealing to readers to join the struggle toward a better world. Many would like to believe we are living as post-racial America long past the days of discrimination and marginalization of people simply due to their race and minority status. However, editor Jennifer L. Martin and a breadth of expert contributors show that prejudice and discrimination are still very much alive in the United States. Sharing personal stories of challenges, aggressions, retaliations, and finally racial battle fatigue, these activists, practitioners, and scholars explain how they have been attacked in subtle, shrouded, and sometimes outright ways simply for whom and what they advocate social justice. The stories within consist of discussions on the interconnections among equity issues: sex, race, class, age, sexual orientation, and disability. Furthermore, the work relates current events such as the banning of ethnic studies in Arizona and the shooting of Trayvon Martin to the battle for social justice. Other topics addressed include the ongoing problems of white supremacist beliefs, the challenges of teaching about the racist thinking that permeates our media and popular culture, and the harms of aggressions faced by minorities and those possessing multiple minority status. The unique narratives presented in this single volume work combine the various approaches to answering questions about not only the necessity of fighting for social justice but also the impact of the struggle on its champions.

The Embodiment of Leadership Lois Ruskai Melina, Gloria J. Burgess, Lena Lid-Falkman, Antonio Marturano, 2013-04-02

Covering leadership in the arts and humanities, this volume integrates critical theory with authentic leadership development, exploring the notion that leadership is both a discursive practice and a performative identity. Each year the International Leadership Association publishes a book that captures the best contemporary thinking about leadership from a diverse range of scholars, practitioners, and educators working in the field of leadership studies. In keeping with the mission of the ILA, the International Leadership Series, Building Leadership Bridges connects ways of researching, imagining, and experiencing leadership across cultures over time and around the world. Praise for The Embodiment of Leadership: Read this book to experience an artistic and more robust sense of leadership to rise to the challenge to gain alignment in mind, body, and spirit and to heed the call to heal the shadows we as leaders sometimes cast over our collective humanity. Read this book to become more whole.

Shann Ray Ferch, professor of leadership studies, Gonzaga University

For once, leadership experts consider the mind-body problem from the perspective of the latter: the body. Those with an interest in how the body is brought to bear on the exercise of leadership would do well to explore The Embodiment of Leadership.

Barbara Kellerman, James MacGregor Burns, Lecturer in Public Leadership, John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

The Embodiment of Leadership goes beyond the banal by using our body experiences as the point of departure in deciphering the leadership conundrum. Anyone interested in the study of leadership would do well to pay attention to this book.

Manfred F. R. Kets de Vries, Distinguished Clinical Professor of Leadership and Organizational Change, The Raoul de Vitry d'Avaucourt Chaired Professor of Leadership Development, INSEAD
