Pushing Upward Andrea Adler, 2012-09-17 A remarkable debut novel that will sweep you along on one woman's unforgettable spiritual quest. The year is 1974. While trying to eke out a living as an actress in L.A., a 21-year-old Sandra Billings discovers the I Ching, the ancient Chinese oracle, and uses it as her GPS to navigate a torrid love affair, battle with demons of the past, and search for meaning and truth. She places a fateful newspaper ad: Drama student in need of RM and BRD in exchange for housekeeping and encounters an assortment of outrageous and inappropriate individuals. But it is one unlikely stranger who will change the course of her life. Events ultimately build to a stunning climax where everything Sandra has gained is challenged by a poignant and surprising twist of fate.

Pushing Up Daisies Rosemary Harris, 2008-02-05 Meet Paula Holliday, a transplanted media exec who trades her stilettos for garden clogs when she makes the move from the big city to the suburbs to start a gardening business. Paula can handle deer slugs and the occasional human pest, but she's not prepared for the mummified body she finds while restoring the gardens at Halcyon, a local landmark. Casual snooping turns serious when a body is impaled on a garden tool and one of Paula's friends is arrested for the crime. Aided by the still-hot aging rocker who owns the neighborhood greasy spoon, a wise-cracking former colleague, and a sexy Mexican laborer with a few secrets of his own, Paula digs for the truth and unearths more dirty business the town has kept buried for years.

Beyond the Battleground Tom Bisio, 2016-05-17 Drawing on ideas from classical military strategy, the Yijing Book of Changes, and Chinese martial arts theory, Tom Bisio presents a fascinating exploration of how insights from these sources can be deployed to manage crisis situations in all aspects of our daily lives. Suggesting approaches for cultivating a strategic mindset that can be applied to one's relationships, work, and personal self-fulfillment, Beyond the Battleground offers methods of adapting to circumstances, conserving one's own resources, and avoiding or dissolving conflict that will aid any reader navigating the uncertainties of the changing world. Including the business person, military theorist, or martial artist, Bisio deftly interweaves his background in East Asian philosophy and history and his career in traditional Chinese medicine with his lifelong interest in the martial arts and military science. Bisio also presents examples of successful strategies from history's great commanders, such as Sunzi, Alexander the Great, Napoleon, and Mao Zedong.

Symmetry, Causality, Mind Michael Leyton, 1992 In this investigation of the psychological relationship between shape and time Leyton argues compellingly that shape is used by the mind to recover the past and as such it forms a basis for memory Michael Leyton's arguments about the nature of perception and cognition are fascinating exciting and sure to be controversial In this investigation of the psychological relationship between shape and time Leyton argues compellingly that shape is used by the mind to recover the past and as such it forms a basis for memory He elaborates a system of rules by which the conversion to memory takes place and presents a number of detailed case studies in perception linguistics art and even political subjugation that support these rules Leyton observes that the mind assigns to any shape a causal history explaining how the shape was formed We cannot help but perceive a deformed can as a dented can Moreover by reducing the study of shape to the study of symmetry he shows that symmetry is crucial to our everyday cognitive processing Symmetry is the means by which shape is converted into memory Perception is usually regarded as the recovery of the spatial layout of the environment Leyton however shows that perception is fundamentally the extraction of time from shape In doing so he is able to reduce the several areas of computational vision purely to symmetry principles Examining grammar in linguistics he argues that a sentence is psychologically represented as a piece of causal history an archeological relic disinterred by the listener so that the sentence reveals the past Again through a detailed analysis of art he shows that what the viewer takes to be the experience of a painting is in fact the extraction of time from the shapes of the painting Finally he highlights crucial aspects of the mind s attempt to recover time in examples of political subjugation     The Elemental Changes Michael Nylan,1994-01-27
