Intercultural Acting and Performer Training Zarrilli Phillip, T Sasitharan, Anuradha Kapur, 2019-05-24 Intercultural Acting and Performer Training is the first collection of essays from a diverse international group of authors and practitioners focusing on intercultural acting and voice practices worldwide This unique book invites performers and teachers of acting and performance to explore describe and interrogate the complexities of intercultural acting and actor performer training taking place in our twenty first century globalized world As global contexts become multi inter and intra cultural assumptions about what acting is and what actor performer training should be continue to be shaped by conventional modes models techniques and structures This book examines how our understanding of interculturalism changes when we shift our focus from the obvious and highly visible aspects of production to the micro level of training grounds studios and rehearsal rooms where new forms of hybrid performance are emerging Ideal for students scholars and practitioners Intercultural Acting and Performer Training offers a series of accessible and highly readable essays which reflect on acting and training processes through the lens offered by new forms of intercultural thought and practice

The Senses in Performance Sally Banes, Andre Lepecki, 2012-08-21 This ground breaking anthology is the first to be dedicated to assessing critically the role of the human sensorium in performance Senses in Performance presents a multifaceted approach to the methodological theoretical practical and historical challenges facing the scholar and the artist This volume examines the subtle actions of the human senses including taste touch smell and vision in all sorts of performances in Western and non Western traditions from ritual to theatre from dance to interactive architecture from performance art to historical opera With eighteen original essays brought together by an international ensemble of leading scholars and artists including Richard Schechner and Philip Zarrilli This covers a variety of disciplinary fields from critical studies to performance studies from food studies to ethnography from drama to architecture Written in an accessible way this volume will appeal to scholars and non scholars interested in Performance Theatre Studies and Cultural Studies

Performing Contemporary Indonesia, 2015-02-04 Performance events have long had a central place in Indonesian societies in displaying power affirming social relations celebrating shared values and at times conveying potent political critique How have they responded to the momentous social and political changes of recent years the dismantling of the centralised authoritarian Suharto regime and its replacement with a more open regionally focused political system the rapid expansion of global cultural influence

Investigations of diverse performance genres from different regions illustrate the way general socio political processes play out locally and how particular groups are responding Exploring performed understandings of identity and community such studies expand knowledge of a complex contested period of change in Indonesia and the workings of contemporary performance in giving it expression With contributions by Chua Beng Huat Alexandra Crosby Barbara Hatley Ariel Heryanto Brett Hough Rachmah Ida Reza Idria Edwin Jurriens Yoshi Fajar Kresno Murti Neneng Yanti K Lahpan Ugoran Prasad Wawan Sofwan Aline Scott Maxwell Fridus Steijlen Alia Swastika Denise Varney Indonesian Cinema Karl G. Heider, 1991-04-01 A film goer accustomed to the typical Hollywood movie plot would feel uneasy watching an Indonesian movie Contrary to expectations good guys do not win bad guys are not punished and individuals do not reach a new self awareness Instead by the end of the movie order is restored bad guys are converted and families are reunited Like American movies Indonesian films reflect the understandings and concerns of the culture and era in which they are made Thus Indonesian preoccupations with order and harmony national unity and modernization motivate the plots of many films Cinema has not traditionally been within the purview of anthropologists but Karl Heider demonstrates how Indonesian movies are profoundly Indonesian Produced in the national language by Indonesians from various regions the films are intended for audiences across the diverse archipelago Heider examines these films to identify pan Indonesian cultural patterns and to show how these cultural principles shape the movies and sometimes how the movies influence the culture This anthropological approach to Indonesian film opens up the medium of Asian cinema to a new group of scholars Indonesian Cinema should be of interest to social scientists Asianists film scholars and anyone concerned with the role of popular culture in developing countries Producing Indonesia Eric Tagliacozzo, 2014-02-26 The 26 scholars contributing to this volume have helped shape the field of Indonesian studies over the last three decades They represent a broad geographic background Indonesia the Netherlands the United Kingdom Australia the United States Canada and have studied in a wide array of key disciplines anthropology history linguistics and literature government and politics art history and ethnomusicology Together they reflect on the arc of our field the development of Indonesian studies over recent tumultuous decades They consider what has been achieved and what still needs to be accomplished as they interpret the groundbreaking works of their predecessors and colleagues This volume is the product of a lively conference sponsored by Cornell University with contributions revised following those interactions Not everyone sees the development of Indonesian studies in the same way Yet one senses and this collection confirms that disagreements among its practitioners have fostered a vibrant resilient intellectual community Contributors discuss photography and the creation of identity the power of ethnic pop music cross border influences on Indonesian contemporary art violence in the margins and the shadows inherent in Indonesian literature These various perspectives illuminate a diverse nation in flux and provide direction for its future exploration
