Profiles in Canadian Literature 7 Jeffrey M. Heath, 1991-09-01 Profiles in Canadian Literature is a wide ranging series of essays on Canadian authors Each profile acquaints the reader with the writer s work providing insight into themes techniques and special characteristics as well as a chronology of the author's life Finally there is a bibliography of primary works and criticism that suggests avenues for further study I know of no better introduction to these writers and the studies in guestion are full of basic information not readily obtainable elsewhere U of T Quarterly As For Sinclair Ross David Stouck, 2005-12-15 Sinclair Ross 1908 1996 best known for his canonical novel As for Me and My House 1941 and for such familiar short stories as The Lamp at Noon and The Painted Door is an elusive figure in Canadian literature A master at portraying the hardships and harsh beauty of the Prairies during the Great Depression Ross nevertheless received only modest attention from the public during his lifetime His reluctance to give readings or interviews further contributed to this faint public perception of the man In As for Sinclair Ross David Stouck tells the story of a lonely childhood in rural Saskatchewan of a long and unrewarding career in a bank and of many failed attempts to be published and to find an audience The book also tells the story of a man who fell in love with both men and women and who wrote from a position outside any single definition of gender and sexuality Stouck's biography draws on archival records and on insights gathered during an acquaintance late in Ross's life to illuminate this difficult author describing in detail the struggles of a gifted artist living in an inhospitable time and place Stouck argues that when Ross was writing about prairie farmers and small towns he wanted his readers to see the kind of society they were creating to feel uncomfortable with religion as coercive rhetoric prejudices based on race and ethnicity and rigid notions of gender As for Sinclair Ross is the story of a remarkable writer whose works continue to challenge us and are rightly considered classics of Canadian literature CanLit Across Media Jason Camlot, Katherine McLeod, 2019-12-12 The materials we turn to for the construction of our literary pasts the texts performances and discussions selected for storage and cataloguing in archives shape what we know and teach about literature today The ways in which archival materials have been structured into forms of preservation in turn impact their transference and transformation into new forms of presentation and representation Exploring the production of culture through and outside of the archives that preserve and produce CanLit as an entity CanLit Across Media asserts that CanLit arises from acts of archival critical and creative analysis Each chapter investigates challenges and provokes this premise by examining methods of unarchiving Canadian and Indigenous literary texts and events from the 1950s to the present Engaging with a remediated archive or unarchiving allows the authors and editors to uncover how the materials that document past acts of literary production are transformed into new forms and experiences in the present The chapters consider literature and literary events that occurred before live audiences or were broadcast and that are now recorded in print publications and documents drawings photographs flat disc records magnetic tape film videotape and digitized files

Showcasing the range of methods and theories researchers use to engage with these materials CanLit Across Media reanimates archives of cultural meaning and literary performance Contributors include Jordan Abel University of Alberta Andrea Beverley Mount Allison University Clint Burnham Simon Fraser University Jason Camlot Concordia University Joel Deshaye Memorial University of Newfoundland Deanna Fong Simon Fraser University Catherine Hobbs Library and Archives Canada Dean Irvine Agile Humanities Karl Jirgens University of Windsor Marcelle Kosman University of Alberta Jessi MacEachern Concordia University Katherine McLeod Concordia University Linda Morra Bishop s University Karis Shearer University of British Columbia Okanagan Felicity Tayler University of Ottawa and Darren Wershler Concordia University

Brian Bartlett in his introduction The Trees are Full of Rings discusses Domanski's engagement with nature and the transformative power of his metaphors his poetic bestiary amd mythical underpinnings and his kinship to poets like Stevens Whitman and Rumi Like these poets Domanski is drawn to borderlands between the physical and the spiritual the unconscious and the conscious His poetry finds a home for demons and angels spiders and wolves and for kitchens and back alleys forests and stars In language both fluent and hypnotic Domanski maintains an awareness of both the magnitudes and the minutiae that live beyond language In Flying Over Language an essay written specifically for this volume the poet explains that for him metaphor is one way to suggest the wealth of being that poetry can only point toward The Letters A.M. Klein, 2011-12-10 In the final volume of the Collected Works of A M Klein Elizabeth Popham completes the process of restoring the public voice of one of Canada's most respected authors A M Klein The Letters is the first compilation of a significant body of Klein's correspondence Using his communications to construct a compelling narrative Popham traces Klein's career from his apprenticeship to great critical success and his tragically premature silence. The content of Klein's letters gives new resonance to his works most notably to his critically acclaimed novel The Second Scroll 1951 and his Governor General Award winning The Rocking Chair and Other Poems 1948 In his exchanges with publishers and scholars Klein glosses his own writing and argues for the integrity of his poetic vision Samplings of his correspondence with Seagram s Distilleries clarify Klein s controversial role as ghost writer and PR consultant for Sam Bronfman A valuable resource for understanding Canadian literary modernism diasporic Judaism and the culture of Montreal A M Klein The Letters is a remarkable portrait of an important Canadian literary figure of the twentieth century Swedes in Canada Elinor Barr, 2015-07-27 Since 1776 more than 100 000 Swedish speaking immigrants have arrived in Canada from Sweden Finland Estonia Ukraine and the United States Elinor Barr s Swedes in Canada is the definitive history of that immigrant experience Active in almost every aspect of Canadian life Swedish individuals and companies are responsible for the CN Tower ships on the Great Lakes and log buildings in Riding Mountain National Park They have built railways and grain elevators all across the country as well as churches and old folks homes in their communities At the national level the introduction of cross country skiing and the success of ParticipACTION can be attributed to Swedes Despite this long list of accomplishments Swedish ethnic consciousness in Canada has often been very low Using extensive archival and demographic research Barr explores both the impressive Swedish legacy in Canada and the reasons for their invisibility as an immigrant community
