Rational Commitment And Social Justice Essays For Gregory Kavka:

Rational Commitment and Social Justice Jules L. Coleman, Christopher W. Morris, Gregory S. Kavka, 1998-11-13 Gregory S. Kavka 1947-94 was a prominent and influential figure in contemporary moral and political philosophy. The essays in this volume are concerned with fundamental issues of rational commitment and social justice to which Kavka devoted his work as a philosopher. The essays take Kavka's work as a point of departure and seek to advance the respective debates. The topics include the relationship between intention and moral action as part of which Kavka's famous toxin puzzle is a focus of discussion; the nature of deterrence; the rationality of morals; contractarian ethics; and the contemporary relevance of Hobbes' political thought. Incorporating important philosophical statements of problems and fresh contributions to the ongoing debate about rational intention, this volume will interest not just philosophers but also political scientists and economists.

Libertarian Accounts of Free Will Randolph Clarke, Randolph K. Clarke, 2005-12-08 This comprehensive study offers a balanced assessment of libertarian accounts of free will. Bringing to bear recent work on action causation and causal explanation, Clarke defends a type of event causal view from popular objections concerning rationality and diminished control. He subtly explores the extent to which event causal accounts can secure the things for the sake of which we value free will, judging their success here to be limited. Clarke then sets out a highly original agent causal account, one that integrates agent causation and nondeterministic event causation. He defends this view from a number of objections but argues that we should find the substance causation required by any agent causal account to be impossible. Clarke concludes that if a broad thesis of incompatibilism is correct, one on which both free will and moral responsibility are incompatible with determinism, then no libertarian account is entirely adequate.

Contractualism and the Foundations of Morality Nicholas Southwood, 2013-11-07 Contractualism has a venerable history and considerable appeal. Yet as an account of the foundations or ultimate grounds of morality, it has been thought by many philosophers to be subject to fatal objections. In this book, Nicholas Southwood argues otherwise. Beginning by detailing and diagnosing the shortcomings of the existing Hobbesian and Kantian models of contractualism, he then proposes a novel deliberative model based on an interpersonal deliberative conception of practical reason. He argues that the deliberative model of contractualism represents an attractive alternative to its more familiar rivals and that it has the resources to offer a more compelling account of morality's foundations, one that does justice to the twin demands of moral accuracy and explanatory adequacy.

The Cambridge History of Moral Philosophy Sacha Golob, Jens Timmermann, 2017-12-31 With fifty-four chapters charting the development of moral philosophy in the Western world, this volume examines the key thinkers and texts and their influence on the history of moral thought from the pre-Socratics to the present day. Topics including Epicureanism, humanism, Jewish and Arabic thought, perfectionism, pragmatism, idealism, and intuitionism are all explored, as are figures including Aristotle, Boethius, Spinoza, Hobbes, Hume, Kant, Hegel, Mill, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Sartre, and Rawls, as well as numerous key ideas and schools of thought. Chapters are written by leading experts in the field drawing on the latest research to offer rigorous analysis of the canonical figures and movements of this branch of philosophy The volume provides a comprehensive yet philosophically advanced resource for students and teachers alike as they approach and refine their understanding of the central issues in moral thought     Intergenerational Justice Lukas H. Meyer,2017-05-15 The essays selected for this volume show how relations between past current and future generations have become a major subject of philosophical research since the 1970s The relations between people alive today with people who may exist in the future and people now deceased differ from relations between contemporaries and in ways that raise new conceptual logical and substantive questions Among the questions addressed in this volume are what is the status of people now deceased and people who may exist in the future Can the latter be harmed by the actions of people alive today What duties of justice do we have towards people with whom we can neither interact nor co operate and can people who are indirect victims of past injustices legitimately claim compensation Answers to these questions are relevant in a number of policy areas most notably in issues regarding reparations for historical injustice and responding to climate change and its consequences     The Oxford Handbook of Animal Ethics Tom L. Beauchamp,R.G. Frey,2011-11-17 This text is designed to capture the nature of the questions as they stand today and to propose solutions to many of the major problems in the ethics of how we use animals     Addiction and Self-Control Neil Levy,2013-12 This book brings cutting edge neuroscience and psychology into dialogue with philosophical reflection to illuminate the loss of control experienced by addicts and thereby cast light on ordinary agency and the way in which it sometimes goes wrong     Amartya Sen Christopher W. Morris,2010 A volume of essays on aspects of Amartya Sen s hugely influential and multi disciplinary work     Strategic Justice Peter Vanderschraaf,2019 The author defends the ancient claim that justice is at bottom a body of social conventions Recent analytical and empirical concepts and results from the social sciences together with insights and arguments of past masters of moral and political philosophy are integrated into a new game theoretic conventionalist analysis of justice     Envisioning a Better Future for Nonhuman Animals Doris Schneeberger,2024-12-15 This book presents an ethical discussion of the possible future Universal Declarations of diverse specific nonhuman Animal Rights It contributes to a basis for a discussion about nonhuman animal rights concerning diverse aspects and quality of nonhuman animal life Doris Schneeberger deals with the interpretation and justification of animal rights and argues that because nonhuman animals are individuals whose lives are intrinsically and inherently valuable their goods and welfare ought to be protected She claims that these rights should be protected in possible morally advanced societies of the future     Child Versus Childmaker Melinda A. Roberts,1998 Child Versus Childmaker investigates a person affecting approach to ethical choice A form of consequentialism this approach is intended to capture the idea that agents ought both do the most good that they can and respect each person as distinct from each other Focusing on cases in which a conflict of interest arises between childmakers _parents infertility specialists embryologists and others engaged in the task of bringing new people into existence_ and the children they aim to create the author considers what we today owe those who will come into existence tomorrow Topics addressed include what the person affecting intuition is and how it differs from other forms of consequentialism the consistency of the person affecting intuition the non identity problem wrongful life and human cloning and other new reproductive technologies This book is intended for upper level undergraduates and graduate students in philosophy law and economics and for anyone interested in bioethics population policy normative theory children s rights constitutional privacy or family law

Philosophy and Its Public Role William Aiken,John Arthur,Bob Brecher,Richard Brook,David Carr,James Child,Geoffrey Cupit,Wendy Donner,Anthony Ellis,Daniel Farrell,Bart Gruzalski,John Haldane,Jonathan Jacobs,Rex Martin,Terence McLaughlin,Andrew Moore,Lisa Portmess,2011-10-04 This collection of essays brings together moral social and political philosophers from Britain Canada New Zealand and the United States who explore a wide range of issues under the three headings of Philosophy Society and Culture Ethics Economics and Justice and Rights Law and Punishment The topics discussed range from the public responsibility of intellectuals to the justice of military tribunals and from posthumous reproduction to the death penalty

Liberal Eugenics Nicholas Agar,2008-04-15 In this provocative book philosopher Nicholas Agar defends the idea that parents should be allowed to enhance their children s characteristics Gets away from fears of a Huxleyan Brave New World or a return to the fascist eugenics of the past Written from a philosophically and scientifically informed point of view Considers real contemporary cases of parents choosing what kind of child to have Uses moral images as a way to get readers with no background in philosophy to think about moral dilemmas Provides an authoritative account of the science involved making the book suitable for readers with no knowledge of genetics Creates a moral framework for assessing all new technologies

The Bloomsbury Companion to Hobbes S.A. Lloyd,2013-01-03 Thomas Hobbes 1588 1679 is widely held to be one of the most important thinkers in the history of philosophy His contributions to ethics political philosophy and psychology in particular were hugely innovative and he was regarded by his contemporaries as a major intellectual figure This comprehensive and accessible guide to Hobbes s life and work features 120 specially commissioned entries written by a team of leading experts in the field of seventeenth century philosophy and political thought covering every aspect of Hobbes s ideas The Companion presents a comprehensive overview of the major themes and topics in Hobbes s work in particular within the fields of language political philosophy moral philosophy and psychology religion law and science It concludes with a thoroughly comprehensive bibliography of primary and secondary sources This is an essential reference tool for anyone working in the fields of seventeenth century philosophy and political theory

High and Low Corruption Harry Adams,2023-12-19 High and Low Corruption Children Capabilities and Crime provides a systematic theory of corruption and analyzes high corruption in terms of political corruption and high end white collar crime and low corruption in terms of juvenile delinquency and street crime It shows how delinquents and street criminals often suffer from arrested development of their basic human capabilities In turn Harry Adams argues that their maldevelopment often emerges neither merely through their own fault when they were children nor through the fault of biological caregivers who were guilty of parental child neglect Beyond this Adams argues that the maldevelopment of at risk youth commonly emerges through a kind of political child neglect when corrupt public officials fail to provide adequate protection or back up support for their development In these ways the author shows how the former type of high corruption or suite crime can significantly contribute to the latter type of corruption and street crime By applying a set of moral constitutional and criminological principles from Derek Parfit Ronald Dworkin and Jeffrey Reiman respectively Adams also provides a systematic account of why and how both these types of corruption should be curbed

The Stag Hunt and the Evolution of Social Structure Brian Skyrms,2004 Brian Skyrms author of the successful Evolution of the Social Contract which won the prestigious Lakatos Award has written a sequel The book is a study of ideas of cooperation and collective action The point of departure is a prototypical story found in Rousseau s A Discourse on Inequality Rousseau contrasts the pay off of hunting hare where the risk of non cooperation is small but the reward is equally small against the pay off of hunting the stag where maximum cooperation is required but where the reward is so much greater Thus rational agents are pulled in one direction by considerations of risk and in another by considerations of mutual benefit Written with Skyrms s characteristic clarity and verve this intriguing book will be eagerly sought out by students and professionals in philosophy political science economics sociology and evolutionary biology

The Moral and Political Status of Children David Archard,Colin M. Macleod,2002-06-20 The book contains original essays by distinguished moral and political philosophers on the topic of the moral and political status of children It covers the themes of children s rights parental rights and duties the family and justice and civic education

Reasons for Action David Sobel,Steven Wall,2009-04-27 What are our reasons for acting Morality purports to give us these reasons and so do norms of prudence and the laws of society The theory of practical reason assesses the authority of these potentially competing claims and for this reason philosophers with a wide range of interests have converged on the topic of reasons for action This volume contains eleven essays on practical reason by leading and emerging philosophers Topics include the differences between practical and theoretical rationality practical conditionals and the wide scope ought the explanation of action the sources of reasons and the relationship between morality and reasons for action The volume will be essential reading for all philosophers interested in ethics and practical reason

Intergenerational Justice Janna Thompson,2009-05-01 In this timely study Thompson presents a theory of intergenerational justice that gives citizens duties to past and future generations showing why people can make legitimate demands of their successors and explaining what relationships between contemporary generations count as fair What connects these various responsibilities and entitlements is a view about individual interests that both argues that individuals are motivated by intergenerational concerns and that a polity that appropriately recognizes these interests must support and accept intergenerational responsibilities The book ranges over the philosophical ethical political and environmental questions raised by intergenerational issues how we can have duties to non-existent people whether we can wrong the dead or be held responsible for what they did what sacrifices we should make for our successors and whether we have duties to people of the remote future Encompassing the ethical problems created by demographic change the ethical issues of population control and intergenerational implications of new technologies for creating people this book will be of interest to those studying philosophy politics legal theory and environmental studies      Parental Obligations and Bioethics Bernard G.

Prusak, 2013-10-15 This book examines the question of what parental obligations procreators incur by bringing children into being Prusak argues that parents as procreators have obligations regarding future children that constrain the liberty of would-be parents to do as they wish Moreover these obligations go beyond simply respecting a child's rights He addresses in turn the ethics of adoption child support gamete donation surrogacy prenatal genetic enhancement and public responsibility for children
