Reading The Movies Twelve Great Films On Video And How To Teach Them:

Reading the Movies William V. Costanzo, 1992 Provides an overview of the film genre and illustrates how traditional textual analysis can be used to understand a film's themes Great Films and how to Teach Them William V. Costanzo, 2004 Costanzo combines a love of film viewing with the practical side of expressing film study to students including the art of transforming fiction into film history and business of the industry and film genres He also includes study guides for fourteen films including To Kill a Mockingbird Romeo and Juliet Mississippi Masala Schindler's List The Shawshank Redemption Run Lola Run The Matrix and Bend It Like Beckham

Resources in Education, 1998 The Pedagogy of Adaptation Dennis Cutchins, Laurence Raw, James M. Welsh, 2010-02-23 From All Quiet on the Western Front and Gone with the Wind to No Country for Old Men and Slumdog Millionaire many of the most memorable films have been adapted from other sources And while courses on film studies are taught throughout the world The Pedagogy of Adaptation makes a strong case for treating adaptation studies as a separate discipline What makes this book unique is its claim that adaptation is above all a creative process and not simply a slavish imitation or reproduction of an original This collection of essays focuses on numerous contexts to emphasize why adaptations matter to students of literature It is the first such volume devoted exclusively to teaching adaptations from a practical teacher centered angle Many of the essays show how adaptation as a discipline can be used to prompt reflection on cultural historical and political differences Written by specialists in a variety of fields ranging from film radio theater and even language studies the book adopts a pluralistic view of adaptation showing how its processes vary across different contexts and in different disciplines Defining new horizons for the teaching of adaptation studies these essays draw on such disparate sources as Frankenstein Moby Dick and South Park This volume not only provides a resource book of lesson plans but offers valuable pointers as to why teaching literature and film can help develop students skills and improve their literacy

Teaching Language Arts in Middle Schools Sharon Kingen, 2000-02-01 This text is designed specifically to meet the needs of preservice teachers who have had little experience working in middle grade classrooms Three ideas are central teaching language arts at the middle level is a complex activity that demands expertise in the use of a variety of strategies reading and writing are key processes of language arts study but so are speaking listening and viewing visually representing and teaching the processes of effective communication is crucial but middle school students must also begin to learn the content of the field literature language and media Teaching Language Arts in Middle Schools gives balanced attention to various teaching strategies processes and content demonstrating how all of these connect to improve students abilities to communicate In this text Research and theory are summarized and applied to practice A non prescriptive approach is integrated with practical information Debates in the field are acknowledged Additional reading and research are emphasized The author s voice and point of view are explicit Interpretation and Film Studies Phillip Novak, 2020-07-31 This book argues that the sustained interpretation of individual movies has contrary to conventional wisdom never been a major preoccupation of film studies that indeed the field is marked by a dearth of effective engaging and enlightening critical analyses of single films The book makes this case by surveying what has been written about four historically important and well known movies D W Griffith s Way Down East Marcel Carn s Port of Shadows Mike Nichols s The Graduate and Michelangelo Antonioni s Red Desert none of which has been the focus of sustained critical attention and by exhaustively examining the kinds of work published in four influential film journals Cinema Journal Screen Wide Angle and Movie The book goes on to argue for the value of the work of interpretation illustrating this value through extended analyses of Roman Polanski s Chinatown and Christopher Nolan s Memento both of which thematize interpretation Novak demonstrates the causes and consequences of reading poorly and the importance of reading well Dictionary of Media Literacy Ellen Eliceiri, Art Silverblatt, 1997-06-30 The Dictionary of Media Literacy is a reference work that contains key concepts terms organizations issues and individuals of note related to the field of media literacy Media literacy is an international movement with many countries developing media literacy programs This work significantly contributes to the study and understanding of this new and evolving field In that we all live in a world in which we are inundated by information conveyed through the channels of mass communication this dictionary will be a resource for scholars students and individuals seeking to understand information delivered in this context

Understanding the Film Jan Bone,1997 Literature Circles That Engage Middle and High School Students Marc Moeller,Victor Moeller,2016-09-16 Engage your students with Literature Circles This book will show you how to prepare your students to lead their own active focused discussion in small groups Give your students the tools to engage with books and with each other You can even incorporate film versions of classic texts into discussion Resources in Education ,1995

New Literacies in Action William Kist,2005 This book examines the work of pioneers teachers who have transformed their classrooms in an effort to broaden the literacy of their students describing some of the most innovative examples of teaching and learning Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993 English Journal ,1997 Teaching Visual Literacy Nancy Frey,Douglas Fisher,2008-01-09 This book puts into practice what we ve long known but often ignored one picture is indeed worth a thousand words The chapters offer a practical look at how images in all their many forms can be used to motivate reluctant readers Donna E Alvermann Distinguished Research ProfessorUniversity of Georgia Just as vision entails more than seeing being visually literate means that students can interpret and reflect upon images as well as words These strategies will help your students develop the literacy they need for this brave new century Carol Jago Director California Reading and Literature ProjectUniversity of California Los Angeles Spark students interest in reading and help them become critical consumers of visual information Today s students live in an increasingly visual world where they are engaged not only by words but also by images This collection of innovative articles shows classroom teachers and literacy specialists how to use students interest in picture books comics graphic novels film anime and other visual media to motivate and engage readers in Grades K 12 Teaching Visual Literacy offers background information research practical ideas and sample lessons to help educators Capture the attention of learners and boost their critical thinking skills Support and strengthen multiple competencies in literacy Help students comprehend and assess visual information Reach students with disabilities and extend their understanding Visual literacy is an integral part of literacy development and this much needed classroom companion helps teachers engage students as critical readers and prepare them for living in the twenty first century
