Read and Respond Janet R. Swinton, William J.

Agopsowicz, 2003-11 The Fourth Edition of this popular combination text anthology integrates reading and writing skills The approach of Read and Respond is unique students are assessed for comprehension through summary writing rather than objective testing After summarizing an article students write a personal response Because the summary and personal response are written in the students own words the instructor gains valuable insight into their vocabulary and writing ability As a result students develop proficiency in reading writing and critical thinking The new edition retains the best features of the previous editions It integrates reading and writing offers step by step progression includes models exercises and activities in each chapter and provides additional readings for practice New features include the following A new improved two color format plus overview maps of each chapter A new introductory chapter discussing the reading process and main types of reading tasks A new chapter offering a wide variety of methods to improve both general and specialized vocabulary The addition of content area readings and or excerpts from a college textbook in every chapter New articles for student reading practice in a new chapter entitled Additional Readings An increased emphasis and clarification of student goals outcomes and benefits The addition of self check review questions at the end of each chapter to help students review key concepts and consider personal applications of those concepts The Fourth Edition is complemented by a revised Instructor's Manual which provides an answer key for all activities proposed syllabi for a quarter and for a semester as well as teaching suggestions and strategies

The Write to Read Lesley Roessing, 2009-07-30 In this practical handbook Lesley J Roessing presents a unique step by step model of response journaling which demonstrates how teachers can plan and implement response journaling using concepts that can be applied to all content areas The Write to Read Reading Journals That Increase Comprehension teaches students in Grades 5-12 how to respond to reading material in a variety of ways encourages students to read self selected books and helps them develop skills for deeper and more meaningful responses The book contains a combination of theory practice practical advice anecdotes and teacher models along with samples of student work Readers will also find an array of tools for adapting the program to learners needs and interests and for evaluating student progress

Reading-to-Write Linda Flower, Victoria Stein, John Ackerman, Margaret J. Kantz, Kathleen McCormick, Wayne C.

Peck, 1990-09-20 The Social and Cognitive Studies in Writing and Literacy Series is devoted to books that bridge research theory and practice exploring social and cognitive processes in writing and expanding our knowledge of literacy as an active constructive process as students move from high school to college This descriptive study of reading to write examines a critical point in every college student's academic performance when he or she is faced with the task of reading a source integrating personal ideas and creating an individual text with a self defined purpose Offering an unusually comprehensive view of this process the authors chart a group of freshmen as they study and write in their dormitories recording their think aloud strategies for reading writing and revising their interpretation of the task and their broader social cultural and contextual understanding of college writing Flower Stein and colleagues convincingly conclude that the legacy of schooling in general makes the transition to college difficult and more important that the assumptions students hold and the strategies they use in undertaking this task play a significant role in their academic performance Embracing a broad range of perspectives from rhetoric composition literacy research literary and cultural theory and cognitive psychology this rigorous analysis treats reading to write as both a cognitive and social process It will interest researchers and theoreticians in rhetoric and writing teachers working with students in transition from high school to college and educators involved in the links between cognition and the social process
