<http://wac.colostate.edu> Charles Lowe is Assistant Professor of Writing at Grand Valley State University where he teaches composition professional writing and Web design Pavel Zemliansky is Associate Professor in the School of Writing Rhetoric and Technical Communication at James Madison University     Writing Analytically David Rosenwasser, Jill Stephen, 2003 A rhetoric that treats writing as thinking WRITING ANALYTICALLY offers a sequence of specific prompts that teach students across the curriculum how to use writing to arrive at ideas     Fields of Reading Nancy R. Comley, David Hamilton, Carl H. Klaus, Robert Scholes, Nancy Sommers, 2001-01-01 91 diverse engaging readings Encompassing a wide range of genres and of classic and contemporary authors many of international stature the readings provide effective examples of many of the kinds of writing students will need to do for their college work Half the readings are new to this edition and for the first time 16 poems are included showing students that other kinds of writing can achieve the same diverse rhetorical purposes that essays do A highly versatile organization Three separate organizing systems provide flexibility for instructors using different approaches The selections are arranged under four major rhetorical purposes Reflecting Reporting Explaining and Arguing and the three major divisions of the curriculum arts and humanities social sciences and public affairs and natural sciences and technologies For instructors who prefer a more thematic approach an alternative table of contents organizes the readings under 16 engaging themes A detailed introduction to the reading and writing process The authors explain and illustrate the relationship between reading and writing by analyzing a commissioned essay by Patricia Hampl in which she reflects on her own response to a particular writing assignment a book review that is also included The introduction demonstrates for students that even accomplished writers struggle with some of the same challenges they face     Writing Spaces: Readings on Writing, Volume 1 Pavel Zemliansky, 2010     The Practical Guide to Writing Sylvan Barnet, Marcia Stubbs, Pat Bellanca, 2000 The esteemed authors of this classic 3 in 1 rhetoric include samples of their own writing student writing and the writing of some 50 essayists to help readers form and develop ideas and communicate those ideas clearly on paper Stressing writing as a process involving both reading and critical thinking the text helps students to create skillful essays in exposition analysis and persuasion Professional essays and student pieces alike stimulate readers and provide them with models of a variety of writing samples     College Writing Skills with Readings John Langan, Sharon Winstanley, 2003 College Writing Skills with Readings Third Canadian Edition will help students master the traditional five paragraph essay and variations on this essay structure It is a very practical book with a number of special features to aid instructors and their students Four principles are presented as keys to effective writing unity support coherence and effective sentence skills Activities and assignments are numerous and varied nearly two hundred activities and tests are included The emphasis on logic and the pursuit of ideas and explanations in a sequential manner starts in the first chapter Students are introduced to the two principles that are the bases of clear thinking and writing making a point and providing support to back up that point Each section of the book deals with a distinct aspect of writing Instructors can therefore turn

quickly and easily to the skills they want to present

Reading and Writing in the Academic Community Mary Lynch Kennedy, Hadley M. Smith, 2006 Reading and Writing in the Academic Community is a comprehensive rhetoric with engaging timely readings The authors wrote their book to include more coverage of the writing process to better meet the needs of students than other books in this market The text presents the major types of academic writing students encounter as undergraduates while giving full consideration to the writing process and the basics of rhetoric This text makes few assumptions about students prior academic experience and provides explicit step by step instruction in paraphrasing summarizing quoting writing essays in response to readings composing synthesis essays and using sources to compose comparison and contrast essays argument essays analysis essays evaluation essays and research papers

Creative Writing Linda Anderson, 2006 Presenting an opportunity to benefit from the advice and experience of a team of published authors who have also taught successful writing courses at a wide range of institutions this text helps new writers to develop their talents as well as their abilities to evaluate and polish their work to professional standards
