Classic Readings in Urban Planning Jay Stein, 2018-02-06 This new edition of the best anthology in planning includes 33 selections by many of the profession's most respected thinkers and eloquent writers Returning editor Jay M Stein chose the articles about half of them new to this edition based on suggestions from colleagues and students who used the first edition recommendations from planning scholars awards for writing in the field of planning and his own review of recent planning literature Classic Readings in Urban Planning offers an unparalleled depth of coverage and range of perspectives on traditional aspects of planning as well as on important contemporary issues This is an exceptional main or supplementary textbook for advanced undergraduate or beginning graduate level students in urban and regional planning As a general overview of the field of urban planning it is also an excellent choice for planning commissioners practicing planners and professionals in related fields such as environmental and land use law architecture and government An abstract introduces each reading and each section includes suggestions for additional readings suitable for more extensive study Many of these are also classics that could not be included as a main selection

A Reflexive Reading of Urban Space Mona A. Abdelwahab, 2018-02-13 Providing a critique of the concepts attached to the representation of urban space this ground breaking book formulates a new theory of space which understands the dynamic interrelations between physical and social spaces while tracing the wider urban context It offers a new tool to approach the reading of these interrelations through reflexive reading strategies that identify singular reading fragments of the different spaces through multiple reader time space relations The strategies proposed in the volume seek to develop an integrative reading of urban space through recognition of the singular influenced by discourse institution etc and temporal influenced by reading perspective in space and time thereby providing a relational perspective that goes beyond the paradox of place in between social and physical space identifying each in terms of relationships oscillating between the conceptual the physical and social content and the context In conclusion the book suggests that space place can be read through sequential fragments of people place context mind and author reader Operating at different scales between conceptual space and reality the sequential reading helps the recognition of multiplicity and the dynamics of place as a transformational process without hierarchy or classification

Reading in Kinship in Urban Society C. C. Harris, 2013-10-22 Reading in Kinship in Urban Society is a collection of articles that deal with family and kinship in urban settlements. It provides comparative ethnographic data and introduces studies and approaches found outside British social inquiry. Organized into four parts, this book first introduces kinship systems and the recognition of relationships in various communities. It then identifies the functions of kinship systems and pays particular attention to inheritance of property. After discussing patterns of mate selection and marital relationships, it turns to the effects of urbanization on family life. This book ends with a discussion about the family life of elderly people. Anthropologists and sociologists studying the relation of kinship to societies will find this book invaluable.      Urban

Geography David Kaplan, Steven Holloway, 2024-07-18 Provides a comprehensive and up to date treatment of Urban Geography. The leading undergraduate textbook on the subject, Urban Geography covers the origins, historical development, and contemporary challenges of cities and metropolitan areas around the world. Incorporating the most recent research in urban studies, authors David H. Kaplan and Steven R. Holloway provide an overview of the dynamic field, introduce key elements of urban theory and methodology, analyze issues of immigration, ethnicity, and urbanism, and more. Exploring the urban experience in a global context, 16 student-friendly chapters address urbanization processes, industrial urbanization, discrimination in the housing market, gentrification, metropolitan governance, urban planning, geographical and political fragmentation, urban immigration, urban economic restructuring, and more. Each chapter includes an introductory road map, learning objectives, definitions of key terms, discussion questions, and suggestions for research topics and activities. The fourth edition of Urban Geography contains two entirely new chapters on urban transportation and the relationship between cities and the environment, including climate change and natural disasters. New discussion of the impact of COVID-19 and other health aspects of cities is accompanied by new data, new figures, new themes, and new pedagogical tools. In this edition, the authors present traditional models of urban social space and new factors that organize intra-urban space, such as globalization and postmodernism. Examining cities in the developed world and in less developed regions, Urban Geography Fourth Edition is the ideal textbook for Urban Geography classes and related courses in Urban Studies, Sociology, and Political Science programs.      How Cities Work Barrie Needham, 2013-10-22 How Cities Work: An Introduction discusses how cities work and compares methods used in understanding the cities. Organized into five parts, this book begins by elucidating the interactions between city and its region, as well as between people and facilities. Subsequent part explains how the interactions of activities, people, and buildings cause activities to cluster into functional areas and how functional areas interact with each other. The effect of public policies on cities and an economic viewpoint on how cities work are also described. This book will be valuable to citizens and planners of the cities.      Selected Reading in Quantitative Urban Analysis Samuel J. Bernstein, W. Giles Mellon, 2013-10-22 Selected Readings in Quantitative Urban Analysis focuses on the use of quantitative approaches in analyzing urban problems. The areas discussed are overall urban models, urban models dealing with the basic economic factors of urban life (workers and jobs, housing and transportation), urban models dealing with the provision of basic services (education, health care, fire, police, water and sanitation), urban models dealing with the provision of the luxuries of urban life (theater, ballet, symphony), urban models dealing with how the decisions to provide these factors are made, policy formulation and the resolution of conflicting priorities. This book is comprised of 11 chapters and begins with an outline of the major areas of urban life analyzed in a quantitative manner. Urban modeling is then introduced and problems and pitfalls in urban model building are considered. The next section looks at the economic base of urban life with emphasis on labor markets and labor force, urban housing markets and housing policy, and policy and policy models in transportation. Subsequent chapters explore essential urban services including public education, community health services, fire protection, sanitation and emergency medical services. The remaining sections discuss the amenities of urban life and urban politics and policy. This monograph should be useful to urban administrators and planners as well as students interested in urban problems.

Cities of the World Stanley D. Brunn, Maureen Hays-Mitchell, Donald J. Zeigler, 2008. A fifth edition of this book is now available. This fully updated and revised fourth edition of the classic text offers readers a comprehensive set of tools for understanding the urban landscape and by extension the world's politics, cultures and economies. Providing a sweeping overview of world urban geography, a group of noted experts explores the eleven major global regions. Liberally illustrated with a new selection of photographs, maps and diagrams, the text also includes a rich array of boxed vignettes. Clearly written and timely, this text will be invaluable for those teaching introductory or advanced classes on global cities, regional geography and urban studies.

Reading Rodney King/Reading Urban Uprising Robert Gooding-Williams, 2013-10-14. Reading Rodney King. Reading Urban Uprising keeps the public debate alive by exploring the connections between the Rodney King incidents and the ordinary workings of cultural, political and economic power in contemporary America. Its recurrent theme is the continuing, complicated significance of race in American society. Contributors: Houston A. Baker Jr., Judith Butler, Sumi K. Cho, Kimberle Crenshaw, Mike Davis, Thomas L. Dumm, Walter C. Farrell Jr., Henry Louis Gates Jr., Ruth Wilson Gilmore, Robert Gooding-Williams, James H. Johnson Jr., Elaine H. Kim, Melvin L. Oliver, Michael Omi, Gary Peller, Cedric J. Robinson, Jerry Watts, Cornel West, Patricia Williams, Rhonda M. Williams, Howard Winant.

Urban Patterns George A. Theodorson, 1982. This volume is a thoroughly revised edition of the book Studies in Human Ecology which had become the standard text and reference in the field. Twenty-four of the original articles have been retained and thirty-two new articles, many of them written especially for this volume, have been added. Defining and surveying the ecological approach to the study of human society, this anthology is both a theoretical and an applied work and should be of value not only to scholars and students interested in developing ecological principles but also to those concerned with applying these principles in research. Part I contains articles by leading sociologists and geographers tracing the history of the field from its beginning in 1921 and reconciling conflicting current conceptions Part II presents social ecology as a framework for studying the city with respect to ethnicity neighborhood organization mental illness and commuting patterns Part III offers comparative studies from Latin America Europe and Asia An introduction by the editor provides a critical overview to each part      Reading Urban Renewal Project ,1973
