Right Thinking and Sacred Oratory in Counter-Reformation Rome Frederick J. McGinness, 2014-07-14 At the end of the sixteenth century when painters writers and scientists from all over Europe flocked to Rome for creative inspiration the city was also becoming the center of a vibrant and assertive Roman Catholic culture Closely identified with Rome the Counter Reformation church sought to strengthen itself by building on Rome's symbolic value and broadcasting its cultural message loudly and skillfully to the European world In a book that captures the texture and flavor of this rhetorical strategy Frederick McGinness explores the new emphasis placed on preaching by Roman church leaders Looking at the development of a sacred oratory designed to move the heart he traces the formation of a long-lasting Catholic worldview and reveals the ingenuity of the Counter Reformation in the transformation of Renaissance humanism McGinness not only describes the theory of sermon writing but also reconstructs the circumstances social and physical in which sermons were delivered The author considers how sermons blended spirituality with pious legends for example stories of the early martyrs and evocative metaphors to fashion a respublica christiana of loyal Catholics Preachers projected a right view of history social relationships and ecclesiastical organization while depicting a spiritual topography upon which Catholics could chart a path to salvation At the center of this topography was Rome a vast stage set for religious pageantry which McGinness brings to life as he follows the homiletic representations of the city from a bastion of Christian militancy to a haven of harmony light and tranquility Originally published in 1995 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to

K. Olukoya,2016-02-24 Money flows to some Christians and flows away from others One first lesson you must learn is that money flows It can flow away from a person It can be magnetized or repelled A lot of people like money but it flows away Beloved the truth of the matter is that there are angels of prosperity There are also angels of poverty They can work for or against a person Which one is working for you The Ultimate Weight Solution for Teens Jay McGraw,2003-11-25 The problems young people in the West have with obesity are well documented Jay McGraw tackles the emotional and physical aspects of adolescent and young adult obesity and presents a range of solutions extending from the psychological to the purely dietary Education and Society (RLE Edu L) E Biaggini,2012-05-23 This volume discusses how the lay person responds to written appeals to his intelligence and feelings with particular emphasis on education and culture The author indicates a possible approach to the task of investigation rather than all that can be done with the method employed The second part deals with educational questions relevant to the evidence and examines the social implications of this evidence Writing Poems for God Ross Grahmann,2025-06-26 The reason I am writing this book is for the readers to have a clear understanding of how much God desires a relationship with them This in turn will also allow the reader to know the depth of God s love Another reason for writing this book of poems is for the reader to have a better understanding of how God sees and loves them My prayer is that these poems resonate and awaken the reader s desire to draw closer to God However the most important reason for writing this book is to show the readers the importance of accepting the gift of salvation Lastly I would like to offer my readers who have not already had a chance to accept Jesus as their Lord and Savior to do so If you are ready now I would like to give you the opportunity to make a life changing choice Do you believe that Jesus is the Lord Do you believe God raised Jesus from the dead Do you believe Jesus is your and my savior Do you believe that in your heart Clinical Chaos Linda Chamberlain,Michael R.
