Rights Of Husband And Wife In Islam:

Rights of Husband and Wife in Islam Abdul Ghani (Mufti.),1997 The Rights of Women in Islam Asgharali Engineer,2008 Women s issues continue to dominate the Islamic world in particular as there has been a very gradual change in the status of women in the Islamic world as a whole This book covers various aspects relating to the status of women in the pre Islamic period customs and traditions forms of marriage divorce and forms of divorce dower traditions regarding slave girls and so on It then goes on to deal with the status of women in the post Islamic period the Qur anic concept of women s rights in marriage divorce inheritance custody of children polygamy maintenance property right to earn etc It quotes extensively from the Qur an and Sunnah It also deals with the Arab adaat that is pre Islamic customs and traditions regarding women Altogether it attempts to arm Muslim women with Islamic arguments for their empowerment The author a renowned scholar has sought to set the record straight by reinterpreting women s rights in the true Qur anic spirit He argues quite convincingly that the Holy Book gives equal rights to both the sexes and it does not discriminate between them as regards personal democratic and human rights The question whether in a secular society Muslim personal law needs any change and if so in which direction the reform should be undertaken is dealt with in detail This third edition contains a chapter On a Muslim Woman Leading the Congregational Prayer This chapter deals with the important aspect of Muslim women s problems and also hopes to further enhance their understanding of the Shari ah issues The Rights of Women in Islam H. Jawad,1998-06-30 It has been argued that Islam liberated Muslim women by granting them full rights as citizens Yet in reality we see that women have long been subjected to both cultural and political oppression Instances such as forced marriages are sadly common in the Muslim World as are restrictions on education and on their role in the labour force

Islam, Women's Sexuality and Patriarchy in Indonesia Irma Riyani,2020-11-26 This book explores the intimate marital relationships of Indonesian Muslim married women As well as describing and analysing their sexual relationships the book also investigates how Islam influences discourses of sexuality in Indonesia and in particular how Islamic teachings affect Muslim married women s perceptions and behaviour in their sexual relationships with their husbands Based on extensive original research the book reveals that Muslim women perceive marriage as a social cultural and religious obligation that they need to fulfil that they realise that finding an ideal marriage partner is complicated with some having the opportunity for a long courtship and others barely knowing their partner prior to marriage and that there is a strong tendency with some exceptions for women to consider a sexual relationship in marriage as their duty and their husband s right Religious and cultural discourses justify and support this view and consider refusal a sin dosa or taboo pamali Both discourses emphasise obedience towards husbands in marriage The Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Marriage) Bill 2019 Salim Khan Anmol,2022-08-15 The Muslim Women Protection of Rights on Marriage Bill 2019 New English Latest Edition Marriage is said to be the union of two people and is seen as the purest and oldest institution in India The object of marriage for every religion is different For example marriage in Hindus is considered to be a dharma but every religion places an obligation to get married for some or other reason Where marriages among Hindus are considered a sacred institution marriage among Muslims is seen as a contract Unlike Hindu Law Mohamedan Law or Muslim Law is not codified This leads to chaos and confusion regarding the various ceremonies and authenticity of various things related to marriage like consent age divorce maintenance etc In order to deal with different problems that arose due to the non codification of Muslim law the parliament passed various acts The article explains all these acts and their important provisions It also describes the nature and essential conditions of a Muslim marriage Nature of Muslim marriage Marriage in Muslim law is known as Nikah It is an Arabic word which means union of two people Baillie s Digest defines Muslim marriage as a contract done to legalise sexual relationships and the procreation of children while on the other hand in Hedaya a guide or commentary on Islamic Law nikah means carnal conjunction in its primitive sense As said by the Prophet of Islam marriage is his sunna practices of the Prophet Muhammad and his followers must obey his practices and follow them properly When we talk about the nature of Muslim marriage a question that always arises is whether it is a sacrament or a contract Some jurists opined that marriage in Muslims is a civil contract while others argue that it has a sacrament attached to itself Thus while studying the nature of Muslim marriage three different aspects are taken into consideration These are Legal aspect Social aspect Religious aspect Legal aspect of Muslim marriage The legal aspect says that among Muslims marriage is a civil contract because it has similar characteristics to a contract These are Like a contract there is a proposal i e Ijab by one party and acceptance i e Qubul by the other party In a contract free consent plays an important role Similarly there can be no marriage without the consent of the parties and such consent must not be obtained through fraud coercion force or undue influence If a minor is married by their guardians then the minor has a right to repudiate the marriage on attaining the age of majority which is the same as the age of puberty in Muslims This option of puberty is also known as khyar ul bulugh Similarly a contract entered into by a guardian on behalf of a minor can be set aside or controlled by him on attaining a majority The parties to a marriage are allowed to enter into any kind of ante nuptial or post nuptial agreement if it is enforceable by law The only condition is that it must be reasonable and not contrary to their religion The terms of marriage in the nikahnama can be altered according to the wishes of the bride and groom but it must be within the limits of the law In the case of Abdul Kadir v Salima 1886 it was held that Muslim marriage is a contract and not a sacrament

International Human Rights and Islamic Law Mashood A. Baderin, 2003-09-11 This volume examines the important question of whether or not international human rights and Islamic law are compatible It asks whether Muslim States can comply with international human rights law whilst adhering to Islamic law The traditional arguments on this subject are examined and responded to from both international human rights and Islamic legal perspectives The volume engages international human rights law in theoretical dialogue with Islamic law facilitating an evaluation of the human rights policy of modern Muslim States International Human Rights and Islamic Law formulates a synthesis between these two extremes and argues that although there are differences of scope and application there is no fundamental incompatibility between these two bodies of law Baderin argues that their differences could be better addressed if the concept of human rights were positively established from within the themes of Islamic law rather than by imposing it upon Islamic law as an alien concept Each article of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights as well as relevant articles of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women are analysed in the light of Islamic law The volume concludes that it is possible to harmonise the differences between international human rights law and Islamic law through the adoption of the margin of appreciation doctrine by international human rights treaty bodies and the utilization of the Islamic law doctrines of maq sid al shar ah the overall objective of Shar ah and maslahah welfare by Muslim States in their interpretation and application of Islamic law respectively Baderin asserts that Islamic law can serve as an important vehicle for the guarantee and enforcement of international human rights law in the Muslim world and the volume concludes with recommendations to that effect Family Rights and Religion John Eekelaar, 2020-09-10 The interaction between individual rights which are often seen in secular terms and religion is becoming an important and complex topic not only for academic study but for practical policy This volume collects a range of writings from journals edited collections and individual books which deal with different aspects of the interaction within the context of family life and which appear with their original pagination These studies have been selected because they throw a sharp light on central elements of the role of religion in determining the structure of the rights of family members in relation to one another both from an historical and contemporary perspective While many of the writings are focused on US and European systems selected writings covering other systems illustrate the universal nature of the topic The studies are accompanied by a reflective commentary from the editor which sets the writings in a broad context of social constitutional and philosophical thought with the aim of stimulating critical thought and discussion

Islam and Human Rights Ann Elizabeth Mayer, 2018-04-19 Islam and Human Rights is a probing examination of how the Islamic tradition has been exploited for political ends by regimes and institutions seeking to legitimize policies inimical to human rights Ann Elizabeth Mayer critically appraises Islamic human rights schemes that dilute the human rights afforded by international law comparing them with the complex Islamic legal heritage and international human rights law Challenging stereotypes about a supposedly monolithic Islam inherently incompatible with human rights Mayer dissects the political motives behind the selective deployment of elements of the Islamic tradition by conservative forces seeking to delegitimize demands for democracy and human rights The fifth edition provides an updated consideration of government policies on Islam and human rights activism and how they are affecting developments in several Middle Eastern countries and features a new chapter on the resistance of human rights for sexual minorities by the Organization of Islamic Cooperation OIC project to co opt international human rights law to criminalize defamation of Islam occurring in the West The new edition also analyzes the other most recent and important issues of the region including The burgeoning pressures in the Middle East for human rights leading up to the Arab Spring The ambitious campaign of the OIC to influence the UN human rights system by forging alliances with non Muslim states hostile to human rights The concerted efforts by this cross cultural alliance to subvert international human rights law under pretenses of supporting human rights The intensifying controversies over issues of sexual orientation and gender identity in the Middle East The Danish Cartoons controversy and the OIC project to co opt international human rights law to criminalize defamation of Islam occurring in the West

Gender and Human Rights in Islam and International Law Shaheen S. Ali,2021-11-08 This important study offers a conceptual analysis of gender and human rights under Islamic law state law and international law and extends this analysis to a specific examination of the nature of women s rights in the Islamic tradition It explores the disparity between the theoretical perspective on women s rights and its applications to Muslim jurisdictions determined by elements of cultural practices socio economic realities and political expediences and uses the example of Pakistan to demonstrate the divergence between the theory and practice of Islamic law in these jurisdictions It discusses the concept of an emerging operative Islamic law which includes principles of Islamic law secular codes and popular custom and usage Islamic Human Rights and International Law Glenn L. Roberts,2006-12 Traditional Islamic law has long been regarded as academic local in nature and relevant only as a measure of the inadequacy of women s rights in the family law regimes of a few Islamic states In opposition the author argues that the Sharia is both a quasi regional customary international law capable of competing with prevailing customary international law and brings its own international agenda of Islamic human rights that compete with and seek to displace Western human rights Rather than acknowledging the rights of Muslims qua Muslims internationally aggressive proponents of an American customary law of human rights school have responded with a new militant doctrine of instant customary law to aid the U S in its war on terror targeting the Sharia wherever encountered and risking a global war on Islam Islamic Law and International Human Rights Law Mark Ellis,Anver M. Emon,Benjamin Glahn,2012-10-11 Deepening the discussion of the relationship between Islamic law and human rights this volume gathers leading experts in both fields to examine how each system protects and limits fundamental freedoms From gender equality to freedom of religion the book explores the main flashpoints in the debate examining the operation of the law in context Rights of Husband and Wife Mufit Abdul Ghani,2000-05-01
