values major models approaches and methods education research journals phases of development working with specific populations and ages plus many more Each article includes references which can be a major resource for future exploration in the particular subject area Both editors have many years of productive work in group work practice and other areas and are board members of The Association for the Advancement of Social Work with Groups The Encyclopedia of Social Work with Groups will be of interest to students practitioners social work faculty novice and experienced group workers

Group and Individual Work with Older People Swee Hong Chia, Julie Healthcote, Jane Marie Hibberd, 2011 Being active is fundamental to a person's sense of physical and mental wellbeing and the need to engage in purposeful and meaningful activity does not diminish with age However common effects of ageing such as reduced vision and hearing arthritis dementia and in some cases social isolation can affect an older person's ability to participate in therapeutic and recreational activities Introducing the concept of PIE Planning Implementation and Evaluation this practical resource will enable professionals working with older people to initiate and run successful activity based programmes with their clients either individually or in groups The authors guide the reader through the processes of group and individual work and provide step by step instructions for a range of activities including arts and crafts music drama movement relaxation reminiscence and day to day tasks such as taking care of personal hygiene and preparing food and drinks The book also describes the importance of assessing and evaluating activity based work with examples of completed evaluation and assessment forms Useful case studies and self reflective activities for the facilitator are included throughout This book will be an invaluable for occupational therapists creative arts therapists health and social care practitioners and all other professionals working with older people Publisher's website

Patient Participation in Palliative Care Barbara Monroe, David Oliviere, 2003-06-19 Patient participation and user involvement are central to current thinking about the effective delivery of desired healthcare outcomes Working with the person who lies behind every patient is core to palliative care A voice can only become significant when it is listened to and acted upon With palliative care increasingly addressing the needs of people with a variety of conditions in a range of settings as well as with advances in research technology and information the challenge to be a voice for the voiceless is greater than ever This book addresses key aspects in the provision of patient centred palliative care and tracks significant developments in user involvement It sets the philosophy within the cultural social and political context of modern healthcare particularly addressing issues of quality standards education and bereavement A key component in the delivery of high quality palliative care is the multi professional team Following a discussion of teamwork five core professions present a critical analysis of their working practices The book concludes with a commentary from a palliative care user and a bereaved carer It is often somewhat glibly asserted that the patient is or should be at the centre of care There have been few attempts to examine how to keep him or her there without professional needs and protocols crowding him or her out This book asks how we listen and why we listen The book focuses on the challenges of how professionals can keep the needs of the patient central in clinical care and how the patient can influence the direction of that care Solution-Focused
