Baptists and Public Life in Canada Gordon L. Heath, Paul R. Wilson, 2012-02-02 Public discussion about the relationship between religion and public life in Canada can be heated at times and scholars have recently focused on the historical study of the many expressions of this relationship The experience of Canada's smaller Protestant Christian groups however has remained largely unexplored This is particularly true of Canada's Baptists This volume the first produced by the Canadian Baptist Historical Society explores the connections between Baptist faith and Baptist activity in the public domain and expands the focus of the existing scholarship to include a wide range of Canadian Baptist beliefs attitudes perspectives and actions related to the relationship between Baptist faith and practice and public life The Congrégation de Notre-Dame, Superiors, and the Paradox of Power, 1693-1796 Colleen Gray, 2007-10-25 Nuns have often been portrayed as nascent feminists wielding an exceptional amount of power In this formative study of the Congrégation de Notre Dame a religious community of uncloistered women established in Montreal in 1657 Colleen Gray presents a more nuanced view of the foundations and exercise of power within the convent

America and the revivalistic activities so important to the mid nineteenth century years He documents Methodists missionary work both overseas and in Canada among aboriginal peoples and immigrants He analyses the Methodist contribution to Canadian education and the leadership the church provided for the expansion of the role of women in society He also assesses the spiritual and social dimensions of evangelical religion in the personal lives of Methodists addressing such social issues as prohibition prostitution the importance of the family and changing attitudes toward children in Methodist doctrine and Canada in general Semple argues that Methodism evolved into the most Canadian of all the churches helping to break down the geographic political economic ethnic and social divisions that confounded national unity Although the Methodist Church did not achieve the universality it aspired to he concludes that it succeeded in defining the religious political and social agenda for the Protestant component of Canada providing a powerful legacy of service to humanity and to God

Holocaust, Israel, and Canadian Protestant Churches Haim Genizi, 2002-07-09 Genizi pays particular attention to the controversy surrounding A C Forrest editor of the influential United Church Observer which constantly criticized Israel s policies and strongly supported the Palestinian cause a position that led to a serious dispute with the Canadian Jewish community Genizi also deals with the complications and ambiguities of the geopolitics of the Middle East and examines the dilemmas they pose for both the Christian and the Jewish conscience The conflict over resolutions condemning Israel for accepting apartheid and maintaining systematic racial cleansing adopted in the international conference on racism in Durban South Africa in late 2001 shows how explosive the controversy over the Israel Palestinian crisis remains

Secularisation in the Christian World Michael Snape, 2016-04-01 The power of modernity to secularise has been a foundational idea of the western world Both social science and church history understood that the Christian religion from 1750 was deeply vulnerable to industrial urbanisation and the Enlightenment But as evidence mounts that countries of the European world experienced secularising forces in different ways at different periods the timing and causes of de Christianisation are now widely seen as far from straightforward Secularisation in the Christian World brings together leading scholars in the social history of religion and the sociology of religion to explore what we know about the decline of organised Christianity in Britain Europe the United States Canada and Australia The chapters tackle different strands themes comparisons and territories to demonstrate the diversity of approach thinking and evidence that has emerged in the last 30 years of scholarship into the religious past and present The volume includes both new research and essays of theoretical reflection by the most eminent academics It highlights historians and sociologists in both agreement and dispute With contributors from eight countries the volume also brings together many nations for the first consolidated international consideration of recent themes in de Christianisation With church historians and cultural historians and religious sociologists and sociologists of the godless society this book provides a state of the art guide to secularisation studies

Forkhill Protestants and Forkhill Catholics, 1787-1858 Kyla Madden, 2005-11-22 In the late eighteenth century an influx of Protestant settlers to the mainly Catholic parish of Forkhill on the Ulster borderlands provoked clashes between natives and newcomers None was more horrific than the brutal attack on a Protestant schoolmaster and his family in the winter of 1791 The conflict was immediately cast in sectarian terms leading to more than 200 years of ill will But was it a misdiagnosis Forkhill Protestants and Forkhill Catholics explores the social history of the parish between 1787 and 1858 In a wide ranging analysis Kyla Madden demonstrates that there was a greater degree of cooperation and exchange between Catholics and Protestants than the historical record has acknowledged Madden contends that since some of our widely held assumptions about the patterns of Irish history dissolve under scrutiny at the local level they should be more cautiously applied on a larger scale
