Serpent Underfoot:

Bad Christians, New Spains Byron Ellsworth Hamann, 2019-10-28 This book centers on two inquisitorial investigations both of which began in the 1540s One involved the relations of Europeans and Native Americans in an Oaxacan town in New Spain today s Mexico The other involved relations of Moriscos recent Muslim converts to Catholicism and Old Christians people with deep Catholic ancestries in the Mediterranean kingdom of Valencia in the old Spain Although separated by an ocean the social worlds preserved in the inquisitorial files share many things By comparing and contrasting the two inquisitions Hamann reveals how very local practices and debates had long distance parallels that reveal the larger entanglements of a transatlantic early modern world Through a dialogue of two microhistories he presents a macrohistory of large scale social transformation We see how attempts in both places to turn old worlds into new ones were centered on struggles over materiality and temporality By paying close attention to theories and practices of reduction and conversion Hamann suggests we can move beyond anachronistic models of social change as colonization and place questions of time and history at the center of our understandings of the sixteenth century past The book is an intervention in major debates in both history and anthropology about the writing of global histories our conceptualizations of the colonial the nature of religious and cultural change and the roles of material things in social life and the imagination of time

Courtly Love Jean Markale, 2000-11 A comprehensive examination of the rituals and philosophies that created and sustained medieval troubadour culture Debunks the myth of the platonic nature of courtly love showing the many sexual similarities to the Tantric practices of India Reveals how the roots of courtly love go back to the matriarchal cultures of neolithic times The widespread turmoil that shook Western Europe as it entered the new millennium with the year 1000 prompted a vast reevaluation of the chief tenets of society Foremost among these was a new way of looking at love and the place held by women in society The Christian inspired tradition that at best viewed women with contempt and often with outright fear and loathing was replaced by a new perspective one in which women enjoyed a central role as the inspiration for all male action For several hundred years courtly love with its emphasis on adultery carnal pleasures and the power of the feminine dominated European culture despite its flouting of conventional Christian morality Medieval historians by and large have tended to regard courtly love as a sterile parlor game for the upper classes To the contrary Jean Markale shows that the stakes were much higher the roots of the ritual re-created here go all the way back to the great mother goddess In addition the platonic nature attributed to these relationships is based on a misunderstanding of courtly love underneath the refined poetry of the troubadours verses flourished a system of sexual initiation that rivaled Indian Tantra
