Modern Jewish Literatures Sheila E. Jelen, Michael P. Kramer, L. Scott Lerner, 2011-06-06 Is there such a thing as a distinctive Jewish literature While definitions have been offered none has been universally accepted Modern Jewish literature lacks the basic markers of national literatures it has neither a common geography nor a shared language though works in Hebrew or Yiddish are almost certainly included and the field is so diverse that it cannot be contained within the bounds of one literary category Each of the fifteen essays collected in Modern Jewish Literatures takes on the above question by describing a movement across boundaries between languages cultures genres or spaces Works in Hebrew and Yiddish are amply represented but works in English French German Italian Ladino and Russian are also considered Topics range from the poetry of the Israeli nationalist Natan Alterman to the Russian poet Osip Mandelstam from turn of the century Ottoman Jewish journalism to wire recorded Holocaust testimonies from the intellectual salons of late eighteenth century Berlin to the shelves of a Jewish bookstore in twentieth century Los Angeles The literary world described in Modern Jewish Literatures is demarcated chronologically by the Enlightenment the Haskalah and the French Revolution on one end and the fiftieth anniversary of the State of Israel on the other The particular terms of the encounter between a Jewish past and present for modern Jews has varied greatly by continent country or village by language and by social standing among other things What unites the subjects of these studies is not a common ethnic religious or cultural history but rather a shared endeavor to use literary production and writing in general as the laboratory in which to explore and represent Jewish experience in the modern world

Queering Creole Spiritual Traditions Randy P Lundschieen Conner, David Sparks, 2014-04-08 What roles do queer and transgender people play in the African diasporic religions Queering Creole Spiritual Traditions Lesbian Gay Bisexual and Transgender Participation in

African Inspired Traditions in the Americas is a groundbreaking scholarly exploration of this long neglected subject. It offers clear insight into the complex dynamics of gender and sexual orientation, humans and deities, and race and ethnicity within these richly nuanced spiritual practices. Queering Creole Spiritual Traditions explores the ways in which gender complexity and same sex intimacy are integral to the primary beliefs and practices of these faiths. It begins with a comprehensive overview of Vodou, Santeria, and other African based religions. The second section includes extensive revealing interviews with practitioners who offer insight into the intersection of their beliefs, their sexual orientation, and their gender identity. Finally, it provides a powerful analysis of the ways these traditions have inspired artists, musicians, and writers such as Audre Lorde, as well as informative interviews with the artists themselves. In Queering Creole Spiritual Traditions, you will discover how the presence of androgynous divinities affects both faith and practice in Vodou, Candomble, Santeria, and other Creole religions; how the phenomenon of possession or embodiment by a god or goddess may validate queer identity and nurture gender complexity; who practices the African derived spiritual traditions; what they believe; and who their deities are; how these faiths have influenced the art and aesthetic traditions of the West. This landmark book opens a fascinating new world of thought and belief. The authors provide rigorous documentation and faultless scholarly method, as well as personal experience and the testimony of believers. Queering Creole Spiritual Traditions sheds new light on two widely different fields: LGBT studies and the theology of the African diaspora. A thorough bibliography points the way to further study, and an extensive photograph gallery provides a unique look at the believers and their practices. Every library with holdings in queer theory, African mythology, or sociology of religion should have this landmark volume. The Scent of Eros, Malleus Deus

Ildefonso Soto Jr, 2015-06-04. With a bloody and elongated conflict between the Archangels and hell's fallen Angels that transpired on the physical earth, Satan, who was forced to return back to hell, vowed before his departure his destructive return to earth by influencing humankind with an imperceptible entity, later to be exposed to the world as the anti Christ, his son Victor Allen, so that he can enforce final judgment on humankind and ultimately destroy and reign in heaven. Heavens fearless General Michael, the Archangel who anticipated his destructive return, requested to his heavenly creator to make an exception and have a woman of the earth, fathered by an Angel, and produce an offspring, Mateo Martinez, to imperceptibly lead the Archangels to the destroyer of souls and obstructing his attempts in taking over the worthy souls on the existing earth. Mateo, who unsuspectingly would play an imperative role in allowing heavens fearless warrior Angels in safely guarding the gates of heaven, would prove to be the catalyst in concealing heavens counter attack to the evil claiming reign on earth. These two aberrant adversaries, who would later and unknowingly befriend one another, would ultimately prove in becoming the battle war cry between heaven and hell that will challenge humankind's faith and ultimately their spiritual salvation.

Public Confessions Rebecca L. Davis, 2021-09-15. Personal reinvention is a core part of the human condition. Yet in the mid twentieth century, certain private religious choices became lightning rods for public outrage and debate. Public
