Making Of The Representative For Planet 8:

The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 Philip Glass, Doris Lessing, 1988 The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 /Philip Glass ; Doris Lessing Philip Glass, Doris Lessin, 1988 The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 Doris Lessing, 1988 Planet 8 a prosperous world with intelligent vital inhabitants is transformed by an Ice Age a change that causes a critical variation in lifestyle and a drastic reappraisal of the meaning and value of life Making of the Representative for Planet 8; Canopus in Argos: Archives Doris Lessing, 1982 Identity in Doris Lessing's Space Fiction David F. Waterman, 2006 In this study of identity in Doris Lessing s space fiction David Waterman devotes a chapter to each of the five novels in the Canopus in Argos Archives series as well as Briefing for a Descent into Hell Memoirs of a Survivor and finally The Reason for It This is an important addition to understanding the works of this prolific author His major argument is that Lessing s space fiction identifies the universal problem society s division into competitive and predatory groups and places it outside the bounds of time and space encouraging a social critique which takes into account our inherited blindness our degenerative disease which must be addressed before genuine progress can be made Lessing s examination of the relationship between individual identity and group identity produces a productive tension that accounts for so much of interest in her work over many years Nowhere is that tension more obvious or more interesting than in the space fiction that David Waterman so ably explores Waterman writes convincingly of Lessing s desire to cut through the performance the received ideas the habits and customs of our daily lives Drawing on a wide range of sources he provides an interdisciplinary reading of the space fiction and maps Lessing s brave exploration of the hierarchical landscapes that so often imprison us Waterman offers a timely reading of Lessing for contemporary readers living in the landscape of globalization Professor Margaret Moan Rowe Purdue University The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 Doris Lessing, 1982 The Making of the representative for Planet 8 Philip Glass, English National Opera, Coliseum, 1988 The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 Philip Glass, 1988 Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark Hawkins-Dady, 1996 First Published in 1996 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Food, Consumption and the Body in Contemporary Women's Fiction Sarah Sceats, 2000-04-20 This study explores the subtle and complex significance of food and eating in contemporary women s fiction Sarah Sceats reveals how preoccupations with food its consumption and the body are central to the work of writers such as Doris Lessing Angela Carter Margaret Atwood Mich le Roberts and Alice Thomas Ellis Through close analysis of their fiction Sceats examines the multiple metaphors associated with these themes making powerful connections between food and love motherhood sexual desire self identity and social behaviour The activities surrounding food and its consumption or non consumption embrace both the most intimate and the most thoroughly public aspects of our lives The book draws on psychoanalytical feminist and sociological theory to engage with a diverse range of issues including chapters on cannibalism and eating disorders This lively study demonstrates that feeding and eating are not simply fundamental to life but are inseparable from questions of gender power and control The Span of Mainstream and Science Fiction Peter Brigg,2015-09-16 From the 1960s when the advent of what many call the postmodern style made establishing genres more difficult to the present day writers have been incorporating science not only the commonly thought of science and technology but also the soft sciences such as psychology and sociology into what was previously considered mainstream fiction This book examines works by Thomas Pynchon Doris Lessing and others who incorporate science in fiction and exemplify the movement of mainstream fiction writers toward a new genre termed span It also examines works by some science fiction writers who are edging closer to the border of science fiction and slowly over into span This book maps the boundaries of the new span genre of fiction and thus helps define texts that fall outside the realms of mainstream and science fiction Diagrams are included and a bibliography and index Brave New World? Celia Deane-Drummond,2003-11-01 One of the key issues facing us in the next millennium is the ability to manipulate the genetics of living organisms The possibility of manipulating human genetics raises many theological ethical and socio political issues These include specific decisions about whether the technology will be developed how it will be applied and more general questions about the technical manipulation of natural processes From a theological perspective the human genome project not only challenges particular doctrines such as that of creation eschatology and anthropology but also raises particular issues of social justice and medical ethics The purpose of this book is to bring together the collective expertise of theologians scientists and social scientists in order to provide a forum for critique and public debate focused on the human genome project It is hoped that the results presented in this book offer a sophisticated theological and ethical response The Random House Crossword Puzzle Dictionary Random House,Stephen Elliott,1995-03-01 THE RANDOM HOUSE CROSSWORD PUZZLE DICTIONARY MORE THAN 700 000 CLUES AND ANSWER WORDS THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE POCKET CROSSWORD DICTIONARY ON THE MARKET COMPREHENSIVE More clue words special categories and subcategories than any comparable dictionary In depth coverage of people places and things AUTHORITATIVE Extensive coverage of modern history popular culture politics literature sports and much more General vocabulary and synonyms checked against the voluminous Random House dictionary and thesaurus files CLEARLY ORGANIZED Clue words and clue information printed in easy to spot bold typeface All answer words grouped by their number of letters Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne,Pushpa Naidu Parekh,2012-11-12 This reference book surveys the richness of postcolonial African literature The volume begins with an introductory essay on postcolonial criticism and African writing then presents alphabetically arranged profiles of some 60 writers including Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Doris Lessing Tsitsi Dangarembga Tahbar Ben Jelloun among others Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes that appear in the author s writings an overview of the critical response to the author s work and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources These profiles are written by expert contributors and reflect many different

Re-Embroidering the Robe Suzanne Bray, Adrienne E. Gavin, Peter Merchant, 2009-10-02 Religious faith myths and legends have always been present in literature However their role has changed over time Since the middle of the nineteenth century with the diminishing role of religion in European society writers with some kind of belief system whether religious or political have tended to use myth in two different ways They have either retold the old familiar myths of the past so that they carry fresh messages relevant to a contemporary audience or created their own new myths as modern vehicles of traditional truths Many writers have combined the two techniques Such is the transforming artistry which the eighteen essays in Re Embroidering the Robe examine the remaking or new minting of myth in literature from 1850 to the present day so that what it embodies and expresses speaks powerfully to the modern reader In widely differing ways therefore all of the texts analysed here compel attention

Doris Lessing Margaret Moan Rowe, 1994-10-03 Through close readings of Doris Lessing s novels from The Grass is Singing to The Fifth Child Margaret Moan Rowe maps many of the literary and cultural negotiations that make Doris Lessing both a maverick and a mainstream novelist Examining the pull of paternal and maternal biographical and literary identification in Lessing Rowe relates them to the tensions between the ordinary and the visionary in her fiction

Rereading Doris Lessing Claire Sprague, 2014-07-02 According to Sprague doubling in Lessing s novels is a perfect correlative for the complexity and contradiction Lessing perceives as central to the private and collective human experience Her doubles and multiples not only indicate the fracturing or the formation of identity but they also are among the several strategies used to project complex private and societal concerns This study of Lessing s dialectical imagination extends and revises earlier feminist approaches Originally published in 1987 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value
