Triumph of Textiles Jim Tomlinson,Christopher A Whatley,2024-11-30 A fresh account of the remarkable rise of Dundee as a global industrial city and the origins of its later demise The background to jute the product most closely associated with Dundee is investigated in unprecedented depth The role of flax and linen as foundations for the jute industry is emphasised The book challenges many perceptions of Dundee Linen was as important to Dundee before c 1850 as jute was afterwards the significance of jute pre 1850 has often been exaggerated by historians Traditionally Dundee s success was attributed to the production of cheap coarse cloth for sacks bagging etc Yet many firms manufactured high quality admiralty grade canvas and colourful rugs and carpets in imitation of Brussels and other woollen floor coverings Design was important So too were enterprising merchants and manufacturers from the early eighteenth century onwards Although squalor and industrial and social conflict became the norm after the 1870s prior to that Dundee was relatively buoyant economically and greatly admired by visitors including those from as far afield as the US In short Dundee was one of Scotland's industrial powerhouses a fact too often overlooked An Urban History of The Plague Karen Jillings, 2018-04-17 As a medical economic spiritual and demographic crisis plague affected practically every aspect of an early modern community whether on a local regional or national scale Its study therefore affords opportunities for the reassessment of many aspects of the pre modern world This book examines the incidence and effects of plague in an early modern Scottish community by analysing civic medical and social responses to epidemics in the north east port of Aberdeen focusing on the period 1500-1650 While Aberdeen's experience of plague was in many ways similar to that of other towns throughout Europe certain idiosyncrasies in the city make it a particularly interesting case study which challenges several assumptions about early modern mentalities
