Making Paradise:

Making Waves Frederick Lau, Christine R. Yano, 2018-02-28 Musical sounds are some of the most mobile human elements crossing national cultural and regional boundaries at an ever increasing pace in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Whole musical products travel easily though not necessarily intact via musicians CDs and earlier cassettes satellite broadcasting digital downloads and streaming The introductory chapter by the volume editors develops two framing metaphors traveling musics and making waves The wave making metaphor illuminates the ways that traveling musics traverse flows of globalization and migration initiating change and generating energy of their own Each of the nine contributors further examines music its songs makers instruments aurality aesthetics and images as it crosses oceans continents and islands In the process of landing in new homes music interacts with older established cultural environments sometimes in unexpected ways and with surprising results They see these traveling musics in Hawai i Asia and the Pacific as making waves that is not only riding flows of globalism but instigating ripples of change What is the nature of those ripples What constitutes some of the infrastructure for the wave itself What are some of the effects of music landing on transported to or appropriated from distant shores How does the Hawai i Asia Pacific context itself shape and get shaped by these musical waves The two poetic and evocative metaphors allow the individual contributors great leeway in charting their own course while simultaneously referring back to the influence of their mentor and colleague Ricardo D Trimillos whom they identify as the wave maker The volume attempts to position music as at once ritual and entertainment esoteric and exoteric tradition and creativity within the cultural geographies of Hawai i Asia and the Pacific In doing so they situate music at the very core of global human endeavors King Custom Text - English 1G03: Making and Unmaking Literary

Traditions Broadview Custom Texts, 2021-02-22 This product is a Broadview Custom text made available here for students in Professor James King s English 1G03 Making and Unmaking Literary Traditions course at McMaster University Making Milton Emma Depledge, John S. Garrison, Marissa Nicosia, 2021 A collection of essays exploring John Milton s rise to popularity and his status as a canonical author The volume considers Milton s authorial persona in the context of his relationships with his contemporary writers stationers and readers Making Waste Sophie Gee, 2009-12-28 The obsession with waste in eighteenth century English literature Why was eighteenth century English culture so fascinated with the things its society discarded Why did Restoration and Augustan writers such as Milton Dryden Swift and Pope describe catalog and memorialize the waste matter that their social and political worlds wanted to get rid of from the theological dregs in Paradise Lost to the excrements in The Lady s Dressing Room and the corpses of A Journal of the Plague Year In Making Waste the first book about refuse and its place in Enlightenment literature and culture Sophie Gee examines the meaning of waste at the moment when the early modern world was turning modern Gee explains how English writers used contemporary theological and philosophical texts about unwanted and leftover matter to explore secular literary relationships between waste and value She finds that in the eighteenth century waste was as culturally valuable as it was practically worthless and that waste paradoxically revealed the things that the culture cherished most The surprising central insight of Making Waste is that the creation of value always generates waste Waste is therefore a sign though a perverse one that value and meaning have been made Even when it appears to symbolize civic economic and political failure waste is in fact restorative a sign of cultural invigoration and imaginative abundance Challenging the conventional association of Enlightenment culture with political and social improvement and scientific and commercial progress Making Waste has important insights for cultural and intellectual history as well as literary studies
