Doing the Math of Mission Gil Rendle, 2014-08-14 Over the past ten years the North American mission field has experienced dramatic changes which in turn have required congregations middle judicatories and denominations to adapt Among these adaptations is an expectation for clear goals and quantified progress towards those goals Church leaders who have never needed to measure their goals and progress with metrics may find this change daunting The use of metrics denominational and middle judicatory dashboards and the tracking of congregational trends has become an uncomfortable and misunderstood practice in this search for accountability Doing the Math of Mission offers theory models and new tools for using metrics in ministry This book also shows where metrics and accountability fit into the discernment goal setting and strategies of ministry While there are resources for research on congregations tools on congregational studies and books on program evaluation there is a gap when it comes to actual tools and resources for church leaders This book is intended to help fill that gap giving leaders a toolbox they can use in their own setting to clarify their purpose and guide their steps Resource materials that leaders can use in their own setting are available In order to obtain this material please contact

Taylor, Paul F. Williams, 2020-12-29 The perspective of this book is to present ethics as a conversation about how we decide what is good or bad right or wrong It is a collection of conversations employed by educators to assist accounting students in developing their understanding of accounting s ethical aspects and to help them develop into critical thinkers who consider the ethical complexities of the function of accounting in human society Because we are social beings ethics is a central human concern since it involves determining the ethicality of human actions and their effect on other individuals as well as determining the collective societal acceptance or rejection of an action Thus the book s primary goal is to call attention to the intersectionality of accounting and ethics and to encourage students and researchers to consider the ethical implications of accounting decisions The book contains a diversity of perspectives within which discussions of accountants and accounting s ethical responsibilities may occur The contributing authors were deliberately chosen for their diverse perspectives on whence moral guidance for accounting may come Each chapter stands on its own and represents the thinking of its authors The book is not a primer on correct behavior for accountants but a place where educators may spur the conversation along A Materialist Theory of Justice Isaak Dore, 2025-02-06 This book presents a comprehensive theory of justice that has a threefold justification For the first justification the book presents a rigorously empirical methodology based on the stark realities of the human condition It has a strong anthropological grounding in that it is adapted from the methodology of cultural materialism which in turn is founded on the materialist epistemology of Karl Marx The second justification is philosophical The theory of justice derived from the above methodology is further buttressed by and or tested against the major trends of Western philosophy as represented by the thought of Aristotle Thomas Hobbes Thomas Aquinas Immanuel Kant Georg W F Hegel John Finnis John Dewey George Mead Jürgen Habermas Michel Foucault Jean-François Lyotard Axel Honneth Michael Sandel Michael Walzer Martha Nussbaum John Maynard Keynes Amartya Sen and Karl Marx The third justification is moral The promotion of human flourishing on the basis of fairness and equality are

Gadamer and the Question of the Divine Walter Lammi, 2008-12-28 Gadamer and the Question of the Divine uncovers a neglected side of Gadamer's thought namely his life long concern with the question of the divine Not only is this an issue of fundamental importance to philosophical hermeneutics but it also contributes to what Gadamer considered to be the most urgent task of our time a conceptual dialogue among religions New grounds for toleration among communities must be found and Gadamer's study of the divine provides both a model and a starting place for doing so In setting forth a conceptual narrative for global dialogue about religious transcendence Gadamer is the pre eminent twentieth century philosopher of the divine Gadamer's study of the divine is an application of philosophical hermeneutics and phenomenological in its descriptions of temporality and the experience of art Walter Lammi shows how Gadamer provides us with a richly textured study of the divine that finds its bearings in Heidegger and the Greeks and suggests a path to questions of cosmology temporality and religious experience Reason, Virtue and Psychotherapy Antonia Macaro, 2006-06-14 In recent years philosophy has become increasingly popular as an alternative source of inspiration in helping people to lead a good life Ancient Greek philosophy in particular was conceived as a practical endeavour intended to have an impact on how people lived This book loosely organised around the structure of Aristotle's Nicomachean Ethics draws on Aristotle's ideas about virtue and on contemporary virtue ethics to create a framework that can be used by psychotherapists and counsellors in helping their clients or themselves to live flourishing lives It provides a clear discussion of Aristotle's key ideas about virtue and the good life and places these within the context of other philosophical and psychological theories both ancient and contemporary It goes on to address the practical relevance of these ideas to the everyday work of the therapist providing suggestions for practice and a number of useful exercises These will be particularly helpful for practitioners working with issues such as
