Zenilman, Mark R. Katlic, 2013-06-29 More than two decades ago in response to the special healthcare needs of the aging American population interest in the field of geriatric medicine began to grow and blossom in the United States In 1984 and 1985 under the editorial leadership of Christine K Cassel and William R Hazzard respectively two major textbooks devoted to the medical care of aged patients were published These scholarly comprehensive texts provided insight into the principles of aging and guidance in the care of the geriatric patient Three editions later the need to understand the special issues involved in the medical care of the elderly is widely accepted by internists primary care providers and medical specialists For the editors of this book the special issues involved in the surgical care of the elderly have been apparent for nearly as long Although there have been a few scholarly texts on the subject including one in 1990 by Mark R Katlic general acceptance of the concept of geriatric surgery by our surgical and medical colleagues has however lagged This is not the result of a proportionately smaller number of older patients with surgical disease because cancer cardiovascular disease and orthopedic problems are diseases of the aged It is rather the result of uncertainty about the value of surgery in the elderly and concerns about the risks of operations In the past such concerns prevented primary care givers from referring patients for surgical care and prevented surgeons from agreeing to operate Sociological Practice ,1994 Advanced Practice Nursing in the Care of Older Adults Larue Kennedy-Malone,Lori Martin-Plank,Evelyn Duffy,2018-10-31 Meet the diverse health care needs of older adults Explore effective ways to enhance the wellness and independence of older adults across the wellness illness continuum including acute primary and long term care From an overview of the theories of aging and assessment through the treatment of disorders including complex illnesses this evidence based book provides the comprehensive gerontological coverage you need to prepare for your role as an Advanced Practice Nurse You ll be prepared for boards and for practice Respiratory Care: Principles and Practice Dean R.
