Qasr Kharana in the Transjordan Stephen K. Urice, 1988-01-01      Qasr Kharana Stephen K. Urice, 1981      The Oxford Dictionary of Late Antiquity Oliver Nicholson, 2018-04-19 The Oxford Dictionary of Late Antiquity is the first comprehensive reference book covering every aspect of history culture religion and life in Europe the Mediterranean and the Near East including the Persian Empire and Central Asia between the mid 3rd and the mid 8th centuries AD the era now generally known as Late Antiquity This period saw the re establishment of the Roman Empire its conversion to Christianity and its replacement in the West by Germanic kingdoms the continuing Roman Empire in the Eastern Mediterranean the Persian Sassanian Empire and the rise of Islam Consisting of over 1 5 million words in more than 5 000 A Z entries and written by more than 400 contributors it is the long awaited middle volume of a series bridging a significant period of history between those covered by the acclaimed Oxford Classical Dictionary and The Oxford Dictionary of the Middle Ages The scope of the Dictionary is broad and multi disciplinary across the wide geographical span covered from Western Europe and the Mediterranean as far as the Near East and Central Asia it provides succinct and pertinent information on political history law and administration military history religion and philosophy education social and economic history material culture art and architecture science literature and many other areas Drawing on the latest scholarship and with a formidable international team of advisers and contributors The Oxford Dictionary of Late Antiquity aims to establish itself as the essential reference companion to a period that is attracting increasing attention from scholars and students worldwide      Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan, Volume 4: The Early Islamic House Michèle Daviau, 2009-11-23 Much of the archaeology of Late Antique period remains in Jordan has concentrated on public buildings churches mosques theatres baths and their major architectural features such as mosaic floors In this fourth report of the excavations at Tall Jawa in central Jordan a single house with a rich repertoire of pottery mould made lamps glass and a small coin hoard appears to span the transition period from the Late Byzantine to the Early Islamic period Details of the construction of the building itself and of its mosaic pavements the technology of its ceramic corpus analysis of its inscribed lamps painted plaster objects and a small coin hoard all contribute to an understanding of village life for people during a period of linguistic religious and political transition The publication of Excavations at Tall Jawa Jordan Volume 4 The Early Islamic House is an important contribution that adds not only to the growing body of evidence for central Transjordan but also to our understanding of non urban Islamic archaeology and the seventh to eighth century transition Asa Eger University of North Carolina at Greensboro      Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan P. M. Michèle Daviau, 2009-11-01 This book presents the fourth volume of excavations of a Late Antique house in central Jordan with a detailed study of its construction and contents including its mosaic floors pottery coins inscribed lamps in Greek and Arabic as an example of material culture during a period of cultural change includes multimedia data images on DVD      Landscapes of the Islamic World Stephen McPhillips, Paul D. the past have often been characterized as urban with rural and other extra urban landscapes cast in a lesser or supporting role in the studies of Islamic history and archaeology Yet throughout history the countryside was frequently an engine of economic activity the setting for agricultural and technological innovation and its inhabitants were frequently agents of social and political change The Islamic city is increasingly viewed in the context of long and complex processes of urban development Archaeological evidence calls for an equally nuanced reading of shifting cultural and religious practices in rural areas after the middle of the seventh century Landscapes of the Islamic World presents new work by twelve authors on the archaeology history and ethnography of the Islamic world in the Middle East the Arabian Peninsula and Central Asia The collection looks beyond the city to engage with the predominantly rural and pastoral character of premodern Islamic society Editors Stephen McPhillips and Paul D Wordsworth group the essays into four thematic sections harnessing and living with water agriculture pastoralism and rural subsistence commerce production and the rural economy and movement and memory in the rural landscape Each contribution addresses aspects of extra urban life in challenging new ways blending archaeological material culture textual sources and ethnography to construct holistic studies of landscapes Modern agrarian practices and population growth have accelerated the widespread destruction of vast tracts of ancient medieval and early modern landscapes highlighting the urgency of scholarship in this field This book makes an original and important contribution to a growing subject area and represents a step toward a more inclusive understanding of the historical landscapes of Islam Contributors Pernille Bangsgaard Karin Bartl Jennie N Bradbury Robin M Brown Alison L Gascoigne Ian W N Jones Phillip G Macumber Daniel Mahoney Stephen McPhillips Astrid Meier David C Thomas Bethany J Walker Alan Walmsley Tony J Wilkinson Paul D Wordsworth Lisa Yeomans

Competitive Archaeology in Jordan Elena Corbett, 2015-01-15 An examination of archaeology in Jordan and Palestine Competitive Archaeology in Jordan explores how antiquities have been used to build narratives and national identities Tracing Jordanian history and the importance of Jerusalem within that history Corbett analyzes how both foreign and indigenous powers have engaged in a competition over ownership of antiquities and the power to craft history and geography based on archaeological artifacts She begins with the Ottoman and British Empires under whose rule the institutions and borders of modern Jordan began to take shape asking how they used antiquities in varying ways to advance their imperial projects Corbett continues through the Mandate era and the era of independence of an expanded Hashemite Kingdom examining how the Hashemites and other factions both within and beyond Jordan have tried to define national identity by drawing upon antiquities Competitive Archaeology in Jordan traces a complex history through the lens of archaeology s power as a modern science to create and give value to spaces artifacts peoples narratives and academic disciplines It thus considers the role of archaeology in realizing Jordan s modernity drawing its map delineating sacred and secular spaces validating taxonomies of citizens justifying legal frameworks and institutions of state determining logos of the nation for display on stamps currency and in museums and writing history Framing Jordan s history in this way Corbett illustrates the manipulation of archaeology by governments institutions and individuals to craft narratives draw borders and create national identities

The Places Where Men Pray Together Paul Wheatley, 2001 What makes a city an economic political and cultural center In The Places Where Men Pray Together Paul Wheatley draws on two decades of astonishingly wide ranging research to demonstrate that Islamic cities are defined by function rather than form by what they do rather than what they are Focusing on the roles of cities during the first four centuries of Islamic expansion Wheatley explores interconnected cultural historical economic political and religious factors to provide the clearest and most extensively documented portrait of early Islamic urban centers available to date Building on the tenth century geographer al Maqdisi s writings on urban centers of the Islamic world buttressed by extensive comparative material from roadbooks topographies histories adab literatures and gazetteers of the time Wheatley identifies the main functions of different Islamic urban centers Chapters on each of the thirteen centers that al Maqdisi identified ranging from the Atlantic to the Indus and from the Caspian to the Sudan form the heart of this book In each case Wheatley shows how specific agglomeration and accessibility factors combined to make every city functionally distinct as a creator of effective space He also demonstrates that far from revolutionizing every aspect of life in these cities the adoption of Islam often affected the development of these cities less than previously existing local traditions The Places Where Men Pray Together is a monumental work that will speak to scholars and readers across a broad variety of disciplines from historians anthropologists and sociologists to religious historians archaeologists and geographers

Arts of Allusion Margaret S. Graves, 2018-07-31 The art of the object reached unparalleled heights in the medieval Islamic world yet the intellectual dimensions of ceramics metalwares and other plastic arts in this milieu have not always been acknowledged Arts of Allusion reveals the object as a crucial site where pre modern craftsmen of the eastern Mediterranean and Persianate realms engaged in fertile dialogue with poetry literature painting and perhaps most strikingly architecture Lanterns fashioned after miniature shrines incense burners in the form of domed monuments earthenware jars articulated with arches and windows inkwells that allude to tents through close studies of objects from the ninth to the thirteenth centuries this book reveals that allusions to architecture abound across media in the portable arts of the medieval Islamic world Arts of Allusion draws upon a broad range of material evidence as well as medieval texts to locate its subjects in a cultural landscape where the material visual and verbal realms were intertwined Moving far beyond the initial identification of architectural types with their miniature counterparts in the plastic arts Margaret Graves develops a series of new frameworks for exploring the intelligent art of the allusive object These address materiality representation and perception and examine contemporary literary and poetic paradigms of metaphor description and indirect reference as tools for approaching the plastic arts Arguing for the role of the intellect in the applied arts and for the communicative potential of ornament Arts of Allusion asserts the reinstatement of craftsmanship into Islamic intellectual history
