Becoming a mother Carla Pascoe Leahy, 2023-04-04 Becoming a mother charts the diverse and complex history of Australian mothering for the first time exposing the ways it has been both connected to and distinct from parallel developments in other industrialised societies In many respects the historical context in which Australian women come to motherhood has changed dramatically since 1945 And yet examination of the memories of multiple maternal generations reveals surprising continuities in the emotions and experiences of first time motherhood Drawing upon interdisciplinary insights from anthropology history psychology and sociology Carla Pascoe Leahy unpacks this multifaceted rite of passage through more than 60 oral history interviews demonstrating how maternal memories continue to influence motherhood today Despite radical shifts in understandings of gender care and subjectivity becoming a mother remains one of the most personally and culturally significant moments in a woman s life

Slick Spins and Fractured

Facts Caryl Rivers, 1996 French rule in Syria and Lebanon coincided with the rise of colonial resistance around the world and with profound social trauma after World War I. In this tightly argued study Elizabeth Thompson shows how Syrians and Lebanese mobilized like other colonized peoples to claim the terms of citizenship enjoyed in the European metropole. The negotiations between the French and citizens of the Mandate set the terms of politics for decades after Syria and Lebanon achieved independence in 1946. Colonial Citizens highlights gender as a central battlefield upon which the relative rights and obligations of states and citizens were established. The participants in this struggle included not only elite nationalists and French rulers but also new mass movements of women workers, youth, and Islamic populists. The author examines the gendered battles fought over France's paternalistic policies in health, education, labor, and the press. Two important and enduring political structures issued from these conflicts: First, a colonial welfare state emerged by World War II that recognized social rights of citizens to health, education, and labor protection. Second, tacit gender pacts were forged first by the French and then reaffirmed by the nationalist rulers of the independent states. These gender pacts represented a compromise among male political rivals who agreed to exclude and marginalize female citizens in public life. This study provides a major contribution to the social construction of gender in nationalist and postcolonial discourse. Returning workers, low-ranking religious figures, and most of all women to the narrative history of the region, figures usually omitted, Colonial Citizens enhances our understanding of the interwar period in the Middle East, providing needed context for a better understanding of statebuilding, nationalism, Islam, and gender since World War II.

The Big Book of Children's Reading Lists
Nancy J. Keane, 2006-04-30 Use these 100 handy reproducible book lists to instantly create handouts for teachers and parents as well as for older readers to add to your newsletter or to post on your Web site or bulletin board. Based on the most common needs of educators and librarians who work with young readers, these lists focus on new titles as well as classics that are still in print and readily available for purchase. Fiction and nonfiction titles for ages 5-14 are covered. Bibliographic information and a brief description are given for each title. A dozen bookmarks are also included. This is a great time-saving tool and a good source for finding extended reading lists and read-alikes. Looking for folktales from China for elementary children? An informational children's book for a middle school science class? A list of books on the topic of compassion? A sampling of ABC books? These lists and more can be found in Nancy Keane's treasury of great reading lists for children. This versatile guide provides reproducible book lists based on the most common needs of educators and librarians who work with young readers. There are lists for standard curriculum areas (e.g., math, social studies, science) and other areas of study such as character education and values; genres (e.g., pop-up, memoirs, ABC books); themes (e.g., animals, food, sports); and read-alikes on bookmarks. You'll find 100 reproducible lists of fiction and nonfiction books for ages 5-14, elementary, middle, and high school that you can use to create handouts for teachers and parents as well as for older readers. Put in your newsletter or post on your Web site or bulletin board. Focus is on new titles and classics that are still in print and readily available for purchase. On each list, titles are grouped according to grade level Room to customize with your library logo or clipart is provided on each reproducible sheet Bibliographic information and a brief description are given for each title A dozen bookmarks are also included This is a great time saving tool and a good source for finding extended reading lists and read alike Grades K 8 Quiz Kids Martin A. Parent Janis Clark Johnston,2013-04-04 While advice abounds from a variety of sources before parents embark on their parenting journeys the only parent preparation we actually receive comes from our family and peer stories Yet most adults do not realize that in day to day challenges of guiding our children something interesting happens As we steer our children through life we reopen our own childhood roads Just when our child most needs us we become needy ourselves as adults and parents we find that we have unresolved raising issues basic needs that were not met in our childhoods Our needs and memories echo and influence many of the parenting decisions we make even though we re unaware of those influences at times Fortunately children help parents reach their needs as much as their parents help them fulfill their own Our child ends up guiding us by connecting us to some earlier time in our life when we encountered distress We dredge up a lesson and we adapt by adhering to or changing the story that we tell ourselves about who we are We re negotiate the five basic needs that surface from our childhood memories as our youngsters pass through each of the developmental phases The self aware parent focuses on creative problem solving by focusing on one interaction at a time It Takes a Child to Raise a Parent offers an exploration of how our own childhood memories and needs influence and shape our parenting decisions in our adult lives Offering tips stories from a variety of families and step by step exercises Janis Johnston helps parents better understand and grasp the tools necessary to face parenting challenges head on and to explore new ways of understanding ourselves our children and our family interactions Expectant parents and current parents interested in understanding their own personality development as well as the many moods of childhood and their own children will find clear guidelines for understanding their roles in their children s lives as well as concrete suggestions for how to navigate the choppy waters of raising children
