Vance Smith, Smith offers a theoretical understanding of beginning that departs from the structuralisms of Edward Said the traditional formalisms of A D Nuttall and most medievalist and modernist treatments of closure Instead he views a work's beginning as a figure of the beginning of the work itself and the inception of language as the problem of beginning to which we continually return BOOK JACKET Everyday and Prophetic Nick Halpern, 2003 Everyday and Prophetic is the first book to describe and analyze at length the prophetic voice and the everyday voice in postwar and contemporary American poetry Nick Halpern's commentaries on the work of Robert Lowell A R Ammons James Merrill Adrienne Rich Jorie Graham and Louise Gl ck serve the reader with a fresh and original context in which to see their work and Postwar American poetry as a whole Tropes, Parables, and Performatives J. Hillis Miller, 1991-12-06 Tropes Parables Performatives collects J Hillis Miller's essays on seven major twentieth century authors Lawrence Kafka Stevens Williams Woolf Hardy and Conrad For all their evident differences these essays from early to late explore a single intuition about literature which may be framed by three words trope parable and performative Throughout these essays Miller is fascinated with the tropological dimension of literary language with the way figures of speech turn aside the telling of a story or the presentation of a literary theme The exploration of this turning leads to the recognition that all works of literature are parabolic thrown beside their real meaning They tell one story but call forth something else Miller further agrees that all parables are fundamentally performative They do not merely name something or give knowledge but rather use words to make something happen to get the reader from here to there Each essay here attempts to formulate what in a given case the reader performatively enters by way of parabolic trope Oral Poetry and Narratives from Central
