Reading Matthew David E. Garland, 2001 Reading Matthew provides thorough guidance through Matthew's story of Jesus Garland's commentary reveals the movement of the story's plot while also highlighting the theology of Matthew Reading Matthew is an essential book for students and ministers studying the first Gospel Reading Matthew David E. Garland, 2014-05-14 Reading Matthew provides thorough guidance through Matthew's story of Jesus Garland's commentary reveals the movement of the story's plot while also highlighting the theology of Matthew Reading Matthew is an essential book for students and ministers studying the first Gospel Reading Matthew as the Climactic Fulfillment of the Hebrew Story Martin Spadaro, 2015-09-09 This book is a reading of Matthew's Gospel as though it were written to integrate with advance and conclude the existing body of Scriptures Matthew is read as though John was the last prophet of God and Israel's last chance for repentance and that Jesus was YHWH who had come to judge the Temple priesthood and covenant nation according to the terms of the covenant God made with Moses at Sinai Through this lens new interpretations are given to the infancy narrative the Sermon on the Mount the mission the parables and Jesus arrival in Jerusalem along with the events that followed By reading Matthew this way a greater appreciation can be gained for its necessary place in the canon and many of Matthew's well known conundrums can be meaningfully addressed As a Hebrew document Matthew understood the necessity to record the crimes against YHWH Jesus in Israel and Jerusalem as the ultimate cause for the termination of the ethnically and geographically bound covenant which could then be replaced by the cross cultural and international covenant that Christians now enjoy Reading Matthew for the First Time Wilfrid J. Unexpected New Life Matthew J. Marohl, 2012-01-18 from expected death comes unexpected new life The Gospel of Matthew does not shy away from the realities of struggle suffering doubt and death Yet from the first names in the genealogy to the last words spoken by Jesus the Gospel testifies to the promise that from expected death comes unexpected new life Through the actions of Tamar Rahab Ruth and Bathsheba we experience the expectation of death and the promise of unexpected new life In the birth story of Jesus Joseph suspects Mary of committing adultery It is this dilemma that is the focus of the narrative If he reveals her pregnancy she could be killed If he conceals her pregnancy he will be going against the law of the Lord What is a righteous man to do In Joseph's dilemma this experience of expected death the Gospel of Matthew proclaims the promise of unexpected new life The promise of unexpected new life is a theme that continues throughout Matthew's Gospel in the life and ministry of Jesus The call of his disciples is a call from death to new life The teaching of Jesus focuses on the experience of death and the promise of new life In both healing and curing

Jesus brings unexpected new life to those who face death But it is the death and resurrection of Jesus that is the climax of unexpected new life in the Gospel of Matthew Even as Jesus experiences a most horrific and humiliating death in the crucifixion death and the grave do not have the final say In bearing witness to Jesus resurrection the Gospel of Matthew proclaims the magnificent promise of unexpected new life Matthew J Marohl invites you in these pages to read the Gospel of Matthew in a new way from a fresh perspective Integrating insights from the study of Mediterranean anthropology Marohl makes the cultural world of the Gospel come alive so that as you read Matthew again or perhaps for the first time you will certainly experience the powerful promise that from expected death comes unexpected new life

A Transformative Reading of the Bible Yung Suk Kim,2013-04-17 In A Transformative Reading of the Bible Yung Suk Kim raises critical questions about human transformation in biblical studies What is transformation How are we transformed when we read biblical stories Are all transformative aspects equally valid What kind of relationships exists between self neighbor and God if transformation is involved in these three Who or what is being changed or who or what are we changing What degree of change might be considered transformative Kim explores a dynamic cyclical process of human transformation and argues that healthy transformation involves three kinds of transformation psycho theological ontological theological and political theological transformation With insights gained from phenomenological studies political theology and psychotheology Kim proposes a new model for how to read the Bible transformatively as he dares to read Hannah Psalm 13 the Gospel of Mark and Paul as stories of transformation The author invites Christian readers theological educators and scholars to reexamine the idea of transformation and to engage biblical stories from the perspective of holistic human transformation

The Lord's Prayer and the Sermon on the Mount in Matthew's Gospel Charles Nathan Ridlehoover,2019-12-26 Charles Nathan Ridlehoover examines the Lord s Prayer in Matthew s Gospel focusing on the prayer s centrality and showing how this centrality affects our reading of the Sermon on the Mount and subsequently the prayer itself. Ridlehoover argues that the Lord's Prayer is structurally, lexically and thematically central to the Sermon on the Mount and the means through which disciples of Jesus are empowered to live out the kingdom righteousness it defines. In turn, the Sermon on the Mount clarifies what the answer to the petitions of the Lord's Prayer might look like in the life of the disciple of Jesus. Whilst the centrality of the Lord's Prayer has been noted by previous commentators, this centrality and its intended purpose has not hitherto been defined or examined in great depth. Ridlehoover fills this gap with a closely argued and in-depth study ranging from methodology and the structure of the prayer itself to examining the Father's forgiveness and evil petitions and the relevance of word and deed for hearers and doers. Ridlehoover's examination of the relationship between the Sermon and Prayer advances studies in compositional criticism and intratextuality.

The Colonization of Land in Matthew's Gospel Maziél Barreto Dani, 2024-08-19 In The Colonization of Land in Matthew's Gospel Maziél Barreto Dani proposes that land is constructed as a colonized and subjugated entity. Traditional scholarship claims that the Gospel of Matthew is detached from spatial territorial discussions and that geographical land concerns are displaced with Christology. Dani, however, reinterprets multiple implicit and explicit references to land in the Gospel to show continuity rather than discontinuity with the Hebrew Bible's concerns with material land promises. She does so by engaging the Gospel within its broader Roman, Hellenistic and Jewish contexts where the theme of land possession is pervasive. Central to the Gospel and the imperial contexts from which it emerges are contestations over the land and proclamations to whom the land belongs. Dani argues that while Judea and neighboring lands are under the firm control of Roman imperial power during the first century CE, Matthew's Gospel envisions Rome's demise and the control of land being transferred to an alternative empire governed by the sovereign rule of God. Though God liberates the land from Rome's oppressive grasp and restores land promises to the righteous poor at Jesus' return, the land fails to escape colonial control. That is, the world while relinquished from Roman hegemony is reasserted under God's power and domination. In arguing that Matthew's Gospel employs an imperializing agenda involving land reclamation, the Gospel may be a source for validating and justifying the modern colonization of foreign and occupied land under the guise of God's purposes. The Colonization of Land in Matthew's Gospel challenges colonial ideologies which oppress not only peoples but the lands which they inhabit.

Searching the Scriptures Craig A. Evans, Jeremiah J. Johnston, 2015-11-19 This work critically engages the hermeneutical methods used to analyse the New Testament writings so that the lenses through which studies of the texts have been traditionally viewed can be revised. Jeremy Hultin contributes an article on the rhetorical use of the chosen citations by Jewish rabbis in their commentary on scripture while Mark Gignilliat writes on the potential implications for viewing Old Testament Scripture in the manner of the early Church exegetes and theologians. With these two contributions providing a frame for the other chapters, the essays explore a range of topics including the significance of the number 42 in Matthew, the study of Wisdom in Matthew, the extent to which the four gospels are underlined by Hebrew material if any the use of Hebrew material in shaping New Testament writings and the uses of Scripture in the letters of Paul and the letters to the Hebrews Read separately these articles provide fascinating insights and revisions to established ideas on intertextuality between the Old Hebrew Bible and the New Testament writings Taken together the collection presents a solid argument for the fundamental revision of our current hermeneutical practice in Biblical Studies

Resolving the Tension of Jesus's Mission in Matthew's Ancient Biography Jerry D. Breen, 2024-10-03 Jerry D Breen argues that reading Matthew and all the Gospels as ancient biography is the necessary next step for Gospel studies In particular Breen contends that more specific comparisons should be made between the Gospels and ancient literature Breen stresses that this reading invites narrative critics to place more emphasis on examining the use of sources and the importance of intertextual and historical information that the author introduces to the text Breen places emphasis on the relationship between Jews and non Jews in ancient Galilee and Palestine and challenges the long supported theory that Jesus did not minister to non Jews beyond two or three exceptions Demonstrating that Jesus is inclusive of everyone who comes to him even though he was sent primarily to the Jews Breen argues that the portrait which Matthew creates is one of a Jewish Messiah who is on a mission to restore Israel so that the restored people of God can bless the nations Concluding that rather than two conflicting missions the audience of the gospel is encouraged to view the healing of non Jews during Jesus s ministry as further proof that the Jewish Messiah is bringing restoration to Israel

How to Read the Gospels Yung Suk Kim, 2024-05-29 This accessible introduction to the Gospels examines the distinctive messages offered by the texts giving students a better understanding of methods and interpretations It explores a close reading of each Gospel and encourages students to

Piotrowski,2016-09-07 Matthew crowds more Old Testament quotations and allusions into the prologue than anywhere else in his gospel In this volume Nicholas G Piotrowski demonstrates the narratological and rhetorical effects of such frontloading Particularly seven formula quotations constellate to establish a redemptive historical setting inside of which the rest of the narrative operates This setting is defined by Old Testament expectations for David s great son to end Israel s exile and rule the nations Piotrowski contends that the rhetorical effect of this intertextual storytelling was to provide the Matthean community with an identity in a contentious atmosphere in terms of God s historical design for the ages now fulfilled in Jesus and his followers Mothers on the Margin? E. Anne Clements,2014-05-01 The Gospel of Matthew opens with a patrilineal genealogy of Jesus that intriguingly includes five women Tamar Rahab Ruth she of Uriah and Mary In a gospel that has a strongly Jewish and male orientated outlook why are women incorporated In particular why include these four Old Testament women alongside Mary Rejecting traditional as well as feminist views Anne Clements undertakes a close literary reading of the narratives to discern how each woman is characterized and presented All are significant scriptural figures on the margins of Israelite society From this intertextual world established by Matthew Clements explores why Matthew may have named these women in the opening genealogy and what implications their inclusion may have for the ongoing gospel narrative Mothers on the Margin argues that Matthew s Gospel contains a counter narrative focused on women The presence of the five women in the genealogy indicates that the birth of the Messiah will bring about a crisis in Israel s identity in terms of ethnicity marginality and gender The women signal that Matthew s Gospel is concerned with the construal of a new identity for the people of God
