Quintana, 2003-03-18 This essential teaching guide focuses on an emerging body of literature by U S Latina and Latin American Women writers It will assist non specialist educators in syllabus revision new course design and classroom presentation The inclusive focus of the book that is combining both US Latina and Latin American women writers is significant because it introduces a more global and transnational way of approaching the literature The introduction outlines the major historical experiences that inform the literature the important genres periods movements and authors in its evolution the traditions and influences that shape the works and key critical issues of which teachers should be aware The collection seeks to provide readers with a variety of Latina texts that will guarantee its long term usefulness to teachers and students of pan American literature Because it is no longer possible to understand U S Latina literature without taking into consideration the histories and cultures of Latin America the volume will through its organization argue for a more globalized type of analysis which considers the similarities as well as the differences in U S and Latin American women s cultural productions In this context the term Latina evokes a diasporic transnational condition in order to address some of the pedagogical issues posed by the bicultural nature which is inherent in pan American women s literature

Matria Redux Tegan Zimmerman, 2023-06-23 In Matria Redux Caribbean Women Novelize the Past author Tegan Zimmerman contends that there is a need for reading Caribbean women s texts relationally This comprehensive study argues that the writer s turn to maternal histories constitutes the definitive feature of this transcultural and transnational genre Through an array of Caribbean women s historical novels published roughly between 1980 and 2010 this book formulates the theory of matria an imagined maternal space and time as a postcolonial psychoanalytic feminist framework for reading fictions of maternal history written by and about Caribbean women Tracing the development of the historical novel in four periods of the Caribbean past slavery colonialism revolution and decolonization this study argues that a pan Caribbean generation of women writers of varying discursive racial ized realities has depicted similar matria constructs and maternal motifs A politicized concept matria functions in the historical novel as a counternarrative to traditional historical and literary discourses Through close readings of the mother daughter plots in contemporary Caribbean women s historical fiction such as Andrea Levy s The Long Song Edwidge Danticat s The Farming of Bones Paule Marshall s Praisesong for the Widow and Marie Elena John s Unburnable Matria Redux considers the concept of matria an important vehicle for postcolonial psychoanalytic feminist literary resistance and political intervention Matria as a psychoanalytic postcolonial strategy therefore envisions by returning to history alternative feminist fictions futures and Caribbeans

Moreno,2012 Adopting a comparative and multidisciplinary approach to Puerto Rican literature Marisel Moreno juxtaposes narratives by insular and U S Puerto Rican women authors in order to examine their convergences and divergences By showing how these writers use the trope of family to question the tenets of racial and social harmony an idealized past and patriarchal authority that sustain the foundational myth of la gran familia she argues that this metaphor constitutes an overlooked literary contact zone between narratives from both sides Moreno proposes the recognition of a transinsular corpus to reflect the increasingly transnational character of the Puerto Rican population and addresses the need to broaden the literary canon in order to include the diaspora Drawing on the fields of historiography cultural studies and gender studies the author defies the tendency to examine these literary bodies independently of one another and therefore aims to present a more nuanced and holistic vision of this literature

Mercado-López, 2016-08-10 This book broadens the scope of Latina/o criticism to include both widely read and understudied nineteenth through twenty-first century fictional works that engage in critical discussions of gender race sexuality and identity The essays in this collection do not simply seek inclusion for the texts they critically discuss but suggest that we more thoughtfully consider the utility of mapping whether we are mapping land borders time migration or connections and disconnections across time and space Using new and rigorous methodological approaches to reading Latina/o literature contributors reveal a varied and textured landscape challenging us to reconsider the process and influence of literary production across borders Feminist Cyberspaces Sharon Collingwood, Alvina E. Quintana, Caroline J. Smith, 2012-01-17 Feminist Cyberspaces Pedagogies in Transition is a collection of essays exploring the ways in which new media technologies are being used in the feminist classroom The collection has been structured to reflect the multifaceted nature of education today Learning takes place on a personal level through independent study and social media it takes place at a local level in our classrooms and lecture halls but it is also increasingly taking place on a global scale as new technologies foster international collaboration between individuals and organizations In addition there is a growing acceptance of learning in the collaborative 3D classrooms of virtual worlds These educational spaces are not mutually exclusive as the contributions to this volume make clear The anthology explores how technology is being used in antiviolence teaching art education HIV and AIDS education and other specialized topics but it also gives many examples of innovations in teaching introductory courses The technology used ranges from the implementation of course management systems for large university classes to the use of digital storytelling in small groups outside the university It also explores technology for removing barriers to people with disabilities in both traditional and online classrooms The collection is not a how to book but it does use practical experience as a basis for feminist theorizing of the classroom All of the essays look at the use of new technology in the light of feminist pedagogy seeking new ways to foster provocative creative and non hierarchical learning that transcends the physical boundaries of the university The Routledge Handbook of Latinx Life Writing Maria Joaquina Villaseñor,Christine J.
