Modernism and Theology Joanna Rzepa, 2021-03-16 This is the first book length study to examine the interface between literary and theological modernisms It provides a comprehensive account of literary responses to the modernist crisis in Christian theology from a transnational and interdenominational perspective It offers a cultural history of the period considering a wide range of literary and historical sources including novels drama poetry literary criticism encyclicals theological and philosophical treatises periodical publications and wartime propaganda By contextualising literary modernism within the cultural religious and political landscape the book reveals fundamental yet largely forgotten connections between literary and theological modernisms It shows that early twentieth century authors poets and critics including Rainer Maria Rilke T S Eliot and Czes aw Mi osz actively engaged with the debates between modernist and neo scholastic theologians raging across Europe These debates contributed to developing new ways of thinking about the relationship between religion and literature and informed contemporary critical writings on aesthetics and poetics

The Translingual Imagination Steven G. Kellman, 2000-01-01 It is difficult to write well even in one language Yet a rich body of translingual literature by authors who write in more than one language or in a language other than their primary one exists The Translingual Imagination is a pioneering study of the phenomenon which is as ancient as the use of Arabic Latin Mandarin Persian and Sanskrit as linguae francae Colonialism war mobility and the aesthetics of alienation have combined to create a modern translingual canon Opening with an overview of this vast subject Steven G Kellman then looks at the differences between ambilinguals those who write authoritatively in more than one language and monolingual translinguals those who write in only one language but not their native one Kellman offers compelling analyses of the translingual situations of African and Jewish authors and of achievements by authors as varied as Mary Antin Samuel Beckett Louis Begley J M Coetzee Joseph Conrad Eva Hoffman Vladimir Nabokov and John Sayles While separate studies of individual translingual authors have long been available this is the first in depth study of the general phenomenon of translingual literature

Rainer Maria Rilke, 1893-1908: Poetry as Process - A Poetics of Becoming Ben Hutchinson,2017-12-02 Rainer Maria Rilkes early verse is often seen as having little relevance to the great achievement of the middle years the Neue Gedichte Yet the very different styles of the juvenilia and this new maturity are united by a preoccupation with processes of motion and growth which governs both his life and work In this meticulous philological study Ben Hutchinson reassesses every level of Rilkes early poetry from its motives and metaphors to its very grammar and syntax in order to trace what he terms a poetics of becoming With careful attention to rhythm resonance and linguistic detail he illuminates both the hidden patterns of the poetry and the artistic context of the fin de siècle From its roots in the intellectual climate of the 1890s to the poems inspired by Rodin in 1908 Rilkes stylistic development is set against the surprising consistency with which he pursues this poetics of becoming

Reading with a Difference Arthur F. Marotti,1993 Reading with a Difference is a collection of eighteen essays that examines how issues of gender race and cultural identity inform texts from the seventeenth century to the present Together the contributions document recent significant shifts occurring in the theoretical approach to the texts they study and illustrate how shifts in each of these categories affect how the others are viewed The first section of this anthology explores the notion that identity particularly gender identity is a cultural construct The essays in the second section consider ways in which race and gender intersect with cultural identity and how encounters between different cultures challenge any identity constructed in isolation First published in the journal Criticism these essays offer no blueprint for reading Instead they encourage a rereading of canonical texts and a questioning of how these texts face matters of gender race and cultural identity how they respond to the differences and the incongruities within the cultures from which they arise and to which they speak
