Religious Transformation in the Late Pre-Hispanic Pueblo World Donna M. Glowacki, Scott Van Keuren, 2012-02-01 The mid thirteenth century AD marks the beginning of tremendous social change among Ancestral Pueblo peoples of the northern US Southwest that foreshadow the emergence of the modern Pueblo world Regional depopulations long distance migrations and widespread resettlement into large plaza oriented villages forever altered community life Archaeologists have tended to view these historical events as adaptive responses to climatic environmental and economic conditions Recently however more attention is being given to the central role of religion during these transformative periods and to how archaeological remains embody the complex social practices through which Ancestral Pueblo understandings of sacred concepts were expressed and transformed The contributors to this volume employ a wide range of archaeological evidence to examine the origin and development of religious ideologies and the ways they shaped Pueblo societies across the Southwest in the centuries prior to European contact With its fresh theoretical approach it contributes to a better understanding of both the Pueblo past and the anthropological study of religion in ancient contexts This volume will be of interest to both regional specialists and to scholars who work with the broader dimensions of religion and ritual in the human experience Ritual and Christian Beginnings Risto Uro, 2016-04-28 The rise of early Christianity has been examined from a myriad of perspectives but until recently ritual has been a neglected topic Ritual and Christian Beginnings A Socio Cognitive Analysis argues that ritual theory is indispensable for the study of Christian beginnings It also makes a strong case for the application of theories and insights from the Cognitive Science of Religion a field that has established itself as a vigorous movement in Religious Studies over the past two decades Risto Uro develops a socio cognitive approach to the study of early Christian rituals seeking to integrate a social level analysis with findings from the cognitive and evolutionary sciences Ritual and Christian Beginnings provides an overview of how ritual has been approached in previous scholarship including reasons for its neglect and introduces the reader to the emerging fields of Ritual Studies and the Cognitive Science of Religion In particular it explores the ways in which cognitive theories of ritual can shed new light on issues discussed by early Christian scholars and opens up new questions and avenues for further research The socio cognitive approach to ritual is applied to a number of test cases including John the Baptist the ritual healing practiced by Jesus and the early Christians the social life of Pauline Christianity and the development of early Christian baptismal practices The analysis creates building blocks for a new account of Christian beginnings highlighting the role of ritual innovation cooperative signalling and the importance of bodily actions for the generation and transmission of religious knowledge Zoroastrian Rituals in Context Michael Stausberg,2004 Rituals play a prominent role in Zoroastrianism one of the oldest religious traditions of mankind In this book scholars from a broad range of disciplines make the first ever collective effort to discuss Zoroastrian rituals in different historical contexts and geographical settings

Leyten,2023 What is the meaning of masks and masquerades in African traditions and how can we understand their role in rituals and performances Why do we find masks in some African regions and not in others and what does this mask habitat say about the general dynamics of masquerades in Africa Though masks are among the most famous art icons of Africa exploration of their uses and the way in which they articulate social characteristics of African societies has been underexamined This book takes an anthropological perspective on the phenomenon of masquerades on the African continent to show how mask rituals are an integral part of African indigenous religions and societies and are informed by and linked to specific types of social and ecological conditions Having established the commonalities of mask rituals and a mask typology the authors look at the varieties of mask performances and the types of rituals in which masks function in rites of passage and in rituals of gender power and identity
