Writing about Signs/Signifiers

What is semiotics?

Semiotics is the study of signs and symbols and their use of interpretation. Usually, semiotic analysis studies the roles of signs and the part they play on a social and cultural scale.

What is a sign/signifier?

- A sign is the smallest unit of meaning.
- In order to create or define a sign, you will need two pieces:
 - The signifier (any material or physical form of the sign - the object that exists)
 - The signified (a cultural or social concept that a signifier refers to - what it means)

The diagrams above are examples of the "Saussurean" models (named after Ferdinand de Saussure, who helped create the model).

- The tree represents the concept of what we think about when we hear the word "tree." (the signified)
- The sound of the word "tree" - or reading the word in print - brings up the mental image of the tree.
- The tree represents the concept of what we think about when we hear the word "tree." (the signified)

The diagram above is an example of the "Saussurean" model (named after Ferdinand de Saussure, who helped create the model).

The Semiotic Sphere Thomas A. Sebeok, Jean Umiker-Sebeok, 2012-12-06 Although semiotics has in one guise or another flourished uninterruptedly since pre Socratic times in the West and important semiotic themes have emerged and developed independently in both the Brahmanic and Buddhist traditions semiotics as an organized undertaking began to flourish only in the 1960s Workshops materialized with a perhaps surprising spontaneity over much of Europe Eastern and Western and in North America Thereafter others quickly surfaced almost everywhere over the literate globe Different places strategically allied themselves with different legacies but all had a common thrust to aim at a general theory of signs by way of a description of different sign systems their comparative analysis and their classification More or less permanent confederations were forged with the most diverse academic disciplines and amazingly varied frameworks were devised suited to the needs of the times and the sites to carry the work of consolidation forward Bit by bit mutually supportive international networks were put together Today it can truly be asserted that semiotics has become a global enterprise This of course is far from saying that the map is uniform or even that world wide homogeneity is in the least desirable While our conjoint ultimate goal remains steadily in focus the multiplicity of avenues available for its realization is inherent in the advent ure of the search itself
