Sebeok, Jean Umiker-Sebeok, 2011-10-13 No detailed description available for The Semiotic Web 1989 The Semiotic Bridge Irmengard Rauch, Gerald F. Carr, 1989 Ethnography and Law Eve Darian-Smith, 2017-11-30 Ethnographies of law are historically associated with anthropology and the study of far away places and people In contrast this volume underscores the importance of ethnographic research in analyzing law in all societies particularly complex developed nations By exploring recent ethnographic research by socio legal scholars across a range of disciplines the volume highlights how an ethnographic approach helps in appreciating the realities of legal pluralism the subtle contradictions in any legal system and how legal meaning is constantly reproduced on the ground through the cultural frames and practices of peoples everyday lives Archaeological Semiotics Robert W. Preucel, 2010-04-26 This interdisciplinary book examines archaeology s engagement with semiotics from its early structuralist beginnings to its more recent Peircian encounters It represents the first sustained engagement with Peircian semiotics in archaeology as well as the first discussion of how pragmatic anthropology articulates with anthropological archaeology Its central thesis is that archaeology is a distinctive kind of semiotic enterprise one devoted to giving meaning to the past in the present through the study of materiality It compliments standard studies of linguistics and reformulates contemporary theories of material culture Providing an introduction to Saussure and a review of his legacy across structural symbolic and cognitive anthropology Preucel goes on to present the Peircian alternative and highlights its influence on pragmatic anthropology Of special interest are the discussions of the interrelations of structuralism and processual archaeology poststructuralism and postprocessual archaeologies and cognitive science and cognitive archaeology The author offers two original case studies demonstrating how material culture pragmatically mediates social relations one focusing on the aftermath of the Pueblo Revolt from 1680 1694 and the other on the New England utopian community of Brook Farm from 1842 1846 Throughout his analysis Preucel emphasizes the close links between archaeology and other social sciences But he also contends that archaeology by virtue of the powerful ideological character of the past can open up new spaces for discourse and dialogue about meaning and in the process make a valuable contribution to contemporary semiotics Searching for a Self: Identity in Popular Culture, Media and Society Arthur Asa Berger, 2022-03-22 How do people turn out the way they do How do they arrive at themselves and attain an identity How are our identities affected by our birth order our hair color how tall or short we are our intelligence our

Exploring the Translatability of Emotions Susan Petrilli,Meng Ji,2022-03-09 This book offers an in depth cross cultural and transdisciplinary discussion of the translatability of social emotions The contributors are leading philosophers semioticians anthropologists communication and translation theorists from Europe America and Australia Part I explores the translatability of emotions as a culturally embedded social behaviour that requires a contextualized interpretation of their origins and development in different social and cultural settings These studies make useful preparations for the studies introduced in Part II that continue investigating the cultural and sociological influence of the development of social emotions with a special focus on the dialogical relation to the body and to others Part III presses on delving into specific types of emotions which underscore social interactions at both the community and individual levels such as dignity im politeness self regard and self esteem Finally Part IV offers a further development on the preceding parts as it discusses problems of translation expressibility and mass medial communication of emotions This book will engage translation scholars as well as those with a broader interest in the study and interpretation of emotions from different fields perspectives and disciplines

A Semiotic Approach to the Theology of Inculturation Cyril Orji, 2015-03-27 This book argues that though it is a difficult and delicate task inculturation is still a requisite demand of a World Church and that without it the church is unrecognizable and unsustainable The book also suggests that the past failures of inculturation experiments in Africa can be overcome only by critically applying the science of semiotics which can serve as an antidote to the nature of human knowing and reductionism that characterized earlier attempts to make Christianity African to the African Drawing from the semiotic works of C S Peirce Clifford Geertz and Bernard Lonergan the book shows why semiotics is best suited to an African theology of inculturation and offers ten pinpointed precepts identified as Habits which underline the attentiveness reasonableness and responsibility required in a semiotic approach to a theology of inculturation The Habits are also akin to the imperatives inherent in the notion of catholicity that catholicity is not identified with uniformity but with reconciled diversity and also that catholicity demands different forms in different places times and cultural settings
