Greece and the Cold War Alexander Kazamias, 2022-08-25 After the proclamation of the Truman Doctrine in 1947 the United States became deeply involved in Greek affairs By 1952 however the pro Western government of Marshal Papagos began to support the nationalist Enosis movement in Cyprus and called for an end to British colonial rule in the island The opposition of the US Britain and Turkey to these demands brought Greece face to face with its closest allies at the United Nations in 1954 and led to the outbreak of the first major crisis within NATO since its creation Greece and the Cold War examines these developments from the novel perspective of critical international theory and exposes the unexplored connections between dependence and nationalism in Greek foreign policy Drawing on a wide range of American British and Greek archival sources it argues that nationalism and compliance with the collective interests of NATO were two irreconcilable objectives in Greek foreign policy after 1952 At the same time the book tells the story of how the post Civil War governments of Greece for a variety of political cultural and ideological reasons treated these two objectives as essentially compatible resulting in the adoption of a dualist policy This self contradictory diplomatic doctrine which the author refers to as dependent nationalism lies at the heart of Greece's post War failures both to emancipate its politics from US intervention and to peacefully end its regional dispute with Turkey over Cyprus The book deploys an interdisciplinary approach which brings together the diverse perspectives of diplomatic history foreign policy analysis and political sociology fundamental role in the international system which is why the study of their roles in the world cannot be limited to old insufficient and contradictory categorizations Having new categories of states becomes an even more urgent task in the rapidly changing international order than it is today This book proposes nine categories of powers and states that cover all the countries that currently exist Third the international geostructure of world power is proposed which represents a new theoretical notion that helps to explain how the international insertion of states and their possibilities of action are conditioned by the unequal distribution of national power and by their structural positioning in the international system This book is for all students of International Relations academics and people who want to understand national power as a fundamental factor in relations between countries
