Sensuous Architecture The Art Of Erotic Building:

Sensuous Architecture Christian Werner Thomsen, Angela Krewani, 1998 Architecture comprises sensuous even erotic elements In this ground breaking book the authors undertake the first ever examination of this aspect of architecture Having introduced us to the concept of sensuous architecture the book presents us with a chronological analysis starting with the summer residences on the Loire and in Germany and continuing with discussions on English landscape garden and the Marquis de Sade's torture chambers before coming full circle with immaterial media architecture and cybersex Sensuous Architecture The Art of Erotic Building lends insights into the cultural history of the bathroom the erotic symbolism of towers and grottoes in various cultures and anthropomorphic architecture Examples of particularly sensuous residential buildings are certain to provide architects and their clients with stimulating ideas In a chapter on present day urban ambiances the author argues that personal well being and the general quality of life in our cities depend on architecture satisfying both the mind and the senses in equal measure Painting sculpture and wrapping art as well as the relationship between architecture and eroticism in film are examined The book concludes with a plea for an architecture of the senses Sensuous architecture; the art of erotic building C.W. Thomsen, 1998 The Everyday and Architecture, 1998 New Wombs Maria Luisa Palumbo, 2000-08-01 A sense of harmony and proportion has traditionally been achieved in architectural compositions by using the dimensions of the human body as the starting point Modern technology now enables us to go beyond these physical dimensions into a virtual world and this poses a challenge to architecture as we usually perceive it Interactive flexible and intelligent models are being called for Whilst technology is taking us into the realms of virtual reality architecture on the other hand is becoming more corporeal Postorganic is the term being used to express this merging of the body and architecture brought about by electronic media A radical change in perspective is blurring the distinction between the organic and mechanic and the artificial logic of the computer and the natural logic of man are fusing together

Flexible Forming for Fluid Architecture Arno Pronk, 2021-10-11 This book on flexible formwork for fluid architecture is a multi faceted research that covers a broad field from design to material and technology and from history to future developments It offers a pragmatic approach that can be extended with more cases materials techniques and methods for fluid architecture and provides a better understanding of the main aspects of fluid architecture and to help them find the most suitable combinations of all aspects The book is a challenging experience with many new discoveries including two patents one on moulding of fluid surfaces and one on 3D printing of fibre reinforced ice It also features two world records the largest span 30 meters and the highest thin shell structure 30.5 meters in ice as well as a method for the construction of a fully laminated shell structure in insulated glass Primal Perception Kye Anthony Archuleta, 2001 Architecture and Identity Peter Herrle, Erik Wegerhoff, 2008 This book brings together complex fields of knowledge and globally splintered discourses on a subject that is experienced not only by scholars but in the everyday lives of people around the world There is a common complaint about the loss of identity which to a substantial degree is being associated with the built environment in cities and specifically with their architecture Architecture and Identity takes a global multidisciplinary look on how identities in contemporary architecture are constructed The general hypothesis underlying this book is that in a globalized world identity in architecture cannot be easily derived from distinct indigenous patterns The book presents forty contributions from various disciplines aiming to destroy the myth of an inheritable or otherwise prefabricated identity Some authors dismantle constructs of identity that have long been considered as solid and unbreakable while others meticulously unravel the construction process of identities in Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Sensing Cities Monica Montserrat Degen, 2008-06-11 As cities globally re design their urban landscapes they produce a different urban aesthetic and create new experiential milieus Urban regeneration processes generate radical physical social and cultural changes in neighbourhoods that demand new conceptual frameworks to address their impact upon daily urban life Sensing Cities investigates the reconfiguration of contemporary public space and life through the prism of the senses The book explores how the increased stylization of cityscapes requires an understanding of public life as a spatial sensuous encounter Degen examines how power relations in public spaces are embedded in exercised and resisted through the sensuous geography of place This sensory paradigm is then applied to compare two emblematic regeneration projects namely el Raval in Barcelona and Castlefield in Manchester By combining detailed ethnographic analysis and interviews with those involved in planning regeneration processes and those experiencing them the book argues that a changing sensuous landscape is crucial in redefining people s social practices attachments and experiences in places Focusing on two European cities at the forefront of urban design Barcelona and Manchester Degen draws on sociology geography anthropology cultural and architectural studies to provide a critical account of the politics of publicness in the entrepreneurial city With numerous photographs and maps this book stresses the ongoing embodied and active nature of regeneration as a lived social process rather than merely a physical or economic exercise Ultimately Sensing Cities examines how urban regeneration is made effective through the organisation of sensory experience This book is essential reading for students and researchers of Architecture Urban Studies and Human Geography

A World Made Sexy Paul Rutherford, 2007-01-01 Eroticism is a constant presence in modern society encompassing almost every aspect of our daily lives It is a product of one of the major commercial and political enterprises of the twentieth and twenty first centuries the cultivation of desire desire for sex desire for wealth desire for entertainment Paul Rutherford s A World Made Sexy looks at modern civilization s ongoing project to manufacture and encourage public wants building a utopia where just about everyone who is affluent dreams plays and of course shops A World Made Sexy uses museum exhibitions art books magazines films and television to examine the rise and purpose of eroticism first in America but soon across the affluent world Starting with a brief foray into the representation of history as past pornography Rutherford explores a sexual liberation movement shaped by the ideas of Marx and Freud the erotic styles of Salvador Dali and pop art the pioneering use of publicity as erotica by Playboy and other products and the growing concerns of cultural critics over the emergence of a regime of stimulation In one case study Rutherford pairs James Bond and Madonna in order to examine the link between eroticism and aggression He further details how television advertising after 1980 constructed a theatre of the libido to entice the buying public and concludes by situating the Eros project in the wider context of Michel Foucault's account of the administration of life and specifically sexuality during the modern era A World Made Sexy is about power and pleasure emancipation and domination and the relationship between the personal passions and social controls that have crafted desire

Sex and Buildings Richard J. Williams, 2013-07-15 Massive modern skyscrapers obelisks towers all are structures that thanks to their phallic shape are often associated with sex But other buildings are more subtly connected as they provide the frameworks for our sexual lives and act as reminders of our sexual memories This relationship between sex and buildings mattered more than ever in the United States and Europe during the turbulent twentieth century when a culture of unprecedented sexual frankness and tolerance emerged and came to dominate many aspects of public life Part architectural history part cultural history and part travelogue Sex and Buildings explores how progressive sexual attitudes manifest themselves in architecture asking what progressive sexuality might look like architecturally and exploring the successes and failures of buildings attempts to reflect it In search of structures that reflect the sexual mores of their inhabitants Richard J Williams visits modernist buildings in Southern California the Westin Bonaventure Hotel the Playboy Mansion in Chicago the Seagram in New York communes from the 1960s and more A fascinating and often funny look at a period of extraordinary social change coupled with aesthetic invention Sex and Buildings will change the way we look at the buildings around us

Bio-Architecture Javier Senosiain, 2013-05-13 Bio Architecture studies the natural principles of animal and human constructions from several different perspectives and presents a great part of the knowledge that gives origin and shape to built form Organic architecture offers a design approach arising from natural principles bringing us back to local history tradition and cultural roots to give us built forms which are in harmony with nature It also shows how architects can take advantage of the resources that contemporary technology has placed within our grasp Bio Architecture is a unique book that studies the natural principles of animal and human constructions from several different perspectives and looks at what gives origin and shape to built form The text gives an informative inspiring overview of the drive toward organically informed design both intrinsically and aesthetically using a wide variety of international examples Javier Senosiain is an architect and an historian He has pursued his interest in Organic Architecture across the globe drawing parallels between Buckminster Fuller's Geodesic dome and the spider's web between Santiago Calatrava's Cathedral of St John in NY and the roots of a tree Where nature has inspired form Senosiain has made a career of analyzing and applying the principles he sees in some very creative writing and architecture The Architecture of Bathing Christie Pearson, 2020-10-06 A celebration of communal bathing swimming pools saunas beaches ritual baths sweat lodges and more viewed through the lens of architecture and landscape We enter the public pool the sauna or the beach with a heightened awareness of our bodies and the bodies of others The phenomenology of bathing opens all of our senses toward the physical world entwined with the social while the history of bathing is one of shared space in both natural and built environments In The Architecture of Bathing Christie Pearson offers a unique examination of communal bathing and its history from the perspective of architecture and landscape Engagingly written and richly illustrated with more than 260 illustrations many in color The Architecture of Bathing offers a celebration of spaces in which public and private sacred and profane ritual and habitual pure and impure nature and culture commingle Pearson takes a wide ranging view of her subject drawing on architecture art and literary works Each chapter is structured around an architectural typology and explores an accompanying theme for example tub sensuality river flow waterfall rejuvenation and banya immersion Offering examples introducing relevant theory and recounting personal experiences Pearson effortlessly combines a practitioner's zest with astonishing erudition As she examines these forms we see that they are inextricable from landscapes bodily practices and cultural production Looking more closely we experience architecture itself as an immersive material and social space embedded in the interdependent environmental and cultural fabric of our world

The Architecture of Transgression, 2014-01-13 Transgression suggests operating beyond accepted norms and radically reinterpreting practice by pushing at the boundaries of both what architecture is and what it could or even should be The current economic crisis and accompanying political social unrest has exacerbated the difficulty into which architecture has long been sliding challenged by other professions and a culture of conservatism architecture is in danger of losing its prized status as one of the pre eminent visual arts Transgression opens up new possibilities for practice It highlights the positive impact that working on the architectural periphery can make on the mainstream as transgressive practices have the potential to reinvent and reposition the architectural profession whether they are subverting notions of progress questioning roles and mechanisms of production aligning with political activism pioneering urban interventions advocating informal or incomplete development actively destabilising environments or breaking barriers of taste In this new dispersed and expanded field of operation the balance of architectural endeavour is shifted from object to process from service to speculation and from formal to informal in a way that provides both critical and political impetus to proactively affect change
