Ferenczi's Language of Tenderness Robert W. Rentoul, 2010-01-25 Ferenczi identified the presence of a child in every analysis or therapy and distinguished between the languages of tenderness and passion in their appropriateness for such work Using Ferenczi's insights Robert W. Rentoul draws on and integrates the subsequent work of the British Independents and recent American writers in Ferenczi's Language of Tenderness Working with Disturbances from the Earliest Years He sees the two languages as being reflected in the differing atmospheres of cooperation and confrontation shown in relational and classical psychoanalysis Rentoul argues that the distinction between the two models needs to be made sharper a new paradigm for psychoanalysis has come into being as a result of Ferenczi's work Ferenczi's Language of Tenderness also illustrates the application of Ferenczian insights in practice especially in relation to work with people suffering from damage that occurred in their earliest years Rentoul stresses the reality of emotional trauma for these people and discovers in some of them also a depth of physical need for which a solution is yet to be found Ferenczi's Language of Tenderness seeks a more human respectful and cooperative practice of psychoanalysis and of therapies derived from it The fullest development of the other person requires a deep and demanding emotional commitment and openness from the therapist Hungry for Love ,

Wish-fulfilment in Philosophy and Psychoanalysis Tamas Pataki, 2014-04-24 Wish fulfilment as a singular means of satisfying ineluctable desire is a pivotal concept in classical psychoanalysis Freud argued that it was the thread that united dreams daydreams phantasy omnipotent thinking neurotic and some psychotic symptoms such as hallucinations and delusions art myth and religious illusions The concept's theoretical exploration has been largely neglected within psychoanalysis since but contemporary philosophers have recognised it as providing an explanatory model for much of the kind of irrational behaviour so problematic for psychiatry social psychology and the philosophy of mind Although critically neglected in contemporary psychological and psychoanalytic thought the concept remains clinically fundamental under different labels it encompasses the processes of omnipotent phantasy symbolic or substitutive satisfaction actualisation in transference and acting out symptom formation and defenses such as projective identification Wish fulfilment can be shown to be a specifically psychoanalytic compartment of a common sense psychological theory of action that illuminates not just clinical material but also the paradoxes of irrationality such as weakness of will and self deception that preoccupy philosophers The first half of this book develops a comprehensive and novel theory of wish fulfilment explores its radical implications for the structure of mind and locates it against the backdrop of both contemporary psychoanalytic and philosophical thought In the second half the book applies the theory to illuminate important features of self deception and delusion religion insanity defences creative writing and the exclusion of mind and intention in the biological drift of modern psychiatry The book will be essential to philosophers of mind psychoanalysts psychiatrists psychologists social theorists and

A gem of a book Graham Tomlin Bishop of Kensington Many of our everyday encounters in the world are touched by the divine if we were only aware of it We may find it impossible to miss God in the great interruptions of human existence but God often finds a humbler dwelling place Donna Lazenby was in a packed underground carriage when it was taken siege by a group of musicians ripe to start a ceilidh The eruption into dull passivity of joy seemed a herald of the Kingdom of God And so she began to write a series of reflections some prosaic others more poetic in tone that open up ways of seeing light in darkness love in places of desolation in breaking life when all seems tired and old But the coming of this Kingdom is also revealed in protest in the world's cry against a pervasive sense of alienation while an allegedly secular culture steals and presents the claims of the Gospel as its own And so Divine Sparks calls us to be prophets visionaries able to discern and proclaim God's incoming Kingdom as it arrives by day and night Praise for the author's A Mystical Theology Bloomsbury 2014 Written with elegance and originality Catherine Pickstock Professor of Metaphysics and Poetics University of Cambridge      The Kiss of Love Pasquale De Marco, 2025-03-08 review     Making Worlds Claudia Breger, 2020-04-14 The twenty first century has witnessed a resurgence of economic inequality racial exclusion and political hatred causing questions of collective identity and belonging to assume new urgency In Making Worlds Claudia Breger argues that contemporary European cinema provides ways of thinking about and feeling collectivity that can challenge these political trends Breger offers nuanced readings of major contemporary films such as Michael Haneke's The White Ribbon Alejandro González Iñárritu's Biutiful Fatih Akın's The Edge of Heaven Asghar Farhadi's A Separation and Aki Kaurismäki's refugee trilogy as well as works by Jean-Luc Godard and Rainer Werner Fassbinder Through a new model of cinematic worldmaking Breger examines the ways in which these works produce unexpected and destabilizing affects that invite viewers to imagine new connections among individuals or groups These films and their depictions of refugees immigrants and communities do not simply counter dominant political imaginaries of hate and fear with calls for empathy or solidarity Instead they produce layered sensibilities that offer the potential for greater openness to others present past and future claims Drawing on the work of Latour Deleuze and Rancière Breger engages questions of genre and realism along with the legacies of cinematic modernism Offering a rich account of contemporary film Making Worlds theorizes the cinematic creation of imaginative spaces in order to find new ways of responding to political hatred
