The Magic Fishbone Charles Dickens,2015-08-03 The story contained herein was written by Charles Dickens in 1867 It is the second of four stories entitled Holiday Romance and was published originally in a children's magazine in America. It purports to be written by a child aged seven. It was republished in England in All the Year Round in 1868. For this and four other Christmas pieces Dickens received 1,000. Holiday Romance was published in book form by Messrs Chapman and he was the manliest of his sex and she was the loveliest of hers. The King was in his private profession Under Government. The Queen's father had been a medical man out of town. They had nineteen children and were always having more. Seventeen of these children took care of the baby and Alicia the eldest took care of them all. Their ages varied from seven years to seven months. Let us now resume our story. One day the King was going to the office when he stopped at the fishmonger's to buy a pound and a half of salmon not too near the tail which the Queen who was a careful housekeeper had requested him to send home. Mr Pickles the fishmonger said Certainly sir is there any other article. Good morning. The King went on towards the office in a melancholy mood for quarter day was such a long way off and several of the dear children were growing out of their clothes. He had not proceeded far when Mr Pickles's errand boy came running after him and said Sir you didn't notice the old lady in our shop. What old lady enquired the King. I saw none. Now the King had not seen any old lady because this old lady had been invisible to him though visible to Mr Pickles's boy. Probably because he messed and splashed the water about to that degree and flopped the pairs of soles down in that violent manner that if she had not been visible to him he would have spoilt her clothes.

Portals of Power Lori M. Campbell, 2010-03-08 Fantasy writing like literature in general provides a powerful vehicle for challenging the status quo. Via symbolism imagery and supernaturalism fantasy constructs secondary world narratives that both mirror and critique the political paradigms of our own world. This critical work explores the role of the portal in fantasy investigating the ways in which magical nexus points and movement between worlds are used to illustrate real world power dynamics especially those impacting women and children. Through an examination of high and low fantasy fairy tales children's literature the Gothic and science fiction the portal is identified as a living being place or magical object of profound metaphorical and cultural significance.
