Multicolored Memories Of A Black Southern Girl:

Multicolored Memories of a Black Southern Girl Kitty Oliver, 2001 Multicolored Memories of a Black Southern Girl Kitty Oliver, 2021-12-14 A telling memoir by an exciting new voice Multicolored Memories of a Black Southern Girl explores journalist Kitty Oliver's coming of age as she makes the crossing from an all black to a predominantly white world Born and raised in an all black area of Jacksonville Florida Oliver was one of the first African American freshmen to enter the University of Florida Though she chronicles the strains of her transition from Jim Crow to desegregation this book is much more than a memoir of the turbulent sixties It is an upbeat journal of self discovery in the aftermath of that decade a look at one woman's coming to terms with living an integrated life in America With humor poignancy and lyrical language reminiscent at times of another Florida writer Zora Neale Hurston Oliver shares her passage from the old world to the new an immigrant's journey indicative of the American experience Blending past and present she searches for roots from the Gullah or Geechee culture of South Carolina to the urban streets of northern Florida to the multicultural mix of South Florida's diverse ethnic cultures serving up family stories with large helpings of southern folktalk food and music along the way

Black Passports Stephanie Y. Evans, 2014-05-15 A resource guide that uses African American memoir to address a variety of issues related to mentoring and curriculum development In this resource guide for fostering youth empowerment Stephanie Y Evans offers creative commentary on two hundred autobiographies that contain African American travel memoirs of places around the world The narratives are by such well known figures as Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois Billie Holiday Maya Angelou Malcolm X James Baldwin Muhammad Ali Richard Pryor Angela Davis Condoleezza Rice and President Barack Obama as well as by many lesser known travelers The book addresses a variety of issues related to mentoring and curriculum development It serves as a tool for literary mentoring where students of all ages can gain knowledge and wisdom from texts in the same way achieved by one on one mentoring and it also provides ideas for incorporating these memoirs into lessons on history geography vocabulary and writing Focusing on four main mentoring themes life school work and cultural exchange Evans encourages readers to comb the texts for models of how to manage attitudes behaviors and choices in order to be successful in transnational settings This book provides a new and refreshing way to think about Black youth and issues of empowerment It will be a useful tool for teachers parents scholars and community organizers leaders and activists Valerie Grim Indiana University Bloomington Black Women in the Ivory

Tower, 1850-1954 Stephanie Y. Evans, 2016-12-01 Evans chronicles the stories of African American women who struggled for and won access to formal education beginning in 1850 when Lucy Stanton a student at Oberlin College earned the first college diploma conferred on an African American woman In the century between the Civil War and the civil rights movement a critical increase in black women's educational attainment mirrored unprecedented national growth in American education Evans reveals how black women demanded space as students and asserted their voices as educators despite such barriers as violence discrimination and oppressive campus policies contributing in significant ways to higher education in the United States She argues that their experiences ideas and practices can inspire contemporary educators to create an intellectual democracy in which all people have a voice Among those Evans profiles are Anna Julia Cooper who was born enslaved yet ultimately earned a doctoral degree from the Sorbonne and Mary McLeod Bethune founder of Bethune Cookman College Exposing the hypocrisy in American assertions of democracy and discrediting European notions of intellectual superiority Cooper argued that all human beings had a right to grow Bethune believed that education is the right of all citizens in a democracy Both women s philosophies raised questions of how human and civil rights are intertwined with educational access scholarly research pedagogy and community service This first complete educational and intellectual history of black women carefully traces quantitative research explores black women s collegiate memories and identifies significant geographic patterns in America s institutional development Evans reveals historic perspectives patterns and philosophies in academia that will be an important reference for scholars of gender race and education African American Journalists Calvin L. Hall, 2009-07-01 In the last decade of the 20th century during a time when African Americans were starting to take inventory of the gains of the civil rights movement and its effects on the lives of black professionals in the public sphere the memoirs of several journalists were published a number of which became national bestsellers African American Journalists examines select autobiographies written by African American journalists in order to explore the relationship between race class gender and journalism practice At the heart of this study is the contention that contemporary memoirs written by African American journalists are quasi political documents_ manifestos written in reaction to and against the forces of institutionalized racism in the newsroom The memoirs featured in this study include Jill Nelson s Volunteer Slavery My Authentic Negro Experience Nathan McCall s Makes Me Wanna Holler A Young Black Man in America Jake Lamar s Bourgeois Blues An American Memoir and Patricia Raybon s My First White Friend Confessions on Race Love and Forgiveness The exploration of these works increases our understanding of the problems that members of other underrepresented groups may face in the workplace Black Women and Social Justice Education Stephanie Y.

Evans, Andrea D. Domingue, Tania D.
