Multicultural Experiences Multicultural Theories:

Multicultural Experiences, Multicultural Theories Mary Frances Rogers, George Ritzer, 1996 This reader in multicultural social theory provides selections from a wide range of multicultural theorists that include Feminist Queer Afrocentric Native American Chicana and Asian American perspectives Rogers begins with an Introduction then breaks the 38 readings into seven thematic sections beginning each section with an essay emphasizing the main points of the readings and helping to place those points into a broader theoretical context Through the readings students come to see that intergroup differences are products of the societies and times in which they exist and that often those differences can often reveal not only cultural divergence but cultural similarities as well The book goes beyond the usual class race gender approach found in social theory texts It shows the similarities as well as the dissimilarities between multicultural and other social theorists highlighting the idea that theory though diverse and eclectic involves individuals of all intellectual and cultural bents commonly turning their consciousness to interpretation and understanding The book uses the concept of dignity to integrate the cultural and theoretical concerns addressed in the readings Multiculturalism and

Centering Educational Administration Robert J. Starratt,2003-04-02 In this book Starratt enters the national conversation among educational administration scholars and practitioners about what constitutes the core of their knowledge and practice In Part I he develops three main themes cultivating meaning community and moral responsibility which he then positions against national themes about the core of educational administration school improvement democratic community and social justice Rather than focusing on the routine managerial tasks normally associated with school administration budgeting personnel and legal problems time and resource management etc this text asks aspiring school leaders to reflect first on the underlying philosophical and sociological perspectives that constitute the substance of administrative work in education Centering Educational Administration provides A Unique Perspective on Leadership The author views leadership as organically related to teaching and learning as concerned with internal capacity building in response to state imposed accountability pressures and as an existential process of writing one s autobiography through their day to day work An Interdisciplinary View of Educational Administration Centering Educational Administration asks educational administrators to bring contemporary philosophical ethical and anthropological issues as well as learning theory social theory and political theory into their thinking about the daily operation of the school A Unique Perspective on School Improvement This text asserts that school improvement narrowly defined as improving results on high stakes tests can likewise place the nation at risk An equally important agenda is teaching the young the basic satisfactions norms and potential of using their knowledge in the service of the community and of a wider humanity Exercises in Reflective Practice This book challenges the reader to use the ideas of each chapter to analyze the current practices in their school and to propose concrete changes to improve the teaching and learning environment of their school
