

Productive Engagement Among Older Americans: Prevalence, Patterns, and Implications for Public Policy

James E. Hinterlong, PhD, MSW

Florida State University

ABSTRACT. This study estimates the prevalence of productive engagement among adults aged 60 and over residing in the United States over a nine-year period. We analyze three waves of data from the Americans' Changing Lives Study, which allows the findings to describe the non-institutionalized older American population. Focusing upon five activities—formal paid employment, irregular paid work, unpaid volunteerism, caregiving, and informal assistance to others—we identify changes in the engagement

Productive Ageing is the involvement of older adults in society through employment volunteering caregiving education and skill building In 2020 there will be 248 million people in China aged 60 and over At the same time the birth rate continues to drop and family structures are being transformed In the face of such pressing demographic challenges the productive engagement of older adults is a clear cut strategy to strengthen families and communities while simultaneously promoting the health of older adults From a human capital perspective an ageing population represents resources to address societal needs and the active engagement of older adults can enhance and maintain the physical mental and cognitive health of the older adults The challenge is to develop policies that support productive engagement and implement evidence based programs that create opportunities for older adults in active engagement in the community Contributions of older adults will be necessary for social and economic development of families communities and society Productive Engagement in Later Life covers the 2009 China conference on productive aging and discusses how to initiate and build productive aging agenda in China and around the globe This book was originally published as a special issue of China Journal of Social Work Preparing for the Baby Boomers' Retirement United States. Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging,1997 Part-Time Employment for the Low-Income Elderly Leslie B. Alexander,Lenard W. Kaye,2021-04-14 Based on interviews and case records this study of low income older persons who hold part time jobs fills an important gap in research about the work experiences of this segment of our population Although part time work for the elderly persons studied has both negative and positive consequences the authors conclude that overall the positive aspects far outweighed the negative ones This book makes an important contribution toward furthering our understanding of part time jobs in general and serves as a valuable resource for knowledge about low income elderly workers in particular International Encyclopedia of Civil Society Helmut K. Anheier,Stefan Toepler,2009-11-24 Recently the topic of civil society has generated a wave of interest and a wealth of new information Until now no publication has attempted to organize and consolidate this knowledge The International Encyclopedia of Civil Society fills this gap establishing a common set of understandings and terminology and an analytical starting point for future research Global in scope and authoritative in content the Encyclopedia offers succinct summaries of core concepts and theories definitions of terms biographical entries on important figures and organizational profiles In addition it serves as a reliable and up to date guide to additional sources of information In sum the Encyclopedia provides an overview of the contours of civil society social capital philanthropy and nonprofits across cultures and historical periods For researchers in nonprofit and civil society studies political science economics management and social enterprise this is the most systematic appraisal of a rapidly growing field Successful Aging Through the Life Span May L. Wykle,Peter J. Whitehouse,Diana L. Morris,2004-10-25 This book explores concepts and practices for productive aging What factors contribute to successful aging What is the role of exercise and nutrition What is the role of children and adults in interaction with elders The chapters identify the best practices for successful aging examine trends in intergenerational caregiving and define roles and responsibilities across the life span Topics addressed include how to maximize productive engagement of older adults how multigenerational issues impact successful aging the ways in which a learning environment can promote intergenerational relationships Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology Julia Twigg,Wendy Martin,2015-06-12 Later years are changing under the impact of demographic social and cultural shifts No longer confined to the sphere of social welfare they are now studied within a wider cultural framework that encompasses new experiences and new modes of being Drawing on influences from the arts and humanities and deploying diverse methodologies visual literary spatial and theoretical

The Symbolism of Globalization, Development, and Aging Steven L. Arxer, John W. Murphy, 2012-09-14 This book looks at the symbolic side of globalization development and aging Many of the dimensions that are discussed represent updates of past debates but some are entirely new In particular globalization is accompanied by subtle social imagery that profoundly shapes the way institutions and identities are imagined The process of aging and persons sense of identity is no exception The underlying assumptions that pervade globalization inform how critical dimensions of aging are discussed and institutionalized The application of marketplace imagery for example may impact attempts for holism in how aging is studied and the prospects for human agency during the aging process This book offers a special look into how temporality technology normativity and empiricism structure the symbolic side of globalization and influence dominant images of the aging process Current debates about globalization and aging are expanded by helping readers see the social imagery that is both subtly behind globalization and at the forefront of shaping the aging experience
