Designing Liners Anne Wealleans, 2006-09-27 This in-depth history of the interior design of ocean liners surveys the transient history of interior design in relation to the development of passenger shipping from commissioning by the line owners methods and sources for the original creation of designs through to its construction use and influence It is a short-lived branch of architecture and design lasting an average of fifteen years

As the design and taste mirrors and reinforces cultural assumptions about national identity gender class and race not only did the interiors of ocean going liners reflect the changing hierarchies of society and shifting patterns in globalization but the glamour and styling of the liners were reflected back into the design of interiors on land Combining design history architecture history material and visual cultures Designing Liners is a richly multidisciplinary work for those studying or researching this application of interior design Marine News ,1995 The Age of Cunard Daniel Allen Butler,2004 For a century and a half the single most important sea lane in the world was the transatlantic route linking the Old World with the New For three hundred years sailing ships sufficed to carry cargoes and people but the demands of Steam Age business and commerce demanded more regularity Just as the steam engine had allowed railroads to replace the unpredictability of stagecoaches on land with dependable schedules steamships promised to bring this reliability to crossing the Atlantic This is where the story of the Cunard Line began The greatest influence Cunard would ever have on world events would be the leading role during the last half of the 19th century when the great migration of millions of emigrants transformed the populations of Europe the United States and Canada Wars devastation came to the Cunard Line with WW1 and WW2 as the power of the German submarine fleet built with one purpose in mind to sever the North Atlantic shipping lanes threatened Great Britains very existence By 1963 more people chose to travel by airplane than by steamship and it was the beginning of the end Sir Winston Churchill observed You came into great things by the accident of sea power By an accident of air power you will probably cease to exist National Magazine ... ,1912 Mariners Weather Log ,1997 Mariners Weather Log contains articles news and information about marine weather events and phenomenon storms at sea weather forecasting the NWS Voluntary Observing Ship VOS Program Port Meteorological Officers PMOs cooperating ships officers and their vessels It provides meteorological information to the maritime community and contains a comprehensive chronicle on marine weather It recognizes ships officers for their efforts as voluntary weather observers and allows NWS to maintain contact with and communicate with over 10 000 shipboard observers ships officers in the merchant marine NOAA Corps Coast Guard Navy etc The Titanic's Sister Amelia Khatri,Al,2025-02-17 The Titanic's Sister unveils the compelling yet lesser known story of HMHS Britannic the largest of the White Star Line's Olympic class liners and sister ship to the Titanic This exploration into maritime history recounts the Britannic's brief service as a World War I hospital ship and its tragic sinking in the Aegean Sea Modifications implemented after the Titanic disaster like the double hull represent significant advancements in ship design and maritime safety The book meticulously examines the events leading to the Britannic's sinking scrutinizing whether a torpedo attack or a mine strike caused the disaster It contextualizes the ship's wartime role highlighting the urgent need for hospital ships amidst escalating tensions in Europe Beginning with an introduction to the Olympic class liners the narrative progresses through the Britannic's construction wartime service and the events of its sinking on November 21 1916 The story of notable figures like survivor Violet Jessop and Jacques Cousteau's discovery of the wreck add
