Blood Matters Bonnie Lander Johnson, Eleanor Decamp, 2018-03-26 In late medieval and early modern Europe definitions of blood in medical writing were slippery and changeable blood was at once the red fluid in human veins a humor a substance governing crucial Galenic models of bodily change a waste product a cause of corruption a source of life a medical cure a serum appearing under the guise of all other bodily secretions and after William Harvey's discovery of its circulation the cause of one of the greatest medical controversies of the premodern period Figurative uses of blood are even more difficult to pin down The term appeared in almost every sphere of life and thought running through political theological and familial discourses Blood Matters explores blood as a distinct category of inquiry and draws together scholars who might not otherwise be in conversation Theatrical and medical practice are found to converge in their approaches to the regulation of blood as a source of identity and truth medieval civic life intersects with seventeenth century science and philosophy the concepts of class race gender and sexuality find in the language of blood as many mechanisms for differentiation as for homogeneity and fields as disparate as pedagogical theory alchemy phlebotomy wet nursing and wine production emerge as historically and intellectually analogous The volume s essays are organized within categories derived from medieval and early modern understanding of blood behaviors Circulation Wounds Corruption Proof and Signs and Substances thereby providing the terms through which interdisciplinary and cross period conversations can take place Contributors Helen Barr Katharine Craik Lesel Dawson Eleanor Decamp Frances E Dolan Elisabeth Dutton Margaret Healy Dolly J rgensen Helen King Bonnie Lander Johnson Hester Lees Jeffries Joe Moshenska Tara Nummedal Patricia Parker Ben Parsons Heather Webb Gabriella Zuccolin
